METHODIST

The Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States has started out with the heroic purpose of raising five million dollars, capital for a superannuation fund so that the retired ministers shall be guaranteed against want or privation in their declining years.

Rev. G. M. Campbell, D.D., has resigned the principality of The Ladies' College Mount Allison, and will devote the year to increasing the endowment fund of the University and to erect the much needed new science building.

The Rev. L. B. Champion has been designated as the Methodist Chaplain to the General Public Hospital, St. John, and it is hoped and expected that all pastors in outlying circuits will notify him when any of their people go for treatment.

Evangelist Isaac J. Brindley opened meetings this week at Wentworth, on the Windsor, New Brunswick, and conducted successful meetings at New Aberdeen, C. B., resulting a number of conversions and additions to the church.

St. Stephen, N. B. people listened with pleasure and profit to the excellent sermon preached by Rev. H. S. Strothard, M.A., B.D., their newly appointed pastor on Sunday last. The Carleton Sentinel said: "Previous to leaving Woodstock for his new field of labor at Albert, Rev. R. Ople, one of the most beloved clergymen of the Methodist denomination in this province, was waited upon by the Protestant clergymen of the town, and presented with an address, that would be a comfort and inspiration to any pastor."

The reverend gentleman has entered upon his duties on his new field making an excellent impression on the large congregations greeting him. After an interrupted service of forty-one years as principal of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, the Rev. J. J. Hare, D. D. last week stepped out from the honors and responsibilities of office and was succeeded by the Rev. J. L. Farewell, B. A. The length of service and efficiency of his work entitles Dr. Hare to rest from official and strenuous labor.

The Rev. E. A. Westmoreland has entered upon his duties as pastor of the Carleton Church, and accorded a cordial welcome.

Rev. R. G. Fulton has concluded his vacation and proceeded to Charlottetown, P. E. I., in company with his wife and family.

Rev. D. S. Chown, D.D., Gen. Superintendent, who purpose going to England, this season to represent Canadian Methodism at the Annual Conference, has postponed his trip owing to the war and the special needs of the home work this year.

The Rev. T. Spencer Crisp was kindly remembered by the people of Pocombe for leaving for St. Martin's, where he presented him with a well equipped purse and expressed their appreciation of his earnest preaching and faithful service.

A goodly representation of the Murray Harbour Circuit assembled at the parsonage and presented Rev. L. H. Jewett and with a filled purse, expressive of the esteem in which the retiring pastor and family are held by the people.

The Rev. R. McArthur, pastor of the Digby, N. S. Circuit, exchanged on Sunday last with Rev. H. Johnson, of Queens County, on Monday he went up river as far as Fredericton, returning he cheered the hearts of his old friends on whom he called before leaving the city on Thursday.

By the Wesleyan we learn reciprocity in conducting the mid-week services of the Fairville Baptist and Methodist churches is in progress. The pastors by taking their vacations at different dates enables them to do this, to the promotion of Christian fellowship, and the breaking down of the sectarian prejudices.

The Rev. J. W. McConnell, B.A., who did much yeoman service in the cause of Temperance, when in this province, is now moving with celerity and force through Annapolis County, N. S., planning the battle to the gate. On a recent Sunday he preached to the German prisoners interned at Amherst. It is said they manifested a deep interest in the gospel message. Mr. McConnell's report for the past year of the work in Trinity Church, Amherst, was interesting and highly satisfactory.

Anniversary services were conducted in the Third Avenue Church, Saskatoon, on Sunday, June 20th, by Rev. C. A. Williams, of St. James Church, Montreal. The church was crowded to hear this eloquent preacher. On Monday evening, Mr. Williams lectured "The Blessings of the War." All the audience was with the lecturer in his sentiments throughout his entire lecture on the war, which was interrupted in a score of places by applause. Few speakers on the war have kept their hearers' attention and interest so well as this very undenial Irish minister, who appealed right along to the patriotism of his hearers in a discourse not at all too long and not a bit prosy.

This is the preacher secured for this year's Camp Meeting at Berwick, N. S. Other specialists will also attend.

At a Theological Students gathering about the time of the opening, fifty of the men offered for the Holy Ministry in the United States. They made plans for an organization whose purpose is (1) to present the needs, (2) to enlist men to meet these needs, (3) to help put the men in touch with the fields. Their motto is, "America for Christ." These fifty have signed the declaration which reads thus: "It is my desire to enter the service of Christ in a neglected field, under the American flag." My present preference is for a "A. C. parish, an immigrant or industrial parish. A frontier field." This is the spirit that will win victory.

BAPTIST

A New Book

Dr. Charles L. White, the Watchman-Examiner says has just completed a book for the Missionary Education Movement of the United States, and Canada, which he wrote in the evenings of the winter months. The book will be a text-book for the Missionary Education Movement, but it has none of the dry-as-dust qualities of a text book. It is a strong and brilliant study of our present day church life, in which is discussed such topics as "The Land and the Workmen," "Difficulties to be Overcome," "The Evangelistic Method and Message," "The Reach of the Individual," "The Reach of the Local Church," "The Church in the Nation," "The Church among the Nations," and "Master Workman." As pastor, as college president, and as missionary secretary, Dr. White has studied all phases of our religious life, and he gives us in this volume the result of his life-long study. The book is of great value to Christian workers.

