ENGLISH-SPEAKING CATHOLICS

Are Making a Move in Montreal to Get Schools of Their Own—Movements of Archbishop Bruchesi.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Rev. Father Quinlivan and other representative Irish Catholic citizens of Montreal, not being satisfied with the education received by English-speaking Catholic children here, are moving in the matter of an English Catholic High School. This element claims that between the French schools, where English is very imperfectly taught, and the Protestant establishments, which have no room for them, the Irish boys and girls of Montreal do not get a fair chance, as far as a common school education is concerned. To remedy this, a gentleman gave the ground some years ago, where an English-speaking Catholic High School was to have been erected, but, owing to the hostility, or, perhaps, it would be better to say the apathy, of the Catholic School Board, the majority of which is French, the project was not carried out. Now, however, further help is promised, and the English-speaking Catholics hope to have in the near future a well-equipped High School of their own.

Archbishop Bruchesi's Program.

The following are the details of Mgr. Bruchesi's movements. From the South of Spain, His Grace will return to Paris on Dec. 15, and will then accompany the Pilgrimage of the Fathers of L'Assomption to Jerusalem and the Holy Land. He will sail from France on the steamer La'Nelli du Salit, which has been specially chartered for the trip. On Christmas Day His Grace will officiate pontifically in the Temple of the Child Jesus at Bethlehem. He will return to Rome about Jan. 5, and will come home about March.

The Late Dr. Chewett.

The funeral of the late Dr. William Cameron Chewett took place from his late residence, Poplar Plains, to St. James' Cemetery, yesterday afternoon. Mr. J. H. Chewitt being the chief mourner. The funeral was largely attended by some of Toronto's oldest and most respected citizens. Deceased had resided here for nearly 70 years. He was the son of the late James Grand Chewett, who was connected with the Surveyor-General's Department, and was for many years Deputy Surveyor-General of Upper Canada. He died Dec. 7, 1862. James Grant Chewett, who built the old British Coffee House, which stood on the site of the present Rossin House, was an alderman in 1835, and for many years vice-president of the Bank of Upper Canada, and afterwards president of the Bank of Toronto. He was a son of Col. William Chewett, who came to York in 1794, and first lived in a log house on the northeast corner of York and Wellington-streets. He was commandant of the 3rd West York Militia, was present when York was captured by the Americans in 1813, and was seriously injured when the powder magazine exploded. He died Sept. 24, 1849, aged 90 years.

Closing of the Canals.

Information was received by mariners and vesselmen in the city yesterday from Ottawa, that the Welland Canal would close on the 14th inst. It, however, the weather becomes severe, it will be closed earlier. This means that several of the large grain carriers will need to get a move on to get through in time.

At noon yesterday the canals of New York State closed for the season. The business for the season was less than previous years, with the exception of the season of 1895.

His Excellency Will be There.

A guard of honor from the Royal Grenadiers, consisting of Captain Boyd, Lieut. Mason and Second Lieut. Merritt, six sergeants and 100 rank and file, with the Queen's colors, will parade at the Armouries in review order (with great coats and leggings), at 8 o'clock to-night, and march to the Pavilion, Horticultural Gardens, to receive His Excellency the Governor-General, who will attend the Royal Grenadiers' assembly.

Eighteen Months for Gus Clark.

Gus Clark, who has gained notoriety by several collisions with the police in the last few years, was yesterday sent to jail for 18 months for stealing clothes from his brother, at the C.P.R. Hotel, Yonge-street.

S. Ackerman, Commercial Traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for Inflammatory Rheumatism, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others as it did so much for me." ed

TURKEYS FOR CHRISTMAS,

Over 1000 Birds Slaughtered and Packed for the British Market.

Colborne, Dec. 2.—On Tuesday last between ten and eleven hundred turkeys were delivered to Messrs. McGuire Bros. The birds were at once slaughtered and hung up until cool and then packed in cases. The birds had been starved for 24 hours before they were brought in and were packed with all feathers on and without being dressed. They are to be shipped in cold storage to the English markets.

