

PROVINCIAL NEWS

CAMPOBELLO, Que. Co., Oct. 17.—A large addition is being made to the public library, and a number of books have been added to those already upon the shelves.

George Green, a native of this place, recently received a telegram from Seattle announcing the death of his brother, A. there. The brother has been there for several years. Particulars of his death are expected later.

Mrs. N. Mitchell, who has been very sick for some time, is slowly convalescing. James A. Calder is at New York at present attending the long postponed yacht race.

MAUGERVILLE, Oct. 17.—The old councillors, Perley and Banks, were returned without opposition. Political "trucks are easy" with them.

At a picnic in the Orange hall, Lincoln, $23 was realized, which will go towards paying off the debt on the hall. J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., and Grand Master Thomas were present and delivered addresses.

Mrs. R. D. Wilnot and her two grandchildren left for Quebec on Thursday. William DeVeber has gone to Newburyport, Mass., and will visit his daughter, Mrs. Clapp, in Ithaca, N. Y., before returning. Mrs. Clapp has returned home on a pleasant visit with friends in Queensbury. Mr. H. Smith returned to Boston on Thursday. Mr. L. B. McKinney of St. John spent last week with her sisters here.

The Misses Mable and Maude Brown and M. L. Magee spent a part of the time with their friends here during the school year. A meeting in Fredericton. Pullman Instructor Barker of Boston and Herbert Piers of Kingston were here on Sunday.

Miss Maude Mahoney has returned from Victoria, B. C., and will visit her father, Mr. C. C. Grant, at Campbellton. Mr. Brown and child have returned from a two months' visit to Albert Co.

The new Baptist church is now well under way. G. W. Foster is the contractor.

ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grant, C. H. Clarke, W. B. Gannon, F. N. Davis and H. M. Bates have returned from New York.

Jack Fado, a successful commercial man, went out the Canouse road with Willie Ham on Monday morning on a gunning expedition. Mr. Fado was fortunate enough to bring down the handsome buck that has been shot near St. Stephen this season. It weighed 218 pounds and had a handsome set of broad antlers carrying fourteen points.

E. R. DeWolfe has added to his factory equipment a necessary plant for putting rubber tires on carriage wheels. He has orders for seven new carriages equipped with these wheels, to be delivered next spring. Among the purchasers are Messrs. Brown, W. H. Whitlock and P. O'Shaughnessy.

C. E. Brasseur's home has been gladdened by the arrival of a little girl.

Miss Alice Bridges has gone to Massachusetts to remain during the winter.

Tenders are asked at last for the erection of a bridge at Oak Bay. Plans and specifications can be seen at the store of H. E. Hill & Co.

The revision is asked to add the names of 120 persons to the first published list of voters. Several of these are repetitions of names now on the list, and others are young men just coming of age. The revisers have asked for the removal of eight names.

It is difficult for Fred Waterson to long remain without a number of good horses. On Tuesday he purchased a gilt edged one from Chas. McDonald of Milltown, in Montserrat, the best in grey gelding with a record of few seconds under 2.30. The grey mare is by Olympus out of the Monty Mac owned by Mr. McDonald for many years. He is young, sound and kind, and in next in appearance the best of the lot.

Country produce is coming in now quite freely. Oats are in steady demand at from 30 to 32 cents. Butter is wanted. It brings for good quality, 18 cents. Robt. McKinley brought in 350 pounds from Rolling Dam on Tuesday and marketed it with H. E. Hill & Co. Eggs are in demand at 15 cents. Cheese at 11 cents is as easily disposed of as gold dollars. Potatoes are in demand at 80c. The crop in Massachusetts and New York states is larger this year than ever before, and the price is not likely to be high.

Casey Bros. have added two modern very handsome chairs to the equipment of their neat barber shop.

Henry E. Todd is driving a handsome black carriage horse which he purchased in St. John last week. He is of good size and great style.

The A. J. Todd Co. has about completed a warehouse. 2115 feet, and two stories high, at the rear of their store on Water street. The second story is on a level with the floor of the store, and is very convenient. A coal shed is to be built at the end of the warehouse. R. Stevenson is the builder.

Geo. Irving has opened a branch of his meat market in the store opposite James Morray's meat market at the bridge, and James Morray has opened a branch market near Geo. Irving's market on King street. In the store recently occupied by J. P. Wry. Opposition is keen in the meat business, but prices still keep up.

Harry Smith has resigned his position with E. M. Gannon and left for Boston. He is succeeded by Austin Hazen, a former employe.

Thomas Toal, sr., a most respected citizen, left on Tuesday for Boston, where he will in future reside. Mr. Toal is 88 years of age. His daughter, Mrs. Harris Christie, and Mr. Christie accompanied him.

