

For all the wonders of his love and grace,
That he has shown you in so short a space.

As I was going to reply to him, my bright conductor disappeared, and I was left alone. And having for some time considered of the amazing Visions I had seen, and of the wondrous things that I had heard, I scarce believed I was again on earth, nor did I know what time it was I had been absent. And then resolving to return to my own habitation, I first knelt, and prayed that I might never lose a lively sense of a those wondrous things that had been shown me; and then rose up again, blessing and praising God for all his goodness, and much admiring at his wondrous grace and condescension. Being returned unto my house, my family were much surprised to see my countenance so strangely changed, and looked upon me as if they scarce had known me. I asked them what the meaning was, of their unusual admiration? They answered, It was the alteration in my visage that had caused it. In what respect, said I, is it that I am altered so? They told me, Yesterday my looks were so extremely clouded and cast down, I seemed the very image of despair: but now my face appeared abundantly more beautiful, and carried all the marks of perfect joy and satisfaction in it. If you had seen, said I, what I have seen to-day, you would not wonder at the change you see. Then going into my closet, I took my pen and ink, and there wrote down what I had heard and seen, declaring the whole Visions from the first to the last: all which I hope may have the same effect on those that read them, as they had on me in writing them.

Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be glory for ever. Amen. To whose blessing I recommend it.
