STRICTER REGULATION FOR JUVENILE WORKERS

T. H. Preston Renews His Plea For the Young—Premier Whitney Replies.

"I hope to bring down the public accounts on Monday," announced Hon. Mr. Matheson in the legislature yesterday.

The second reading of the bill to amend the Shops Act brought T. H. Preston (South Brant) to his feet to speak on behalf of the child workers.

He hoped the government would take as broad-minded a view as was taken in committee last year, so as to bring the child labor law to the same level as in other states and provinces.

The government bill permitted 10 hours and 50 minutes a week. A regulation of children employed was required for the government, but this was not enforced, which made stricter legislation all the more necessary. He also objected to children working in bars.

Allan Stubbins was disappointed that the government did not go far enough in their bill, and thought them sympathetic in dealing with the matter.

Hon. Mr. Monteth did not think the bill would interfere with school attendance, and was intended to enable children to earn something after school hours. In raising the age limit from 12 to 14 for canning factories he had in view the necessity of not making too sudden a change, and that later they might raise the limit to 16. A youth is defined as between the ages of 14 and 16. Children of 12 years may be employed in outdoor work for canning factories.

Hon. Mr. MacKay considered that if the government's intention was eventually to raise the age limit it should be inserted in the present bill to come into force two years hence.

Hon. Mr. Monteth said he had in mind the raising of the limit later. Premier Whitney said every question would have to be considered in relation to the circumstances. He denied that there was or was likely to be any congestion in Ontario cities as required legislation like that needed in Europe. He objected entirely to extra chamber regulations, and if dangerous occupations

INCREASED GATE RECEIPTS CHEER HORSE BREEDERS

Large Crowds at the Closing Day With Fine Displays of Ponies and Light Horses.

The closing day of the Horse Breeders' Show was one of sustained interest throughout. The Hackney standard-bred and the pony were the aristocrats of Friday's exhibition. The quality of the animals and the manner in which they were exhibited are creditable alike to Canada and her breeders. Nearly 1000 people could be seen around the arena in the afternoon. The Hackney standard-bred was met with no over Canada were to be met with. Not as large a western delegation attended as in previous years, and the fair held upon the first chosen date, but these gentlemen could not wait over.

However, the treasurer is all smiles over the gate receipts. Over $800 was taken in during the three afternoon sessions, and the evening, an indeed creditable showing.

That Toronto has missed considerable by not catering to the wants of Ontario live stock breeders in the way of putting up a first-class arena at a low cost to the show, is not becoming apparent. The incoming trains were crowded with visitors and the show was a great success.

The display of Hackneys on the line during the afternoon was a feature of the show. Speaking of the horse show, Charles Caldwell, a well-known Toronto stock and feed merchant, who has been in the show business for many years, says that the show of geldings and mares in harness yesterday afternoon was a distinctive credit to Canadian stock.
