

great bereavement. Please to accept this humble floral tribute of a lyre and star, as a faint token of our affection for you and your dear lamented husband. From week to week, while strength lasted, as superintendent and teacher, his presence was ever an inspiration to us, and his words of counsel and instruction were always cheering and helpful. We cannot tell how much we shall miss him; but how much more will you, when you see the vacant chair. But he has gone "to be with Christ, which is far better," and we could not wish to detain him longer here, when he was so "ready for Jesus."

That He who has taken our fellow-worker, friend and teacher, and your loved companion, will fulfil to you the promise he quoted among his dying words, "My God will supply all your need, according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus," is the sincere prayer of BRANTFORD, September 13th, 1891.

MRS. T. M. HARRIS, Brantford.

DEAR SISTER :

The members of the B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist Church wish to offer you their heartfelt sympathy in the sore affliction which you have been called upon to bear, in the loss of your beloved husband, our esteemed friend and brother, Mr. T. M. Harris, although in doing so we feel the utter inadequacy of words to express our feelings.

To our brother's life and walk amongst us it is needless to refer. Suffice to say that in him we had ever before us an example of a true Christian character. For any one to come in contact with him was to be influenced for good, and no one could