A telephone message received here on Tuesday evening announced the death at Grand Lake Stream, Me., of John H. Rose, a former respected resident of this town. He was taken ill with heart failure on Tuesday morning. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Bay View rifle club will hold its club shoot for the cup on the range at Bay Side on Tuesday next, and at the same time, will hold an all-comers' match, for which they will be pleased to receive any small prizes that may be offered. A clam chowder will be served to all at attendance.

Ralph Trainor is spending a few days with his parents—J. Sutton Clark of St. George was in town on Tuesday. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Bay View rifle club will hold its club shoot for the cup on the range at Bay Side on Tuesday next, and at the same time, will hold an all-comers' match, for which they will be pleased to receive any small prizes that may be offered. A clam chowder will be served to all at attendance.

Ralph Trainor is spending a few days with his parents—J. Sutton Clark of St. George was in town on Tuesday. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Misses Mable and Maude Brown and M. L. Magee spent a part of the time with their friends here during the school year. A meeting in Fredericton. Pullman Instructor Barker of Boston and Herbert Piers of Kingston were here on Sunday.

Miss Maude Mahoney has returned from Victoria, B. C., and will visit her father, Mr. C. C. Grant, at Campbellton. Mr. Brown and child have returned from a two months' visit to Albert Co.

The new Baptist church is now well under way. G. W. Foster is the contractor.

ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grant, C. H. Clarke, W. B. Gannon, F. N. Davis and H. M. Bates have returned from New York.

Jack Fado, a successful commercial man, went out the Canouse road with Willie Ham on Monday morning on a gunning expedition. Mr. Fado was fortunate enough to bring down the handsome buck that has been shot near St. Stephen this season. It weighed 218 pounds and had a handsome set of broad antlers carrying fourteen points.

E. R. DeWolfe has added to his factory equipment a necessary plant for putting rubber tires on carriage wheels. He has orders for seven new carriages equipped with these wheels, to be delivered next spring. Among the purchasers are Messrs. Brown, W. H. Whitlock and P. O'Shaughnessy.

C. E. Brasseur's home has been gladdened by the arrival of a little girl.

Miss Alice Bridges has gone to Massachusetts to remain during the winter.

Tenders are asked at last for the erection of a bridge at Oak Bay. Plans and specifications can be seen at the store of H. E. Hill & Co.

The revision is asked to add the names of 120 persons to the first published list of voters. Several of these are repetitions of names now on the list, and others are young men just coming of age. The revisers have asked for the removal of eight names.

It is difficult for Fred Waterson to long remain without a number of good horses. On Tuesday he purchased a gilt edged one from Chas. McDonald of Milltown, in Montserrat, the best in grey gelding with a record of few seconds under 2.30. The grey mare is by Olympus out of the Monty Mac owned by Mr. McDonald for many years. He is young, sound and kind, and in next in appearance the best of the lot.

Country produce is coming in now quite freely. Oats are in steady demand at from 30 to 32 cents. Butter is wanted. It brings for good quality, 18 cents. Robt. McKinley brought in 350 pounds from Rolling Dam on Tuesday and marketed it with H. E. Hill & Co. Eggs are in demand at 15 cents. Cheese at 11 cents is as easily disposed of as gold dollars. Potatoes are in demand at 80c. The crop in Massachusetts and New York states is larger this year than ever before, and the price is not likely to be high.

Casey Bros. have added two modern very handsome chairs to the equipment of their neat barber shop.

Henry E. Todd is driving a handsome black carriage horse which he purchased in St. John last week. He is of good size and great style.

The A. J. Todd Co. has about completed a warehouse. 2115 feet, and two stories high, at the rear of their store on Water street. The second story is on a level with the floor of the store, and is very convenient. A coal shed is to be built at the end of the warehouse. R. Stevenson is the builder.

Geo. Irving has opened a branch of his meat market in the store opposite James Morray's meat market at the bridge, and James Morray has opened a branch market near Geo. Irving's market on King street. In the store recently occupied by J. P. Wry. Opposition is keen in the meat business, but prices still keep up.

Harry Smith has resigned his position with E. M. Gannon and left for Boston. He is succeeded by Austin Hazen, a former employe.

Thomas Toal, sr., a most respected citizen, left on Tuesday for Boston, where he will in future reside. Mr. Toal is 88 years of age. His daughter, Mrs. Harris Christie, and Mr. Christie accompanied him.