A rather unusual sight, in this vicinity, was a flock of 500 turkeys, which were purchased by Mr. W. D. Insley through the surrounding district and were delivered at Brighton. The birds were turned loose in an enclosed shed as soon as delivered and when all had arrived they were driven in a flock along the road to Mr. Insley's premises in East Colborne.

MATTERS AT THE CAPITAL.

New Customs Regulations—Mr. Sifton on Alaskan Affairs—Inland Revenue Statement.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The Minister of Customs has made regulations simplifying the method by which postal packages on which there is duty to be paid shall reach their destination. Under the existing rules they must go to one of the 18 central offices in Canada, from which the manifest is issued. By the new rule the packages in crossing the international boundary will come direct to the customs office nearest the point of destination. Another circular will be issued from the Customs Department to insure the reporting of shipments made to foreign countries. The export figures have never been complete, and it is with a view of making them as accurate as possible that an order is to be issued which will require exporters to ide with the railway companies by which they ship a list of goods shipped.

Mr. Sifton on Klondike Affairs.

Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, returned to the capital, after his trip to the Klondike, last evening. He is apparently in a perfect condition of health. Speaking on the Alaska boundary question, Mr. Sifton said: "There are certain phases of the question which have to be looked into carefully, and Mr. King, our chief astronomer, went out with me for that purpose. As to whether there will be a commission on the question, appointed by the United States and ourselves, I do not know. The subject is a very grave one."

He will cause the Mounted Police Force in the Yukon district to be increased, the present contingent stationed there not being sufficient to properly patrol the immense area covered by miners and prospectors.

Inland Revenue Statement.

Sir Henry Joly, Minister of Inland Revenue, has prepared a very interesting statement concerning the revenue of his department. The statement shows that the revenue accruing between July 1 and Nov. 1 last was $721,000 less than the revenue which accrued between the same dates last year. This, he claims, is due to the fact that the distillers and tobacco manufacturers imported immensely in anticipation of a change in the tariff. This is evidenced by the fact that the revenue for March, April, May and June was $5,807,247, as against $2,615,774 for the corresponding four months of 1896—or this year shows an increase in those four months of $1,191,473. Sir Henry maintains that it took months for these men to dispose of all this imported matter, but that the revenue has now come back to its normal condition, quoting in proof of this the fact that last month's (November) revenue was $16,000 in excess of that of November, 1896. This increase, he expects, will not only be maintained, but exceeded.

PREACHER AND HIS PAY.

Rev. Samuel Daw o. Belleville Appeals From the Chancellor's Judgment —Are Churchwardens Liable?

Rev. Samuel Daw is appealing to the Court of Appeal from the judgment of the Chancellor dismissing his action against Dr. D. H. Ackerill and Robert Bateman for arrears of stipend. The plaintiff was the incumbent of Christ's Church, Belleville, and the defendants, the church wardens. The Chancellor decided that the church wardens were not personally liable to the minister except to the amount of the funds in their hands. The seats of this church are free. All were invited, but, if the voluntary contributions were insufficient the learned Chancellor said "pressure of law cannot produce the money unless the voluntary sources respond." He also held that the plaintiff had abandoned $663 of his claim at Easter, 1894, as a free-will offering, to induce the people to be more liberal in future, but that there was still owing $250 to the plaintiff, though no fund out of which it was to come. He did not pass upon the future punishment of the people who did not pay their parson, but it was conceded by counsel on the appeal that a horrible fate awaited them. The case will be concluded to-day.

Very Fast Railroading.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 2.—A special train of four private cars was run at an unprecedented rate of speed between Pittsburg and Chicago over the Pennsylvania Road for the purpose of ascertaining the possibility of reducing the time of the limited express to 20 hours between New York and Chicago.

