TWELFTH YEAR.

THE IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

OPENING OF THE ENGLISH HOUSE YESTERDAY.

Farnell Moves for an Inquiry into the Working of the Criminal Code—Indications that Farnell will Continue Leader of His Party.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Parliament assembled to-day with a scanty attendance. Mr. Farnell gave notice of his intention to move for an inquiry into the working of the Criminal Code, and to secure the administration of the Criminal Code, and would offer a resolution asking the Government to facilitate discussion on the subject.

Justin McCarthy and Thomas Sexton introduced Sir John Pope Hennessy, the new Nationalist member for North Kilkenny. Sir John was greeted with long and loud cheers, and anti-Farnell cheers. The Farnellites made no counter demonstration.

Parliament Will Not Dissolve.
LONDON, Jan. 22.—Lord Salisbury writes that an early dissolution of parliament is not probable.

PARNELL STILL LEADER.

T. P. GILL'S Intention With O'Brien Dead in Favor of the Leader.
LONDON, Jan. 22.—It is now stated that Thomas Patrick Gill, M.P. for Louth, one of the O'Brien supporters, has written to Mr. Farnell, expressing his sympathy with Farnell, and that much of the leniency shown by the editor of United Ireland to the latter is due to Gill's influence. Timothy O'Brien was recently sentenced at Roscrea, Tipperary, by his anti-Farnell friends.

This was so regretful to the feelings of Farnell's followers in that town that last night they gathered in force, and breaking into the room where the musical instruments were kept smashed them so effectively, scattering the fragments through the window, that the unfortunate bandmen will be unable to play for either faction until they are replaced.

The campaign tenants in Ireland give as their reason for settling with the landlords that the leases had failed to stipulate them, financially, as promised.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Mr. Parnell to-day declared his intention to assert his authority as leader of the Nationalist party in the House of Commons, and to move for an inquiry into the working of the Criminal Code, and to secure the administration of the Criminal Code, and would offer a resolution asking the Government to facilitate discussion on the subject.

Mr. Parnell's speech was greeted with long and loud cheers, and anti-Farnell cheers. The Farnellites made no counter demonstration.

POISONED BY THE OLD PUMP.

Verdigris from Its Brass Faucet Kills a Little Girl.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Verdigris in the brass faucet of a pump from which little 7-year-old Emma Wilson drank at the house, No. 31 St. Mark's place, caused the child's poisoning and death. She had been playing in the basement yard on Thursday, became thirsty, put her little mouth to the faucet and did what many of the other children had frequently done before—sucked drink from the old pump while another child played in the yard. She was found dead in the yard on Friday morning.

DEATH IN VERY SAD.

Because His Government was so Badly Slandered by England.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The Times' Washington special says: The action of the British Government in declining to endorse the efforts of the managers of the approaching grand exposition at Vienna to secure the participation of the Government of the United States has aroused great indignation at the state department, and among the senators and representatives who have been informed of the facts in the case.

Secretary Blaine makes no concealment of his indignation at the United States Government was purposely snubbed by the British Government, and that the only reason why the United States will not be officially represented at the exposition is that that invitation was extended that could be properly accepted.

Knocked the Props From Under Him.
LONDON, Jan. 22.—Referring to the report that the British Government had not invited the United States to be represented at the Vienna exposition it was explained that the British Government never sent formal invitations to any country to be represented at the exposition, and that this exhibition is actually organized by the British Government.

THE CITY AND STREET CARS.

A WEST END MEETING FAVORS MUNICIPAL MANAGEMENT.

The Mayor Not on Hand.—The Speakers and Speeches.—The Sunday Car Question Springs up and Kalesa Breeze.—The Resolutions Submitted.—The Orators of the Evening.

In the opinion of this meeting it would be in the interest of the citizens that the street railway be operated by means of an elective commission.

Some 150 citizens assembled in St. Andrew's hall last night to discuss the above resolution. The mayor had called the meeting on a properly signed requisition; his Worship was not present, nor did he send a representative for an explanation of his non-appearance.

Mr. George Wilson of the Globe was appointed chairman, and the proceedings progressed merrily from that time on until the finish.

George Bradley, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Council, presented the above resolution. His speech was a rough and ready one, full of hostility to the street car company, and very expressive in favor of the city running the cars.

Stewart Lyon was the second speaker. His main point was scoring the Mayor and aldermen for their opposition to the street car company, and their absence what little interest they took in the question. He wandered off into things and wound up by telling the meeting that now was a chance for the citizens to speak out on the subject.

Phillips Thompson spoke on similar lines. He spoke of the fact that the street car company was a monopoly, and that the city should take it over. He also spoke of the fact that the city should take it over.
