U.S. TAKES HAND IN NICARAGUA

Demands Explanation for Execution of Two Americans—Recognizes Insurgents.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The United States government is tired of the high handed actions of the small Central American republics. A despatch sent late today to the Blue fields Steamship Co., which sought the protection of the state department against the interference by the insurgents now operating against President Zelaya.

The state department promptly replied. The answer was a result of a conference between the president and the secretary of state and carried full weight. It gave the steamship company no encouragement, and recognized the revolutionary forces operating against the Zelaya administration, a proceeding for which there is probably no parallel in the records of the United States government.

An hour later a peremptory note, couched in diplomatic language, but none the less direct, was delivered to Senor Felipe Rodriguez, charge d'affaires of the Nicaraguan Legation, demanding a full and complete explanation of the execution of two Americans, Leonard Grace and Leroy Cannon, who were executed by order of Zelaya when they were found in the insurgent army. Pending a satisfactory explanation of the occurrence, President Taft has refused to recognize Zelaya as the new Nicaraguan minister.

Two war vessels have been hurried into Nicaraguan waters. Had Placed Dynamite Mines to Blow Troop Ships.

No Babe, No Ballot, Not a Popular Cry A. G. MACKAY FOR B. C. POLITICS

Latest Gossip is That Leader of Ontario Opposition Will Throw Up Job After the Coming Session.

Notwithstanding the frequent denials that have been given to persistent rumors current with regard to a change in the leadership of the Liberal party in the legislature, the story seems to contain more truth than fiction.

The land of loquax, the Liberal leader, Hon. A. G. Mackay, is himself anxious for a change. It is said that he will only appear for one more session in the legislature and afterwards will betake himself westward—in all probability to British Columbia, forsaking Grey County, where he was born, leaving Owen Sound behind, where his hardest political battles have been fought, which has been described by the poet as:

"Where the ground is hard and bare."
It is said, too, that Mr. Mackay's contemplated change is not altogether due to a desire to practise law in the Pacific province. He still has political ambitions. These he expects to materialize in the service of the Liberal party in the British Columbia Legislature.

John Oliver, present leader, is not expected to emerge from the impending catastrophe on November 25, when the Conservative administration under Premier McBride expect to receive the imprimatur of public approval.

It is interesting to note that Richard McBride himself may not remain chieftain in British Columbia long. Party leadership seems to be in the melting pot in the east and west, and the suggestion has been made that McBride may relinquish the high position he holds in British Columbia to enter the federal political field.

As these visions arise from the political melting pot, who knows but that A. G. Mackay will be the victor in the relief afforded by his removal from a lonely, disheartening and uphill fight. As far as a leader is concerned, Mr. Mackay is well regarded, a friend, speaking to the World last night vouched the information: "He is an indefatigable worker and a man of deep penetration and wide ability."

IGNORE THE U. S. IN MAKING OF TREATIES

No Reason Why Canada Should Hold Up French Treaty for the Fear of Reprisals.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—"We ought to be prepared to take our own part and fight it out," said W. F. Maclean (South York), in the common parlance, in discussing the proposed French trade treaty and its relation to the United States tariff. The debate was unexpected, and the text of it was whether or not the United States would apply the maximum tariff to imports from Canada if the Dominion ratified the treaty with France, on the ground of discrimination.

The premier urged that if there is discrimination in the new treaty there must be discrimination in the existing treaty. The opposition sought for a delay until the United States had given expression to their views, while the government insisted that Canada should cleave her own course.

You can't find out what the attitude of the United States will be unless you pass this treaty," argued Mr. Maclean. "The United States would deal with hypothetical cases. In order to preserve our freedom of action, we have to form our own policy. We ought to be able to take our own part and fight it out. We should not have our freedom of action hampered by some action on the part of the United States."

They must fix the Canadian policy from the point of view of the Canadian interest. He refused to believe that if Canada was to incur the consequences of the French treaty, but it would be an account of the action of the provinces in putting export duties on raw materials, which would be manufactured at home. It was our own action in connection with sawlogs which might bring this threatened action upon the Dominion.

MONTREAL, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The Hon. W. P. Pigeon, minister of marine and fisheries in the Newfoundland ministry, was in the city today accompanied by Inspector J. M. He says that fifty thousand quintals of cod are caught there in winter, and they can be landed in Montreal and other points not only at a profit, but retaining the flavor of the fish. If the officials can interest the Dominion Government in negotiations with the Newfoundland Government, it is a matter of course.

Mr. Pigeon left here for Hamilton this evening.
