Strong Bill at Nickel.

SEE "AFTER DEATH."

Large audiences attended the Nickel Theatre yesterday, all being anxious to see the wonderful drama "After Death," produced in two parts by the Cines Co. of Rome, Italy. It is a sensational and highly interesting drama and it met with the approval of all who saw it. The acting is above the ordinary as these artists are about the best in the "movie" business, and are known all over the world. The Nickel always endeavors to get the best for its patrons and in this great film they secured a masterpiece. There were four other reels last evening, and all were splendid. They will be repeated this evening and all should make an effort to attend. Mr. Huskins, who, farwells this week, will sing the "Ould Plaid Shawl" to-night. To-morrow there is a grand Irish drama "The Irish Rose" with Miss Fealy in the leading part. This is a picture which all should see.

Put a living room in order before leaving it at night and you will save a lot of trouble next morning.

Don't Hawk Spit, Sneeze, Cure Yourself! Breathe "Catarrhazone."

GIVES INSTANT RELIEF, CLEARS OUT NOSE, THROAT AND ALL BREATHING ORGANS.

In this sickle climate, repeated colds very easily drift into Catarrh. The natural tendency of Catarrh is to extend through the system in every direction.

Exposure to cold or dampness intensifies the trouble and nasal catarrh is the result.

Unless a complete cure is effected, inflammation passes rapidly to the throat, bronchial tubes and then to the lungs.

You can't make new lungs—hence Consumption is practically incurable. But Catarrh can be cured, except in its final and always fatal stage.

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be cured right at home by inhaling "Catarrhazone."

In using Catarrhazone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing pliney vapor direct to the lungs and air passages.

The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists, germs are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and cure comes quickly.

Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhazone is breathed, sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed.

Use Catarrhazone to prevent—use it to cure your winter ills. It's pleasant and safe and guaranteed in every case. Complete outfit $1.00. Smaller sets, 50c., at all dealers.

Household Notes

To relieve the soreness of a painful soft corn, try binding it up each night with baking soda moistened with a little water.

Wood ashes is an excellent thing to clean kitchen utensils. Dampen a cloth, dip it in the ashes and scour the pans and kettles.

Mussed pieces of tissue paper are excellent to clean mirrors. First rub the mirror with a damp cloth, then polish with the paper.

If your soup is too salty, try adding a few slices of raw potatoes and cook a little longer. The potatoes will absorb the surplus salt.

Before stuffing a chicken, rub it inside and out with bacon drippings. Sausage, instead of stuffing in a chicken is an agreeable change.

A generous piece of newspaper crumpled into ridges acts as an efficient drain to all croquettes, fritters, doughnuts and bacon.

When running dates or figs through the meat chopper add a few drops of lemon juice to prevent the fruit from clogging the chopper.

A safe laxative for children is two soaked figs that have remained in a little water overnight. These are eaten in the morning before breakfast.

Nothing so good for a sprain as bathing with very hot water, to which turpentine has been added, an ounce to a quart.

Surgery and Bullet Wounds.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

In a leading Philadelphia hospital last year there were performed 1,800 surgical operations. Only twelve of the persons operated upon died.

My authority for these figures is Dr. Morris Booth Miller. He assured me that these operations included many of what are termed the most dangerous major cases. We were talking about Sir William Osler's remarks that only one soldier had died in an English hospital out of 700 wounded who had been treated there.

"Modern army rifle wounds," said Dr. Miller, "are not dangerous unless the bullet happens to strike in a very limited area of the human frame. It is even possible for a shot to go through some parts of the heart and not kill. These small bullets not only make a clean wound owing to the rapidity of their flight, but they often partially cauterize the wound, and so prevent infection."

This surgeon said that a soldier might be shot through the lung without doing him much damage. "As for that terror of war half a century ago known as hospital gangrene," said Dr. Miller, "surgeons of to-day know nothing about it."

Gallant Newfoundland.

(Montreal Herald, Dec. 5.)

Among the troops on Salisbury Plain to-day, and of those who were awarded a post of honor in the Lord Mayor's procession in London must be remembered a gallant little band of Newfoundlanders. With the sailors manning His Majesty's ships is another efficient contingent from the same colony. Second contributions for army and navy are being prepared and go forward at the same time as the second Canadian expeditionary force. Our little neighbor colony will then have something over 2,000 men in the war. This is about ten out of every thousand of her population. At the same rate, Canada should have 30,000 men instead of 30,000.

Then, too, it must be remembered that Newfoundland has practically no manufactures, and has to purchase all the clothing and equipment abroad, leaving none of the price in the hands of her own people. A sparsely settled colony, with less than a quarter of a million population and a revenue of a little over three and a half million dollars, which does what Newfoundland has done, certainly evinces a spirit which not only Canada—with her eight million population, and upwards of a hundred millions of revenue—might well emulate, but which any part of the Empire might well be proud of.

The physique, courage and adaptability of the Newfoundlanders has been proven in many a daring adventure. Their brave and faithful crews have been the backbone of expeditions to the frozen North and to the ice-bound regions of the South Pole. They have a most efficient marine militia upon which the British have freely drawn, but no ready organized volunteer force. Yet Lord Kitchener has kept together the unit they sent and placed them in garrison in an important and exposed post on the coast of Scotland where vigilant watchfulness is of supreme importance. Fort George is the outer guardian of Inverness Firth, constantly open to direct raids from the North Sea and remote from assistance.

Bantam's Battalion.

Result of a Little Man's Challenge.

A young man of 5ft. 1in. who presented himself at the local recruiting depot and was rejected, because he did not reach the Army height standard, brought about the formation of the Bantams Battalion at Birkenhead. As stated in The Daily Mail, the battalion is for men between 5ft. and 5ft. 3in. in height.

On being told that he could not be accepted the disappointed recruit argued quietly that he was as capable of serving as a soldier as a taller man. He went through several gymnastic evolutions and offered "to take on any man in the recruiting office at five rounds in a boxing match." Struck with the young man's earnestness, Mr. Alfred Mansfield, hon. secretary of the recruiting committee, who stands over 6ft. high, mentioned the incident to Mr. Alfred Bigland, M.P. for Birkenhead, and it was at once agreed to communicate with Lord Kitchener. Without delay Lord Kitchener gave his consent to the raising of the Bantams Battalion.

Sheels-Halt Plunge Bath.

A British guardsman, now at Woolwich, who was wounded near Compeigne on Sept. 1, has given a vivid account of the fighting there.

"We were in a field," he says, "when the Germans dropped on us all of a sudden, as though from the sky. The first hint we had of their presence was when a battery of guns on the right sang out, dropping shells into a 'mob' of us who were waiting for our turn at the wash-tub—the river. There was no panic so far as I saw, only some of our fellows, who hadn't had a wash for a long time, said strong things about the Germans for spoiling the best chance we had for four days."