The train left Pittsburg at 6.58 a.m., and arrived in Chicago at 5 o'clock p.m., making the 468 miles in 602 minutes. The same train left Chicago at 9 a.m., reaching Pittsburg at 6.25 p.m., in 565 minutes, making the eastward run 37 minutes sooner than the westward run, which breaks all previous records.

Lecture on Life of St. Paul.

Last evening a free lecture was given in St. Philip's Sunday School, in connection with their Christian Endeavor Temperance Branch, by Rev. H. C. Dixon, on the life of St. Paul. All the principal events in the life of this great missionary were illustrated by handsome lantern slides recently brought to the city.

Cucumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. These persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellog's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief, and is a sure cure for all summer complaints. ed

THE LADY MEDS.

Hearty Reception of the Countess of Aberdeen—The Victorian Order of Nurses Project.

Yesterday afternoon there was quite a flutter about the usually quiet and studious halls of the Ontario Medical College for Women, owing to the anticipated visit of Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen. The members of the faculty, men and women, were all assembled, wearing their academic robes and hoods, while the young ladies of the various years were drawn up on each side of the broad stairway to receive the Countess, who entered at the appointed time, accompanied by her aide, Captain Wyatt, The Countess, who wore a long purple velvet cloak, jet trimmed, with small violet bonnet, and carried a handsome Russian sable muff, was received by the dean of the college, Dr. Nevitt, who welcomed her on behalf of the faculty.

The Dean's Welcome.

In a very cordial address, the dean referred to the Countess' well-known liberal views on the subject of the higher education of women, her sympathy with the enlarged sphere of women's work, and hoped that Her Excellency would permit this Medical College for Women to have the honor of her name as a patroness. He outlined the work which the college has done in sending out duly trained and certificated women physicians all over the Dominion, and to far off India, and paid a tribute to one of the Countess' predecessors, Lady Dufferin, who had done so much in the cause of suffering women.

Miss Cruikshank, on behalf of the students, read an address of welcome, and offered a lovely bouquet of red and white roses as a little token of the regard in which the Countess was held among the women of the college.

Her Excellency's Reply.

The Countess replied in her usual graceful and charming way, telling the girls how much she was interested in medicine and nursing, and consenting with pleasure to have her name enrolled as a patroness of the college. She said that Dr. Alfred Worcester was with her party, and that she hoped the dean would invite him to address the young women of the college upon a theme which lay very near to her heart, viz., the project of which we are hearing so much, the Victorian Order of District Nurses.

District Nurses Project.

Dr. Worcester was warmly received and began by saying that it was such a relief to address the ladies, after the battle of the doctors the night before. He deprecated the idea that he had taken any of the previous night's opposition in bad part; it was all fair enough, but what did vex him was that Canadian doctors seemed so disinclined to take a good thing when they had the opportunity. He outlined the history of nursing, gave a very definite idea of the advantages of district nursing, showed that so far from lowering the standard of nursing, it would elevate it, as only nurses trained and certificated from recognized and approved training schools would be admitted to the order; showed how sickness would be alleviated in homes where nurses were now unheard-of luxuries, and how doctors would be helped in their work by district nurses in the poorer quarters of both town and country. He certainly made out a splendid case and the approval of the audience was shown in unmistakable manner.

Happy Climax.

The very pleasant afternoon closed, after the members of the faculty and the students had been presented to Her Excellency. As the Countess descended the staircase, between the lines of singing girls, she waved her roses in smiling adieu, and the last thing she heard, as she went to her carriage, was a girl "med's" voice enquiring, "What's the matter with Her Excellency?" and a perfect chorus of voices responding, "She's all right"; which, in student language, means much.

Some of those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Nevitt, Dr. and Mrs. Cleland, Dr. Powell, Dr. Lella Davis, Dr. Augusta Stowe-Gullen, Prof. Shuttleworth, Dr. Jennie Gray, Dr. Duncan, Dr. and Mrs. Sweetnam, Dr. Tyrell, Dr. and Mrs. Bryans, Dr. and Mrs. Wishart.

