Glorious weather greeted the sons nd daughters of Old Ireland on the morning of their Patron Saint. Long before the hour for the procession to start, the streets were lined with eager spectators, while the green, the immortal green, was to be seen everywhere. Another milestone in the hopes and aspirations of the Irish people at home and abroad has been passed, and Home Rule seems nearer han ever before. For the first time a years the Irish Catholic parishes howed a united front. The interparochial union which was formed in onnection with the Mayoralty contest showed its real worth once again. 'In Union there's strength." At last the Irish people of the Metropolis are about to throw away their indifference and negligence and stand up for aeir rights.

The Religious Festivities. The scene at St. Patrick's Church was one of grandeur. The sacred difice was filled to the doors, while hundreds stood out side. The altars and the sanctuary presented a magnificent appearance. Beautiful decorations in the shape of bunting, lowers and ornaments were enhanced by myriads of coloured and electric lights. And as the Archbishop and his many assistants moved around in their beautiful vestments the scene seemed to be one of extreme impressiveness, dignity and beauty.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cure.

"It is with intense satisfaction that am able to relate how I was snatched by Dr. Hamilton's Pills from my bed of sickness, writes H. H. Sargent, a well known hardware traveller re siding at Charleston. So many changes of diet brought on a fit of indigestion and liver complaint, but being very busy I didn't give the matter much attention. Headaches, awful dizzy spells, and constant tiredness soon made it impossible for me to attend properly to business. My appetite faded away. I became thin and looked yellow and jaundiced. I used three different prescriptions which physicians said would tone up my liver and regulate my bowels-but I got no relief at all till I started to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. After taking them for a few days I was surprised at the energy and force I obtained; the old feeling of tiredness and lack of desire to work disappeared, and instead came vigor, energy, ambition. good color and sound digestion. 1 a week and ever since have enjoyed the best of health." Father McShane told of the preparations which were being made for the coming congress and that there would be no lack of preparation on the part his, St. Patrick's congregation. Welcomed Their Evangelist.

"The result of Catholic success Ireland has been largely due to the direct patronage of Mary, the Mother of Christ," Father Walsh said. "Other nations have demanded the blood of those who have brought Christianity but this has not been the case with Ireland. To be an apostle in the history of the world has often meant to be a martyr. The one nation which touched not a hair of the head of him who brought them religion was Ireland and this was due to the patron-Ireland as her dower and who has plessed her children.'

The preacher explained that when St. Patrick came to Ireland the worship was that of the sun. It was not the worst form of idolatry for the Irish looked about and found the greatest and grandest thing that the iniverse possessed and this they bowed to and worshipped. St. Patrick, he said, had once been a slave but in the decade or less in which he preached he had driven paganism from Ireland just as he had driven the serpent from the island.

If this is true of temporal things how much more so is it true of spiritual things. The Eucharistic Congress.

At the end of the Mass His Grace' Archbishop Bruchesi addressed the congregation on the Eucharistic Con-

"I wish to say a few words," said he, "in answer to the warm welcome of your beloved pastor. For thirteen years it has been my singular pleasure to come on this occasion and preside at your national feast. This affords me great pleasure. Our faith is one and I have unbounded love and admiration for my Irish people. Your national celebration is essentially one of faith and religion. Unlike other nations, on your feast day you celebrate not a worldly victor, nor a great battle, but you honor your birth in the faith of Christ, and the memory of the great Apostle who brought that faith to Erin's shore. We French-Canadians also honor a saint as our national hero, and our feast is a feast of faith and religion. "Let us then unite to make the coming Eucharistic Congress one worthy of the event. In September next I see before me in this vast church, the Irish Catholic people of Montreal, surrounded by Irish archbishops and bishops from Ireland, England and the United States. I see here in this sanctuary the Cardinal Prepare then, my people, for this great event. Let us outdo London and Cologne.
