above official statement was issued by Mr. George C. Gibbons at noon today in the Board of Trade rooms, with the other members of the committee, Col. J .W. Little, Col. W. M. Gartshore and Mr. T. H. Smallman. It marks the end of a controversy that has been waged for some years and which engendered considerable feeling. It will be remembered that the Municipal Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire decided to erect a monument to the Canadian soldiers who fell in South Africa. The city council made a grant, and a large sum of money was raised in this city to pay for the monument.

All went well until the question of design came up. The Municipal Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire decided that a soldier's figure should be placed on top of the monument, with a medallion of Queen Victoria on the pedestal. A number objected to that, and a keen controversy ensued.

The congregational meeting passed off quietly. It was held prior to the select vestry. No incident of unusual importance was noted.

The Dean's Explanations. In the congregational meeting Dean Davis gave a short explanation of his connection with the I. O. F., the 7th Regiment, and the Bible Society. He read letters from Water Commissioner Fred J. Darch, past chief ranger of the I. Q. F., and another officer, stating that the emoluments received were barely sufficient to cover expenses. The dean also explained that he received no financial aid from the 7th Regiment for acting as chaplain, nor from the Bible Society.
