With Introduction by
REV. N. BURWASH, S.T.D., LL.D.

Paper Covers, 40 pages, 10 cents net, postpaid

"This little booklet," writes DR. BURWASH, "converts one of the beautiful little incidents of Old Testament history into a Gospel allegory. . . . It is neither a theological nor a controversial treatise, but a gripping stirring appeal for Christian hearts and consciences to press forward to the fulness of Christian privilege in Christ Jesus. Its central ideas are the fulness of the Spirit and the indwelling presence of Christ by faith."

REV. DR. WITSELL writes: "This is a very beautiful and ingenious parable of life. It sets forth with forceful eloquence the claims of the higher Christian life. It is an allegory of extraordinary beauty and power, chaste, scholarly, devout."

The Christian Guardian: "Gives a clear, bright shining to Christian life and character. It is thoroughly evangelical and intensely practical, pointing out the privileges and possibilities of a well-watered South Land."

The Toronto News: "Cannot fail to exert a beneficial influence on its readers. Mr. Keenleyside was formerly a well-known newspaper editor, and the clearness and compactness of his style shows the result of long wielding of the pen."
