

JOHN LABATT

LONDON, ONT.

Received the highest awards for purity and excellence at Philadelphia, 1876; Canada, 1876; Austria, 1877, and Paris, 1883. Rev. P. J. Ed. Page, Professor of Chemistry, Laval University, Que., says: "I have analyzed the India Pale Ale, manufactured by John Labatt, London, Ont., and have found it a light ale, containing but little alcohol, of a very agreeable taste and superior quality, and compares with the best imported ales. I have also analyzed the Porter XXX Stout of the same Brewery, which is of an excellent quality; its flavor is very agreeable. It is a tonic more energetic than the above Ale, for it is a little richer in alcohol, and can be compared advantageously with any imported article." James Good & Co., Agents, Toronto.

Imagine a lamp with all perfections — what will it be? A light like the incandescent electric, but four or five times stronger.

Controllable. A thumb-screw turns it up or down, a hundredth part of an inch if you please.

Without suspicion of smell, like sunshine, and moonlight.

It burns all night without touching; and all the care it requires every day is filling and dusting; once a week the char rubbed off the top of the wick, and once in six months a new wick put in.

A common servant, or even a child, can take care of it.

That is the "Pittsburgh." Send for a primer.