A telephone message received here on Tuesday evening announced the death at Grand Lake Stream, Me., of John H. Rose, a former respected resident of this town. He was taken ill with heart failure on Tuesday morning. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Bay View rifle club will hold its club shoot for the cup on the range at Bay Side on Tuesday next, and at the same time, will hold an all-comers' match, for which they will be pleased to receive any small prizes that may be offered. A clam chowder will be served to all at attendance.

Ralph Trainor is spending a few days with his parents—J. Sutton Clark of St. George was in town on Tuesday. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Misses Mable and Maude Brown and M. L. Magee spent a part of the time with their friends here during the school year. A meeting in Fredericton. Pullman Instructor Barker of Boston and Herbert Piers of Kingston were here on Sunday.

Miss Maude Mahoney has returned from Victoria, B. C., and will visit her father, Mr. C. C. Grant, at Campbellton. Mr. Brown and child have returned from a two months' visit to Albert Co.

The new Baptist church is now well under way. G. W. Foster is the contractor.

bridge, and James Morray has opened a branch market near Geo. Irving's market on King street. In the store recently occupied by J. P. Wry. Opposition is keen in the meat business, but prices still keep up.

Harry Smith has resigned his position with E. M. Gannon and left for Boston. He is succeeded by Austin Hazen, a former employe.

Thomas Toal, sr., a most respected citizen, left on Tuesday for Boston, where he will in future reside. Mr. Toal is 88 years of age. His daughter, Mrs. Harris Christie, and Mr. Christie accompanied him.

A telephone message received here on Tuesday evening announced the death at Grand Lake Stream, Me., of John H. Rose, a former respected resident of this town. He was taken ill with heart failure on Tuesday morning. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Bay View rifle club will hold its club shoot for the cup on the range at Bay Side on Tuesday next, and at the same time, will hold an all-comers' match, for which they will be pleased to receive any small prizes that may be offered. A clam chowder will be served to all at attendance.

Ralph Trainor is spending a few days with his parents—J. Sutton Clark of St. George was in town on Tuesday. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Misses Mable and Maude Brown and M. L. Magee spent a part of the time with their friends here during the school year. A meeting in Fredericton. Pullman Instructor Barker of Boston and Herbert Piers of Kingston were here on Sunday.

Miss Maude Mahoney has returned from Victoria, B. C., and will visit her father, Mr. C. C. Grant, at Campbellton. Mr. Brown and child have returned from a two months' visit to Albert Co.

The new Baptist church is now well under way. G. W. Foster is the contractor.

ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grant, C. H. Clarke, W. B. Gannon, F. N. Davis and H. M. Bates have returned from New York.

Jack Fado, a successful commercial man, went out the Canouse road with Willie Ham on Monday morning on a gunning expedition. Mr. Fado was fortunate enough to bring down the handsome buck that has been shot near St. Stephen this season. It weighed 218 pounds and had a handsome set of broad antlers carrying fourteen points.

E. R. DeWolfe has added to his factory equipment a necessary plant for putting rubber tires on carriage wheels. He has orders for seven new carriages equipped with these wheels, to be delivered next spring. Among the purchasers are Messrs. Brown, W. H. Whitlock and P. O'Shaughnessy.

C. E. Brasseur's home has been gladdened by the arrival of a little girl.

Miss Alice Bridges has gone to Massachusetts to remain during the winter.

Tenders are asked at last for the erection of a bridge at Oak Bay. Plans and specifications can be seen at the store of H. E. Hill & Co.

The revision is asked to add the names of 120 persons to the first published list of voters. Several of these are repetitions of names now on the list, and others are young men just coming of age. The revisers have asked for the removal of eight names.

It is difficult for Fred Waterson to long remain without a number of good horses. On Tuesday he purchased a gilt edged one from Chas. McDonald of Milltown, in Montserrat, the best in grey gelding with a record of few seconds under 2.30. The grey mare is by Olympus out of the Monty Mac owned by Mr. McDonald for many years. He is young, sound and kind, and in next in appearance the best of the lot.

Country produce is coming in now quite freely. Oats are in steady demand at from 30 to 32 cents. Butter is wanted. It brings for good quality, 18 cents. Robt. McKinley brought in 350 pounds from Rolling Dam on Tuesday and marketed it with H. E. Hill & Co. Eggs are in demand at 15 cents. Cheese at 11 cents is as easily disposed of as gold dollars. Potatoes are in demand at 80c. The crop in Massachusetts and New York states is larger this year than ever before, and the price is not likely to be high.

Casey Bros. have added two modern very handsome chairs to the equipment of their neat barber shop.

Henry E. Todd is driving a handsome black carriage horse which he purchased in St. John last week. He is of good size and great style.

The A. J. Todd Co. has about completed a warehouse. 2115 feet, and two stories high, at the rear of their store on Water street. The second story is on a level with the floor of the store, and is very convenient. A coal shed is to be built at the end of the warehouse. R. Stevenson is the builder.

