

CUNNABELL'S NOVA (29) SCOTIA ALMANAC.

decides the matter, and the whole affair ends in a downright fight. Don't you see the similarity?

Envy.—The envious man is in pain upon all occasions which ought to give him pleasure. The relish of his life is inverted; and the objects which administer the highest satisfaction to those who are exempt from this passion, give the quickest pangs to those who are subject to it. All the perfections of their fellow-creatures are odious.—Youth, beauty, valour, and wisdom, are provocations of their displeasure.

What a wretched and apostate state is this; to be offended with excellence, and to hate a man because we approve him! The condition of the envious man is emphatically miserable! He is not only incapable of rejoicing in another man's merit or success, but lives in a world wherein all mankind are in a plot against his quiet, by studying their own happiness and advantage.

A sage being asked how he had derived his knowledge, replied, "From the blind, who never place their feet till they have tried the firmness of the soil: I observed before I reasoned; and I reasoned before I wrote."

Sam Slick's Last.—Judge Hurlburton was holding a Court the other day, and in the commencement of the proceedings it became necessary to empanel a jury. One worthy burgher, upon being called, requested the Court to excuse him, on the ground that he was affected with the itch, at the same time holding out his hands to the judge, and displaying the visible evidence of his cutaneous affliction. The judge, after closely inspecting the hands of the juror, directed the clerk as follows: "The Court decides that the juror's case is a valid one, and therefore directs that he be scratched off."

Reason requires culture to expand it. It resembles the fire concealed in the flint, which only shows itself when struck with the steel.

Time is the rider that breaks youth.

REMEDY FOR INDIGESTION.—Boil half a pint of white wheat three hours in a quart of water, or a little more if necessary. Drink half a pint of the liquid two or three times a week.

BEET ROOT BREAD.—A baker of Vienna has made a discovery which may prove of high importance—the use of beet root in making bread. Two loaves, one consisting of one half, the other of five eighths.
