

ALL STEEL DOME

SUNSHINE FURNACE

The Sunshine is differently and better constructed than common furnaces. It's stronger, safer, more healthful.

The dome, the two sections of the fire-pot and the frame of the ash-pit are all securely fastened together by our famous "cup joint." Three "cup joints" in all, you see. All sections, you will notice, fit together perfectly, and are lined with a layer of asbestos cement, which unites them so firmly together that they become, in every purpose, one solid piece of metal. Can never spring or fall apart.

And that's not all! The top of the dome is fastened to the sides with cement and boiler rivets, making the Sunshine just as smoke, gas, heat and dust tight as a steam boiler. From a hygienic standpoint it takes precedence in the furnace world.

Notice, too, the Sunshine is equipped with an automatic gas damper. This damper automatically opens when the gas in the furnace reaches a certain pressure and allows it to escape up the chimney. Eliminates all danger of an explosion or gas escaping through the registers.

Safest as well as most healthful, easiest managed, cleanest, greatest labor-saving and fuel-economizing furnace you can buy.

If your local dealer does not handle the Sunshine write direct to us for free booklet.

HAYWOOD SENT MONEY

Steve Adams When Stranded Wired Him Asking For Funds.

Orchard's Testimony Corroborated in Many Points—Assistance Also Given to Simpkins Who Helped Murder Steunenberg—Union Miners Flogged and Driven From Home—Peabody Bomb Dug Out of Ice.

Boise, Idaho, June 17.—In support of its case against Haywood Saturday, the state submitted to the jury the testimony of a dozen witnesses, tending to confirm several details of the story of Harry Orchard, and at adjournment announced that it would close its case this week. The announcement as to the conclusion of the prosecution's case was a surprise to the defence, and clearly placed the prisoner and his counsel.

In response to a request from the defence for notice from the state as to the time it should assemble its witnesses, Senator Borah fixed next Wednesday as the time. He explained later, however, that he had given an early day, in order to avoid delay. As the trial now stands adjourned until Tuesday morning, the prosecution would not be able to conclude before the end of the week.

Among the day's witnesses were ex-Governor Peabody of Colorado and his daughter, Miss Cora Peabody, but neither was on the stand long. It was anticipated that the defence would lengthily cross-examine Peabody and open the entire contention involved in the Colorado labor war, but a noon recess conference of the united counsel for the defence decided that it would be better tactics to refrain from such questioning.

Against a sustained fire of objection and motions to strike out, the prosecution got the admission of much evidence bearing on points of Orchard's testimony.

Sent to Haywood For Money.

First, it was shown that Steve Adams while stranded in Oregon in 1906, on the way hence from California, where it is alleged he went to kill Fred Bradley, sent a telegram to Haywood at Denver, for money. It showed by the originals of six drafts on New York banks, five of which were purchased at the First National Bank of Denver by Haywood himself, that during 1904, 1905 and 1906 money was frequently remitted by Haywood to L. J. Simpkins, formerly a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, who, as "Simmons," went to Caldwell with Orchard and assisted in the first attempt to kill Steunenberg. The last draft, sent in January, 1906, after the murder of Steunenberg, was cashed by Mrs. Simpkins, presumably after Simpkins fled.

Then came the shattered and twisted fragments of the device by which the Vandenberg mine bomb was set off. This led to an extensive inquiry by the defence into conditions and events centering about Cripple Creek during the strike and martial law days. The defence tried to show that there was unwarranted deportation of union miners; that the use of the militia was unwarranted; that union stores were looted; that agents of the mine owners committed acts of violence and incited others to violence; that union miners were flogged and driven from their homes, and the peace officers controlled by the mine owners, employed deputies who were "gun-fighters," thugs and criminals.

History of Bomb.
Next, the state completed the legal history of the Peabody bomb by showing that it was dug out of the ice in the Coeur d'Alene River, brought to Boise, and taken to Denver, and by having its casing identified by the plumber who made it. Ex-Governor Peabody and his family watched the bomb cover every moment that it was displayed before the witness stand.

Then the state once more took up the general thread of Orchard's story and successively offered the testimony of Miss Peabody, as to the testimony of Orchard, that he and Steve Adams followed the Peabody carriage home; the testimony of ex-Governor Peabody that he saw Orchard in Canon City, and that he repaired his house, as Orchard testified; testimony showing that at various times in 1905 Haywood, Pettibone and Orchard were seen together, and confirmation by William Vaughan of the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City. Lastly, proof was adduced that Steve Adams was at Pocatello in September, presumably to meet and throw "Pettibone dope" at a carload of non-union miners, as related by Orchard.

Judge Wood goes to Caldwell to-day to continue the case of Harry Orchard, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg and there will be no session of the court. Orchard will be taken to Caldwell for formal appearance when the case is called.

