

CANADIAN PACIFIC HOTELS.

While the perfect sleeping and dining car service of the Canadian Pacific Railway provides every comfort and luxury for travellers making the continuous overland through trip, it has been found necessary to provide places at the principal points of interest among the mountains where tourists and others might explore and enjoy the magnificent scenery.

The Company have erected at convenient points hotels, which, by their special excellence, add another to the many elements of superiority for which the Railway is famous.

Proceeding westward, the first point selected is Banff, about twenty miles within the Rocky Mountains, where the natural attractions led the Government to set aside an extensive tract as a National Park.

THE BANFF HOT SPRINGS HOTEL

is placed on a high mountain promontory 4500 feet above the sea level, at the confluence of the Bow and Spray Rivers, and is a large and handsome structure, with every convenience that modern ingenuity can suggest, and costing over a quarter of a million dollars. While it is not intended to be a sanitarium, in the usual sense, the needs and comforts of invalids are fully provided for. The hot Sulphur Springs, with which the region abounds, vary in temperature from 87 to 121 degrees, and bathing facilities are provided by the hotel. The springs are much like those of Arkansas, and the apparently greater curative properties of the water are no doubt due to the cool, dry air of the mountains.

A number of sub-ranges of the Rocky Mountains radiate from Banff, and a dozen mountain monarchs within view raise their heads a mile or more above the hotel.

Game is plentiful, and Devil's Head Lake, not far away, a mile or two in width and fifteen miles long, affords excellent sport in deep trolling for trout.

The hotel rates are from three to four dollars and fifty cents per day and upwards, according to the rooms. Special rates by the week or month will be given on application to

THE LAKE LOUISE CHALET.

This quiet resting place in the mountains is situated on the margin of Lake Louise, about two miles distant from the station at Laggan, from which there is a good carriage drive, and is an excellent vantage point for tourists and explorers desiring to see the lakes and the adjacent scenery at their leisure.

Although comfortable beds and good plain meals are at the command of travellers, it is not exactly like the other chalet hotels, being rather intended as a resting place affording meals, etc., to the tourist parties visiting the Lakes in the Clouds.

THE MOUNT STEPHEN HOUSE

is a pretty chalet-like hotel, fifty miles west of Banff, in Kicking Horse Cañon, at the base of Mount Stephen — the chief peak of the Rockies, towering 8000 feet above. This is a favorite place for tourists, mountain climbers and artists, and sport is plentiful. Looking down the valley from the hotel, the Orontail Mountains are seen on the left, and the Van Horne range on the right.

The rates are three dollars per day for accommodation. Apply to
