"Let Me Tell You How to Break Up That Cold"

"Going home from the office one night after Christmas, I sat too close to a door on a crowded local train. I was reading my paper and didn't feel a bit cold—not even chilly. But when I got off at my station I began to sneeze. By the time I reached home my eyes were red, my head was stopped up, and I felt achy all over. It looked as if I were in for a peach of a cold. And there had been so many influenza and pneumonia cases that I was worried.

"Well, after dinner my wife called her sister—a nurse—on the phone. She told her about me and she replied:

"The time to get after a cold is just before it gets thoroughly started. And I'll tell you the safest, surest, easiest way to break up any cold that is just starting or prevent it from getting started at all. Get a box of Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets and follow the directions absolutely. George will feel like a new man in the morning!

"We took her advice, and, say—next morning there wasn't a vestige of that cold left! We're never without a box of these little wonder workers in the house, any more. They're chocolate coated, pleasant to take, and contain no calomel—merely a mild vegetable laxative. If they don't help you when taken according to directions, you get your money back. And the way they knock a cold is nothing short of a miracle! They're only a quarter a a box and every good drug store sells them. But be sure to get Weeks'."

AYRSHIRE CATTLE SENT TO BELGIUM

Will Be Completely Separated from British Herds Imported by Commission.

Some time ago the Ayrshire Cattle Herd Book Society decided to organize gifts of Ayrshire cattle for the purpose f restocking the devastated regions in Belgium, and for that purpose they beame affiliated with the Scottish Agricultural Committee for the Relief of Allies. Through that committee a special listrict in Belgium, close to the Yser front, and situated between the towns of Nieuport, Furnes and Dixmude, was allocated to them. It is said to be suitable for the grazing of cattle and suitable for the grazing of cattle and the farmers there have already had experience in dairying and stock breeding. The Ayrshire breed will be completely separated from other British breeds imported by the commission, and the chance of crossing will thus be eliminated as far as possible. The committee of the Ayrshire Cattle Herd Book Society made an appeal to their members wherever resident, and they joined up in Ayrshire with a general committee of farmers appointed for a similar purpose. At a meeting held in Ayr it was reported that thirty-four Ayrshire cattle and several pigs and sheep had been promised, and that a sum of £900 had already been paid or promised to the fund. Further subscriptions are to be obtained. In addition a sum of £1,000 had formerly been subscribed by farm-

Montgomerie, Lessnessock, Ochiltree; Robert Dickie, Knockeniig Dumfriesshire, and William Donenjig Dumfriesshire, and William Don "Jubilee Gilt," owned by James Douglas, Caledonia, Ont., won first prize in the junior yearling Shorthorn female class. A case had been called on Hill against Hill, a wife's suit for judicial separation. The respondent presented himself to conduct his own case. As counsel proceeded in the opening of petitioner's case the respondent's face lengthened until at last he exclaimed, "I never heard such a story. This isn't my case at all."

It then appeared that there was another case of Hill vs. Hill for judicial separation, which had not yet come into the list, and the counsel and his client in that case happened to be in the build-
