RASTUS KNEW MULES.

He Proved It Too, and Then He Gave His Reasons.

At a dinner the other evening the talk turned to the subject of mules, when Congressman Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina recalled the familiarity of Uncle Rastus with that obstreperous species.
 Some time since, the congressman said, a mule balked along the public highway, and no amount of beautiful persuasion or lurid eloquence could induce him to move. Finally Uncle Rastus happened along and advised a whop over the head. This was done, and the mule started.
 "That did it all right," admiringly exclaimed a bystander. "You certainly seem to have a thorough understanding of mules."
 "Yes, sah! Yes, sah!" was the grateful rejoinder of Uncle Rastus. "I suah do know dem mules all right."

"It is always best to hit them on the top of the head?" queried the bystander.
 "Yes, sah! Yes, sah!" returned Rastus. "Dem mules hab mo' brains dan people think, an' you jes' got ter 'peal right close to dere Interlect."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
