

ASSERTS LABOR WILL RULE ANEW IN MOTHERLAND

Mrs. Philip Snowden's Audience Fills Large Pythian Castle Hall.

IS SURPRISED AT PEOPLE'S ATTITUDE

Finds Interest Here Keener in Russian Affairs Than Labor Government.

Incidents of the Russian revolution rather than the story of British Labor Government and its accomplishments were of interest to the Canadian people, Mrs. Philip Snowden said last evening in her address in Pythian Castle here. Coming to Canada with the object of bringing about a closer understanding between the Dominion and Mother Country, she said she was surprised at this greater interest in Russian affairs. She also declared that the time would come when a Labor Government would be permanent in England. She gave a graphic description of her visit to Russia when Communism was at its height and of the forced demonstration of welcome arranged for the British delegation.

Warmly Welcomed.

Mrs. Snowden was accorded a reception of such cordiality that there was little doubt of the warmth of her welcome. The address was given under the auspices of the two Canadian Clubs and Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, president of the Women's Club, was in the chair, the vote of thanks being moved by W. J. S. Myles, president of the Men's Club, seconded by Mrs. Margaret Lawrence and spoken to by Sir Douglas Hazen. The building was filled to capacity. In the short introductory musical programme Mrs. L. M. Curran sang delightfully and Mrs. F. J. Hodgson was the accompanist.

A Problem.

She was not sorry at the subject that had been selected for her to speak upon, Mrs. Snowden said, but interested in discovering why and in telling of Russia she was able to point out how vast was the difference between Bolshevism and the British Labor Government. It was one of the ironies of the recent election campaign in England that she, who had been reviled by Trotsky in one of his books, had been labelled Bolshevism.

Bolshevism.

Bolshevism, Mrs. Snowden described as Communism plus militarism. Communism was the abolition of all private property and it was a creed for the saints in her opinion. It was certainly not a creed for which the world was ready at the present time. Of the 120,000,000 people in Russia the Communists numbered only 600,000 and of these only 122,000 were sufficiently tried and tested to be given responsible positions.

As to how the Bolsheviks came to power Mrs. Snowden held that war had given them their opportunity but they were the reaction of many years of Caesarian oppression and as to why they had held on so long she believed that it was because of the attempted interference of other nations in the first instance and because as the need has arisen they have changed their policies. Since the withdrawal of foreign armies the peasants are no longer frightened of the foreign menace. They own their land and after paying a tax to the government have the right to sell what they produce. Private trading is no longer forbidden and there has been a great receding from Communism. Russia is now begging capital to come to her aid and even inviting government loans.

In vindication of her husband Mrs. Snowden said that the Chancellor of the Exchequer of the Labor Government had never intended to lend one cent of money except on guarantees that the money and interest would be paid.

Speaks of Russians.

Then Mrs. Snowden spoke of the actual characteristics of the Russians and the tremendous contribution they could make to science and the arts. She would like to see them admitted to the League of Nations and she closed an address which had been listened to with rapt attention by an eloquent plea for unselfish ideals and goodwill amongst nations to build a new social order of brotherhood in which every child should have the opportunity to develop all of its God-given capacities.

Mr. Myles in moving the vote of thanks explained that the Canadian Clubs had selected Russia as the subject for the address because the Clubs were non-political and had feared to introduce subjects of politics which an address on the Labor Government of Great Britain might induce.

URGES REVALUATION OF SOLDIERS' LANDS

Manitoba Legislature Hears of Motion to Help Settlers Meet Expenses.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—Contending that to hold the land, stock and equipment of soldier settlers at the value placed upon them at the time of purchase was an injustice, W. C. McKinnell, Rockwood, introduced a resolution at today's session of the Provincial Legislature, urging upon the Federal Government the necessity of having a revaluation of the assets of these settlers made.

Bought When High.

He contended that this land and equipment was purchased at a time of exceedingly high prices and many settlers, now being unable to operate these farms under the high overhead, had been forced to leave them.

The resolution was supported by Major F. G. Taylor, Conservative leader, and John Queen, Labor leader. It was decided to hold a group conference to have the resolution worded as "strongly as possible" before being adopted.

DEATHS

Mrs. Jane Carroll.
ST. STEPHEN, Feb. 5.—(Special)—The death took place last night of Mrs. Jane Carroll, wife of the late Jeremiah Carroll, of this town. Mrs. Carroll was 82 years of age and had been confined to the house for only a short time. She leaves two sons, Fred, of Toronto, and George, who is C. P. R. ticket agent here. The funeral will be held Saturday morning.

Miss Olga Lewis.
The death of Miss Olga Lewis, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Lewis, of New York, formerly of this city, will cause much regret among the many friends of the family here. Miss Lewis died yesterday morning in New York although on Wednesday evening her recovery seemed assured. She had visited St. John two summers ago and made many friends among the young people. Besides her parents, she leaves one brother, Carl, and one sister, Miss Greta, both of New York. The funeral will be held in New York on Sunday.

DEFER OPENING OF ORPHANAGE WING

Resignations From Board Announced—Statement Made Relative to Finances.

The new wing of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage will not be opened until March, it was decided last night at a meeting of the directors, with D. C. Clark, president, in the chair. The original opening date was Feb. 15, but postponement is necessary owing to delay in completing the furnishings. It was decided to secure the services of two assistant matrons. The resignation of E. A. Schofield from the board had been regretfully accepted and was tendered because Mr. Schofield found it impossible to attend the meetings as he wished to do. His sympathies were wholly with the board and his work. Dr. F. L. Kenney was appointed to fill the vacancy. The resignation of Mrs. H. A. McKewen was also regretfully received and this vacancy will be filled at the next meeting of the board.

Need More Money.

It was reported that already considerably more than one-third of the amount due on the building fund on Jan. 1 had been paid in but the resignation of the special appeal for maintenance was very disappointing. It had been hoped the appeal for maintenance funds would have helped wipe out some of the $15,000 overdraft but this had not been the case. The contributions had, however, been sufficient to supplement ordinary revenue and do away with any necessity for adding to the overdraft during January and February.

The two institutions were reported to be filled to capacity and the health of the children was good on the whole, although there were a few very slight cases of mumps.

Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

DIGBY, Feb. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Chipman Harris, Bear River, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday and many friends met at their home to tender congratulations. There was also messages of regret from a large number who were unable to be present. Deacon W. W. Clarke, on behalf of friends, both present and absent, presented the bride and groom a large array of tangible tokens of regard. To this the groom responded in a fitting manner. An original poem written by C. M. Harris, B.A., was read by Mrs. Warren. Rev. R. S. Gregg, W. G. Clarke and W. E. Read made some interesting remarks and Mrs. H. R. Kinney gave a recitation. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.
