mercury seldom rises higher than eighty-two degrees in summer. The rain fall at Sitka is copious, the annual precipitation being sixty-five to ninety inches. The language spoken by the Indians at Sitka is the Thlinket, although to a great extent they use the jargon common to all Indians of the Pacific coast from Oregon to Mt. St. Elias.

There is a paucity of domestic animals in Alaska as yet, five mules, two horses, and not to exceed a dozen cows constitute the entire outfit in that line, in the southeastern portion of the territory. At Sitka there are a few chickens that sell for $1,00 each; eggs bring 75 cents per dozen and milk 80 cents a gallon. There is good grazing on islands in the Sitka Harbor and a remunerative industry might be worked up raising vegetables, milk and poultry for the Sitka and Juneau markets.
