

Amalgamation.

That the best interest of the Church may be served, and that the Church in Canada may possess a journal equal in point of circulation, ability and usefulness to any on the Continent, THE CHURCH EVANGELIST and THE CANADIAN CHURCHMAN have joined hands, and with this issue begins the amalgamated publication.

The late publishers of the CHURCH EVANGELIST, The Church of England Publishing Co., Limited, Toronto, will hereafter devote their time and efforts to their rapidly increasing book business.

Their experience during the past two years has shown that the Church of England throughout the whole country is very poorly supplied with its own literature. The Church's greatest need today is knowledge, and that kind of knowledge which our own unrivaled Church literature alone can furnish.

The Church of England Publishing Co. is organized for this one set purpose, to supply this lack, and so far has met with most encouraging success.

Their sales of Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymn Books and General Church Literature, especially in connection with the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, of which they are agents for Ontario, has greatly developed during the last year. Their business extends to all parts of Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver.

It is now clearly evident that the business can be vastly extended if they receive the united and hearty support of the Church at large.

They will now concentrate their whole attention upon this work, so as to deserve that support and confidence.

It is quite time that churchmen should unite to make their own book society worthy of the Church to which they belong.
