

lives, does it behove us to praise the most High. By lives conformable to His holy commandments, to the precepts, and the spirit, of the Gospel of His Son, by the sincere renunciation of every sinful habit, by firm resolutions of future integrity, and undissembled piety, it becomes us to glorify GOD. How much are they mistaken who would make religion a matter of speculation merely! He who acts justly, because he fears GOD, who considers the case of the poor for CHRIST's sake, who respects, in man, the image of his Maker, and trembles at the thought of oppressing, or trampling upon, the likeness of GOD, who administers to the wants, and consoles the sorrows, of his needy, or afflicted brethren, "doing good, and communicating," because he knows that, with such sacrifices, GOD is well pleased, is a man under the influence of genuine religion: the religion of the new Testament, and of CHRIST. But is