THEIR UNWISE COURSE.

Buffalo Courier-Record Points Out That Canada is Likely to Retaliate in the Matter of Lumber Duty.

Buffalo, Dec. 2.—The Courier-Record this morning says editorially: "During the long debate on the Dingley Bill, this paper repeatedly called attention to the unwise course of the Republicans in levying a high tariff on Canadian lumber. The result of that foolish policy will be some measure of retaliation by Canada, which controls a great timber supply that American capitalists wish to develop, and which American builders must have in the near future, since the lumber regions of the United States are about exhausted. In his speech to the Ontario Legislature, Sir Oliver Mowat, the new Lieutenant-Governor of the province, clearly foreshadowed the adoption of a retaliatory policy by the Ontario Government. He expressed his regret that the United States had made it almost impossible to continue sending certain qualities of pine lumber to this country and added that a bill would be introduced in relation to the cutting of lumber and to timber licenses. He revealed no details, but it need not surprise anyone if the Canadian Government adopt a measure so stringent that it will prevent the cutting of Canadian timber by Americans to be rafted across the lakes and sawed here."

LIKE CORNMEAL AMONG DIRT.

Henry Jones Tells About the Way Gold Dust Appears at the Klondike.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 2.—Building lots in the best part of Dawson City are held at $10,000. If Major Walsh moves the headquarters of the police from Dawson the expectation is there will be a depreciation in property.

Henry Jones, formerly a Souris man, writing from Dawson on Aug. 22, says: "I think that it is a shame and disgrace to the Canadian Government of the past the way they have neglected this country and also the poor progress they are making now. Just fancy six months without any Canadian mail and the Americans have had three in that time. Times are good here and will be good this winter."

Jones says the gold on the banks of Bonanza Creek is "just like cornmeal sprinkled among dirt." He says the food prospects look rather dark.

The Theosophical Society invite the public to attend a lecture on the works of this writer, at their rooms, at the north west corner of Spadina-avenue and College street this evening.

A fair crowd visited the Food Show again yesterday at both performances, and Miss Haxworth's lectures were well attended in the afternoon. She lectured on "A Dainty Luncheon," and in the evening on "Camp Cooking." The wrapping contest in the evening afforded much amusement. Vocal selections were furnished by Walter Peabody, John Kurkamp and the newsboys' chorus. The lectures given to-day by Miss Haxworth will be, afternoon, on "How to Cook Fish," and, in the evening, "What Shall I Do With That Leg of Cold Mutton?"

Miss Hattie Mordue Killed.

St. George, Ont., Dec. 2.—While the mixed train was coming to Harrisburg last night from Brantford, it ran down and instantly killed Miss Hattie Mordue. She was walking up the track to Bethel Church, on the Governor's road, and evidently did not hear the approaching train. Both limbs were cut off and her skull was terribly crushed. Miss Mordue was about 20 years of age and is a daughter of Joseph Mordue.

Husband and Wife Charged With Theft.

There was an exceptionally sad case in the Police Court yesterday morning when Elizabeth O'Connor, a thinly-clad woman, who lives on Camden-street, was arraigned on a charge of stealing a pair of boots. She carried a sickly babe in her arms and seemed to feel her position keenly. The woman stole the boots from the front of W. J. Guinane's store, 310 Queen-street west, and was seen by a clerk who followed her. She was with her husband, who, it is alleged, also stole a couple of fowls from Doyle's grocery, 504 Queen-street west. Mrs. O'Connce was arrested and locked up in No. 3 Police Station. The prisoner was sent to jail for 30 days, and her husband John O'Connor, who was in the court watching the case, was arrested on a charge of stealing the fowls and was arraigned. He was remanded for a day and sent down to the cells. Two small children, who were with him in court, were handed over to the Children's Aid Society.
