

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.E.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

There are two many boys and girls in the country and city, more of course in the latter than in the former, who are prone to look upon work as beneath them. There are thousands of them on the threshold of maturity, who maintain the same views and habits which found encouragement in their earlier years. What becomes of this class of people? Some of them awaken after a desperate struggle, overcome the habit, and learn to work, to save, and to prepare for the inevitable rainy day. Many of them, however, drift and drift, until they become acceptable recruits in the hobo army. Then they speedily reach the conclusion that things are mighty unequal in this world; that the advantages are all with the rich and that the poor man has no show.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture has issued a fruit crop report in which it says: In Ontario heat and drought are reported by most of the correspondents. In the counties of Essex, Elgin, Kent and Lambton high winds have caused considerable damage to early apples.

and pears. In Lincoln county on July 30th a terrific wind and hail-storm swept over a strip about twenty miles long by one or two miles wide, extending from Winona to Jordan. This was the worst storm experienced in the Niagara district for years, and many growers lost the greater part of their crop. North of Lake Ontario the drought is becoming serious, and unless rain comes soon winter apples will be small in size and the drop will be heavy. In district No. 1 (counties north of Lake Erie) prospects for early and fall apples are somewhat improved, although strong winds and hailstorms have reduced the crop considerably in certain sections. Winter apples promise a medium crop. As the fruit is generally clean and of good size, the percentage of No. 1's should be large. A medium to full crop of Transparents, Astrachans and Duchess is reported.

Be In Time.

One of the most embarrassing things a town editor has to contend with is the disposition of people to wait until the last moment of going to press and then rush in with their items which they "want in this week sure." People do not reflect upon the fact that the paper is made up during the whole week, and that its capacity is limited to just so much and the matter gauged accordingly. If the editor should wait the convenience of those who have something they want published, he would not get his paper out until the next week, and then he would have to delay two or three days until some kind friend had made up his mind about a notice he wants in but which he hasn't been able to prepare just to suit him. A great many people don't get their notices published in consequence of this disposition to put off to the last minute, but those not interested never notice the omission; the paper appears regularly on time, and the world moves on just the same.

The White Whale.

In the northern seas and many of the rivers is found the white whale, or the Arctic beluga. The creatures are quite common in certain localities, and especially at certain seasons of the year. They are pure white in color and quite handsome, darting swiftly about in the cold, clear waters of the northern rivers. An ordinary specimen measures from 10 to 16 feet in length, and has a large muzzle-like mouth, filled with long, sharp teeth, with which it snaps up its fish food very quickly. It swims very rapidly by doubling its tail beneath its body and striking backward with a powerful stroke, which sends it forward fast enough to overtake most of the fish in those northern waters.

The natives capture them in nets and with harpoons. The flesh is used as food in certain seasons, and a very fine grade of oil is rendered from it. The skins are prepared and tanned into leather, which is often sold as the hide of the porpoise.

"Book of Martyrs."

The withdrawal from the sale by auction of the Bunyan copy of "Foxe's Book of Martyrs" reminds us that Cobbett in his "History of the Reformation savagely attacks Fox and his work, and in one instance at least Cobbett seems to prove his case. Here is the excerpt:—"As a proof of Fox's total disregard of truth, there was in the next reign a Protestant parson, as Anthony Wood (a Protestant) tells us, who in a sermon related, on the authority of Fox, that a Catholic of the name of Grimwood had been, as Fox said, a great enemy of the Gospel, had been punished by a judgment of God, and that his bowels fell out of his body." Grimwood was not only alive at the time when the sermon was preached, but happened to be present in the church, and he brought an action of defamation against the preacher! The circumstances will be found in Athenae Oxonienses, Ed. Bliss, ii., 789.

A woman doesn't begin to be foolish until she is 40, a man until he is 50; but a man always makes up for lost time by going twice as far and at double speed.

The average man, for instance, is all to the good when he has the stimulating influence of strangers about him; so is the average woman. But at home and for the edification of each other and just the family, they slump.

Never Had a Chance.

We often hear men say in excuse for their ignorance that they "never had a chance." Now the majority of men who have risen high in their profession, and have become noted made the chance for themselves. Where there's a will there's a way, you know, and the boy who deterrines to be something and does not lose heart in the struggle, generally accomplishes his end. One may have a great many wise and ambitious thoughts, but if not followed with perseverance and industry, he will never amount to much. A thing must be well done and wholly done, if one would have fame and prosperity.

Education is the great preparation that materially figures in life's success, and our high and public schools are making extensive preparations to give every young man and woman a "chance in the race" at a very small outlay. There are very few high schools in the Province that passed as great a percentage as ours, and our public school is not second to any other. Watford offers many advantages to the young man or woman who is earnestly seeking an education.

Got Father Morrissey's "No. 10"

Just In Time To Save His Life.

Mr. Aylward's letter tells the story: Campbellton, N.B., Feb. 5, 1909. Father Morrissey Med. Co., During the winter of 1907, while travelling on the Gaspé Coast, I contracted a severe cold which settled upon my lungs. After I returned home I wrote to Father Morrissey explaining my case. I received a letter from him with a prescription for his medicine, which could not be filled at the time here. After one week's delay I received it, just in the nick of time to save my life. After one month's use I felt like a new man.

Yours truly,
Jno. Aylward.

The Old Story.

"I expected to pay back, as they all do when I started. I soon found that I couldn't do it." Sounds familiar, does it not? It is the age-old plaint of the embezzler, the absconder, the man unfaithful to his trust. Methods in their change, but the cry of the thief never. How much happier mankind would be if tempted men and women would stop and consider the irremedial error they were about to commit? The first step is easy; it is also easily avoided. Other steps follow, each increasingly easy. Then comes the awakening, the crash, arrest, and a prison cell. "I expected to pay back." There is tragedy in the words; suffering and disaster for the man, for his family, and his friends—but a lesson for this dollar-driven generation. For, "I soon found that I couldn't."