No Competition

Recently, a London Church whose pastorate was vacant, resolved to pursue a very definite course as to the filling of the vacancy. A committee of deacons and an equal number of unofficial members was elected to arrange for all pupils "supplies." No competition of eligible men was permitted, but one such man was heard, and his suitability or otherwise decided upon, the other Sundays being supplied by men not eligible. It was regarded as dishonorable to invite a man to preach, merely because he was successful in another church. It was decided that not less than a two-thirds majority of the members was necessary for any man's invitation to the pastorate.

It was resolved that if a minister were invited to preach as a possible pastor, a letter should be sent to each member of the church urging them to be present to hear him, and to pray for wisdom to discern God's will in the matter. Full inquiries were to be made as to his previous record and pastoral work before being invited to preach. These arrangements proved so successful that only one man was heard, and the people unanimously invited him to the pastorate which he accepted.

"Untouchables"

At a recent "Missionary Garden Party" in London, England, the Rev. G. E. Hicks, of Goya, North India, had a moving story to tell of work among the lowest class of the people of India, called Doms, which means "Untouchables." No Hindu of good caste will have anything to do with them. They are filthy and degraded, terrible thieves, and drunkards, therefore, the missionaries, knowing that the Saviour came to touch the leper had a message of hope and comfort for the Doms which they must deliver, started work amongst them.

On one occasion the missionaries took some Doms to a meeting where food was provided and themselves ate and drank with their guests, thus winning their way to the hearts of these outcasts, and preparing them for the uplifting message that Divine love will by no means cast them out, but can raise them from the deepest depths of sin and degradation.

Among the few men honored by the University of Rochester at the recent commencement was Rev. David Gilmore, for many years connected with Baptist educational work in Burma. Dr. Gilmore is an alumnus of the University. He is a son of Professor Joseph H. Gilmore, for nearly half a century head of the English department of Rochester, and known the world over as author of the hymn "The Leadeth Me."

The Rev. C. J. Cameron, writing on Home Missions in the Canadian Baptist says: "A church that lacks the evangelistic spirit dies and should be buried and give place to a New Testament church, which must be filled and thrived with an unquenchable zeal for the salvation of souls."

Our Newest Missionary

Dr. J. G. Brown writes Dr. Wolverton our "newest missionary" will probably sail for India in October.

Dr. Wolverton is the son of Dr. Newton Wolverton of Nelson, B.C. He was baptized at the age of sixteen by Rev. R. R. McKay, into the membership of the First Baptist Church, Brandon. In 1907, he became student volunteer, and for eight years has steadily gone on with his preparation. He holds the Degree of B.A. from the Ontario Agricultural College of Guelph, and the Degree of M.B. from the Toronto University. He is a devoted, consecrated young man and greatly admired for his splendid manly character. We commend him to the unqualified confidence of all our Baptist people.

The sending of Dr. Wolverton to the face of present conditions, is a distinct venture of faith, but all the circumstances seem to say—"Go forward." We believe the churches will stand behind the Board in this action.

We are glad to say that the passages of the Doctor and his fiancée have already been guaranteed by one who promises that this shall in no way interfere with the regular giving to the work. An aged sister, not possessed with much of this world's goods who heard of the urgency of the need, has offered to give her little savings, amounting to about $40. Another brother, a deacon, whose name must be withheld, offers through his pastor to be one of five men to give $200 each for the salary of Dr. Wolverton for the first year. Who will take up the challenge of this good brother, thus releasing the Board from all anxiety? Of course, what is given in this way will not detract from the ordinary income of the Board. But surely there are five Baptist men between the two oceans who can send us $200 each to provide the salary of Dr. Wolverton for the first year. We may say that the actual amount required for salary and Munsht (native language teacher) is $975.00.

Eighty Years, But Hale and hearty. On June 21st ult., Rev. Robert Campbell, D. D., pastor emeritus of First Presbyterian church, Montreal, celebrated his eightieth birthday. He is the oldest living graduate of Queen's University, having completed his Arts' course in that institution in 1856. He was ordained to the ministry in 1861 and so has seen ministerial jubilees. He has had but two pastorate, St. Andrew's church, Galt, Ont., and St. Gabriel's church, Montreal, the latter of which he held for forty-three years. When he retired in 1909, St. Gabriel's united with Chalmers church to form First church. Dr. Campbell was elected moderator of the General Assembly in 1907 and has since 1893 been senior clerk of the Assembly. With this master of ecclesiastical law on guard, the Assembly cannot go far wrong in procedure. An eminent churchman, an enthusiastic golfer and cricketer and one of the best botanists in Canada, this senior of eighty years retains the vivacity and the vigor of twenty-five years ago.

Loss By Fire. Rev. James Carruthers and the congregation of St. Andrew's church, Albert, B. C., have met with a serious loss in the burning of their beautiful church and manse, June 17. Mr. Carruthers, who lost most of his personal effects including books, stereographs, etc., is well known in the Maritime Provinces. He held pastorate in Charlottetown, P.E.I., and New Glasgow, N. S., and was for several years lecturer in education in Halifax Presbyterian College.

Manitoba's New Professor. Rev. J. W. Macmillan, D.D., of St. Matthew's church, Halifax, N. S., was appointed by the Assembly in June to the chair of Social Ethics and Practical Theology in Manitoba Theological College. His translation from the Presbytery of Halifax to the Presbytery of Winnipeg takes place at the end of July. The Manitoba College Board made an effort to secure Principal Macmillan for the chair of Social Ethics and Practical Theology in the University of Manitoba. He is well known in the Maritime Provinces. He held pastorate in Charlottetown, P.E.I., and New Glasgow, N. S., and was for several years lecturer in education in Halifax Presbyterian College.
