WED UNDER RED TERROR

British Officer Gets Russian Bride as He Leaves Country

Copenhagen, Nov. 30.—(Associated Press)—Romance was intermingled with tragedy in the trying days when the foreign colonies were attempting to get permission to leave Russia. Arrests, searches and threats of execution were relieved by marriages between men of the Entente Powers and Russian women. The Bolshevik government would not grant Russian citizens permits to go abroad. Consequently foreign men who hoped to leave Russia soon could not do so. They were, however, in an intimate period, possibly never, if they left them in starving, disrupted Russia, where food was denied to persons not regarded as "class-conscious workmen" and all persons not in sympathy with Bolshevikism are dispossessed. Many officials of the French and British colonies married in the last trying days of their stay in Moscow and Petrograd, but the wedding of Captain W. L. Hicks, military aid to Bruce Lockhart, British diplomatic representative in Moscow, was accomplished in the face of greater obstacles, perhaps, than those of other Entente citizens who managed to marry between jail sentences and searches. Captain Hicks was one of the French and English officials who were held as prisoners in the American consulate-general at Moscow. He was engaged to marry Mme. Melina, but dared not leave the American premises to do so. Most of his official associates were in prisons charged with counter-revolutionary activity and in danger of execution. Russian priests refused to perform the ceremony in the American consulate, as the orthodox church requires that marriages be celebrated in a church. Major Allen Wardwell of the American Red Cross, who was looking after the interests of foreign prisoners, interceded with the Bolshevik officials, but Peters, the head of the commission for the suppression of counter-revolution, was firm in his refusal to grant Captain Hicks immunity if he left the American property and walked into the Russian church which stood in an adjoining court. When the hour for the departure of the British officials from Moscow approached, the situation became desperate. Finally one of the Lettish women who was guarding Captain Hicks became interested in his plight and telephoned to Peters, addressing him in the Lettish tongue. Her appeal was heeded. She assumed responsibility for the delivery of the English officer at the train which was to carry him out of Russia. A priest was hastily engaged and the party stopped in the vicinity of the station, where the ceremony was performed just half an hour before the bride and groom started for England.

JOHN B. JONES AND JOHN THORNTON

To the Electors of Saint John:
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:
We respectfully ask the honor of your votes on the 30th inst.
We have a deep sense of the City's needs and are convinced that a strong check should be kept on forces which are attacking the City's interests, otherwise our bond issue and tax rate will be a sad reminder of this year's extravagance. If you give us the majority of your votes we will demand a careful management of the Safety and other departments and thus protect the citizens and aid the City's trade.
We agree with the Board of Trade that the City Council should have agreed to arbitrate the dispute between the principle of conciliation was adopted last week in Toronto, was urged by the Governor-General while here, and should have been tried out and thus have saved the cost and trouble of this election.
We shall urge that whenever returned soldiers are capable of filling city positions they should have a decided preference.
We shall favor any fair proposal by the City to control or buy out the rights, interests, etc., of the New Brunswick Power Company, whereby to give citizens gas, electric lighting and power and street car service at lower rates than are now paid.
We feel that the C. P. R. and the government should provide a traffic bridge via Navy Island to the West Side and we shall work to that end.
JOHN B. JONES,
JOHN THORNTON.
St. John, N. B., Dec. 23rd. 1-1

AUTO OWNERS

Owners of motor vehicles are reminded that it will be necessary to secure licenses for 1919 in order to legally operate automobiles, or motor trucks, or other motor vehicles after Tuesday, December 31, 1918.
In order to avoid the delay which a rush of last minute applications would result in, owners who are using their cars and trucks should fill out the necessary forms and remit license fees at once.
W. H. McQUADE,
Provincial Tax Inspector.

Carusos Plays Santa Claus

Signor Caruso played Santa Claus behind the scenes at the Metropolitan on Christmas day, when he sang his role in "Pagliacci" to a crowded matinee house, and gave his day's pay of $2,500 to some of his less highly-salaried associates. There were 220 gold pieces for each of the eighty orchestra players and handfulls of little $2.50 coins for the chorus. The tenor gave scarves to members of the opera house executive staff.
