Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 5th ultimo stating that Mr Craig of Bellhally requests that islands No 27. Haslett's survey ~~may be held~~ ^{may be held} until next summer to give him an opportunity of examining them, and in reply I have to inform you that you may hold the islands in ^{question} provided no other application is received for the same, and should another application be received you should sell to the person who will give the most for the islands over and above the upset price.

I am, Sir,

your obedient servant,
