Prospects for the Exhibition.

A week from this date the Annapolis and Kings Co. exhibition will be in full swing here.

The exhibition will be in full swing here. Present indications promise a show in fruit, vegetables, flowers and farm produce generally, that has never been surpassed in this province.

The exhibition will be opened at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, Oct. 6th, by the Hon. J. W. Longley.

Many other well known speakers interested in agriculture, politics, etc., will be in attendance, and give addresses.

Entries have simply poured in for the past week, and in the line of exhibits, at least, there is the assurance of a full house.

The committee has been fortunate in securing the band of Patten & Perry comedians to furnish music throughout the week.

The horse show will take place on the 7th and 8th. Meals will be served on the grounds at all hours, and accommodation will be provided in the town for all visitors.

A special train will leave the Bridgetown station at 10 o'clock Wednesday evening for Digby, and a train will leave at 10 on Thursday evening for Kentville.

The present indication is that the exhibition will be all that the committee claims it will be, "the best and cleanest of the century."

The following despatches may prove of interest to apple growers though the possibility remains that they may be somewhat exaggerated.

London, September 9.—The great opportunities for Canadian fruit growers are again shown by the statistics of fruit, especially of apples, in the London market.

The price is now 12 shillings per bushel, compared with 24 to 36 last year, and the price of ordinary eating apples is expected to rise to fourpence.

A cable from Nophard & Love, London, announces the sale of the whole shipment of apples which arrived from Nova Scotia by the steamer "Evangeline."

The apples sold extensively as follows: Gravenstein 19s to 25s; mixed Ribston Pippins, 22s to 27s.

In regard to the latter, Bridgetown shippers are now receiving reports and reports that are being somewhat lower than the above report.

The Consolidated Lake Superior Company, one of the offsprings of the recent era of prosperity and stock promotion, has been obliged to suspend operations, owing to inability to raise money.

The men, who have considerable arrears of pay due, have besieged the companies offices at the Soo, and an application has been sent to Ottawa for militia protection.

This enterprise was one of the most promising of those lately started in Canada, and it is regrettable that they should meet with difficulties like this so early in the career.

Our Canadian newspapers are congratulating themselves on the strength of the arguments made by Sir Robert Finlay and Mr. C. Robinson in support of Canada's contention in the Alaskan Boundary Arbitration.

In fact, by judge reports, Canada's chance of coming out a winner is quite as good as was the Shamrock's for winning the cup races a week before they commenced. We will not say the result will be the same, but wait.

To Poultry Exhibitors.

As the date of the Annapolis and Kings County exhibition approaches, it has been thought advisable to give the following directions and information through these columns to those who are to exhibit poultry.

Birds are to be shown in pairs, each pair in a coop 2 ft. 6 in. square by 2 ft. high. These coops should be made with solid bottom and their sides covered with either boards of cloth, ordinary lath or wire mesh.

The front of the coops should be covered with wire netting of about two inch mesh and provided with a door large enough to allow birds to be taken out for judging. Each coop must also be provided with vessels for food and water.

A tag should be affixed to each coop, stating the variety of bird and giving the entry number of the exhibitor, but not the exhibitor's name.

In the case of turkeys and geese, coops should be provided large enough to allow them to move about comfortably.

If birds are to appear to the best advantage in the show room, it is imperative that they should be in good, hard condition. Hence it is best not to feed any soft food to birds intended for the show for some days before they are to be sent. The birds should also be cooped up a few days before they are shown, in order that they may be accustomed to confinement. For restless, frightened birds move show well.

One great point in exhibiting poultry is to have the birds reach the show room perfectly clean.

White birds should be washed in water a little warmer than lukewarm, with pure white soap, then rinsed in water a little cooler, and carefully dried with clean cloths. Then put their coop in a warm place till they are thoroughly dry.

For some days before being sent to the show all birds should be kept in a coop with the floor well covered with short straw or plane shavings.

Just before being sent to the show the coops and wattles of the birds should be wiped with a cloth dampened with vinegar, and then dried. The legs and feet should be washed in the same way and then carefully rubbed with olive or some similar oil, and then dried.

The floor of the exhibition coop should be covered with two or three inches of clean straw or plane shavings.

Mr. Gilbert Bortoux, of Milford, N. H., formerly of this place, who has been visiting friends here, accompanied by Mr. C. F. Boehmer, went up on one of the range and succeeded in placing ten bulls' eyes at ten shots from 300 yds. with a seven inch bull's eye. We doubt if there are many who can follow the example set by Mr. Bortoux.

Mr. Boehmer put up at seven shots a minute six bulls' eyes out of a possible seven.

The exhibition committee particularly request that private householders who care to take lodgers during exhibition week will send in their names to Mr. Herman Young, returned to New York on Saturday.

An Unprejudiced Opinion Regarding Ogilvie's Flour.

I. R. Shaffner & Co., who are among the largest wholesale flour dealers of eastern Canada, in a recent letter to the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., said that their sales of Ogilvie's Flour have been larger this season than ever before and that from all parts of the province where sales have been made the results obtained have been most satisfactory.

Ogilvie's Flour is undoubtedly the best bread making flour in this market and people who care use it will have no other.