Geo. Irving has opened a branch of his meat market in the store opposite James Morray's meat market at the bridge, and James Morray has opened a branch market near Geo. Irving's market on King street. In the store recently occupied by J. P. Wry. Opposition is keen in the meat business, but prices still keep up.

Harry Smith has resigned his position with E. M. Gannon and left for Boston. He is succeeded by Austin Hazen, a former employe.

Thomas Toal, sr., a most respected citizen, left on Tuesday for Boston, where he will in future reside. Mr. Toal is 88 years of age. His daughter, Mrs. Harris Christie, and Mr. Christie accompanied him.

A telephone message received here on Tuesday evening announced the death at Grand Lake Stream, Me., of John H. Rose, a former respected resident of this town. He was taken ill with heart failure on Tuesday morning. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Bay View rifle club will hold its club shoot for the cup on the range at Bay Side on Tuesday next, and at the same time, will hold an all-comers' match, for which they will be pleased to receive any small prizes that may be offered. A clam chowder will be served to all at attendance.

Ralph Trainor is spending a few days with his parents—J. Sutton Clark of St. George was in town on Tuesday. He was upwards of 70 years of age and a past master of Sussex lodge, F. & A. M. His funeral will be held from the Washington county train at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, with Masonic honours.

The Misses Mable and Maude Brown and M. L. Magee spent a part of the time with their friends here during the school year. A meeting in Fredericton. Pullman Instructor Barker of Boston and Herbert Piers of Kingston were here on Sunday.

Miss Maude Mahoney has returned from Victoria, B. C., and will visit her father, Mr. C. C. Grant, at Campbellton. Mr. Brown and child have returned from a two months' visit to Albert Co.

The new Baptist church is now well under way. G. W. Foster is the contractor.

ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grant, C. H. Clarke, W. B. Gannon, F. N. Davis and H. M. Bates have returned from New York.

Jack Fado, a successful commercial man, went out the Canouse road with Willie Ham on Monday morning on a gunning expedition. Mr. Fado was fortunate enough to bring down the handsome buck that has been shot near St. Stephen this season. It weighed 218 pounds and had a handsome set of broad antlers carrying fourteen points.

ALBERT'S CHOICE.

Dr. R. C. Weldon Selected as the Conservative Standard Bearer.

Enthusiastic Meeting, Addressed by Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Dr. Weldon and J. D. Hazen, M. P. P.—Hundreds Unable to Get in the Building.

HILLSBORO, N. B., Oct. 13.—The Albert county liberal conservative convention held here this afternoon was the most representative and enthusiastic gathering ever held by the party in Albert. Every parish was represented and delegations from some of the more distant parts of the county, such as Elgin, were larger than ever in the history of the party. The feature of the convention was the unanimity of feeling and enthusiasm with which the delegates went about the selection of candidates for the next dominion contest.

Dr. R. C. Murray, president of the Albert conservative association, was in the chair, and the convention first proceeded to the election of officers. Dr. Murray was re-elected president; W. B. Jonah, vice president; W. M. Burns, secretary. The following vice presidents were elected: Hillsboro, John L. Peck; Alma, Jas. Cleveland; Hopewell Cape, B. T. Currier; Elgin, W. B. Jonah; Colville, Albert J. Steeves. On W. B. Jonah's motion, the convention gave a unanimous vote in favor of proceeding to nominate a candidate for premier of the province.

Dr. Weldon was nominated on the platform amid the great enthusiasm usually indulged in by Albert county conventions.

Dr. Weldon, while intimating to the convention his acceptance of the nomination, did not formally accept until the evening. He briefly addressed the delegates, however, expressing his high appreciation of the honor conferred upon him. He considered the nomination a tribute to the party and the platform, and he thanked them heartily for the opportunity of again fighting side by side with old comrades in arms in winning a victory for Albert that he considered more than any since confederation. He referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

A noticeable feature of the convention was the presence of some of the liberals, a prominent one of whom was John Molins of Hillsboro.

The public meeting in the evening was a great political demonstration. Dr. W. B. Jonah presided, and the speakers were Dr. Weldon, Hon. G. E. Foster and J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., leader of the local opposition. Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was first received and was given a hearty welcome. He formally accepted the nomination of the conservative party, expressing his great pleasure at receiving the nomination for the fourth time. He accepted the nomination with great pleasure, and he referred to his nomination and victories in 1887 and 1891, and defeat in 1896, when the party was divided. He felt particularly gratified that his old friends had offered him a constituency without his having to run around and look for a place, like the minister of railways.

Dr. Weldon was