DEAKIN A NOVEL READER.

Famous Australian Statesman Delights in Fiction.

Many of the ablest statesmen of the present day are inveterate novel-readers, but none of them are likely to carry their taste for fiction-devoicing as far as Mr. Deakin, the Australian Premier, who, it is said, has more than once been seen on the Treasury Bench in the Australian Chamber deep in the pages of the latest novel, while the members of the House are engaged in debate. Indeed, it is to be doubted whether many professional critics could equal Mr. Deakin's varied and extensive knowledge of contemporary fiction. He has been at all times an omnivorous reader, and does not disdain the epithet of "book-lover."

In appearance Mr. Deakin is by no means the typical Australian. There is about him none of the bluff broadness which was so characteristic of the late Mr. Seddon, of New Zealand. A tall, thin figure, with the look and bearing of the scholar rather than the platform orator, Mr. Deakin is, notwithstanding, a speaker of unusual charm and eloquence.

Spiritualist and Journalist.
In his early days Mr. Deakin was keenly interested in spiritualism, and it was whilst pursuing his studies in the occult that he first met his wife, who is the daughter of Mr. Hugh Browne, for many years one of the leading figures in the spiritualistic circles of Melbourne. As may be supposed, spiritualistic carousals of the day were not slow to take advantage of the young statesman's hobby, and the whole city laughed to see him depicted in a white sheet.

It was at this time that Mr. Deakin did a great deal of journalistic work for The Melbourne Age, and it was to which an amusing story is told. Conversing one day with Mr. David Syme, proprietor of The Age, the Hon. John Gavan Duffy, one of Melbourne's sharpest wits, remarked, with a twinkle in his eye: "My dear Syme, you really ought to have something more than a Deakin on your staff. You ought to have a Bishop in the office."

"A Bishop! Why?" "Because, you know, your statements are so sadly in need of confirmation."

LACERATING THE RICH.

British Cabinet Minister's Plan to Reform the "Smart Set."

Mr. Augustine Birrell ventured recently to assume the mantle of the saint, whose name he bears, and lectured the "smart set" on their iniquities.

He was discoursing affably on politics at a banquet of the Bradford Liberal Association, and brought out the apothem: "Those who are wise always have their mind on the great body of the people."

"The 'top' may be disregarded," he said. "Their conversation, I suppose, is banal, their taste is low, and their wit is great. We can afford to dispense with them."

"I have no particular sympathy with the Rev. Father Vaughan and that class of divine who is always attacking—and perhaps gaining notoriety from so doing—the habits of the idle and worthless rich."

"I agree that they need a missionary, but I am afraid that the publicity given to their sins is a thing they enjoy rather than otherwise."

"I would prefer a divine who would shut them up in real reformatories where they would lacerate themselves with very stiff kind of wire rope, and take it out of themselves in that way."

Then Mr. Birrell contrasted the rich with the great body of the people. The tastes of the latter are slowly and steadily improving, he said. They are looking for refinement in their entertainments, and they are becoming more temperate.

SEVEN MEN DROWN.

Canoe Swept Over Saguenay Falls and All Inmates Perish.

Quebec, June 17.—A few canoes filled with men working for C. P. Easton & Co. started to cross above the Saguenay Falls, when one of the canoes, containing seven men, got caught in the current and was swept over the falls. The men were all drowned.

Four of the men, named Alfred Gagnon, George Quinn, Xavier Guerin and Joseph Quinn, were married and leave large families.

The three others were Philippe Chappardien of Paepelac, Zenon Oic of Little Metis and George Campion of Matane.

Upheld Premier Bond.

NORDHEIMER'S LIMITED, LONDON

As a rule when a person buys a piano it is not with the intention of replacing it with a new one next month, next year or within five years. It is regarded as a permanent fixture in the home, and the most important feature next to the owners themselves.

It is evident that great care should be taken to select a piano which will retain its original brilliancy, power and quality of tone for years and years and years. And such a piano is the "Nordheimer."

It has a lasting, permanent tone, as you can prove for yourself if you play on one which has been in the home of a friend for ten, fifteen, twenty years or more.

The "Nordheimer" is perfectly constructed by experts from the finest grade of materials procurable. It is built with the idea of not only satisfying the most critical ear for tone-quality when new, but for retaining its original superb tone, so that it will still satisfy the critical ear in years to come.

Those who own a "Nordheimer" are the only ones who can really appreciate to the fullest sense the wonderful, pure, sweet, brilliant, yet powerful tone of the peerless "Nordheimer" piano. May we not have the pleasure of a talk with you, with the object in view of placing "Nordheimer" in your home?

Our Mr. R. V. Carter will visit Chatham frequently in our interest and will be pleased to furnish you with any information you may desire. Correspondence addressed to him in care of the Garner House will receive careful attention.
