

LAI D AT REST.

Impressive Funeral of the Late Archbishop Purcell—Solemn Ceremonies—Eloquent Eulogy of the Deceased by Bishop Gilmour—Manifestations of Grief.

CHICAGO, Ohio, July 13.—At half-past seven o'clock yesterday morning people who had been provided with tickets began to crowd around the Cathedral gates to gain admission to the funeral services of the late Archbishop Purcell.

The interior of the Cathedral presented an imposing and solemn appearance, and the weather was fair and cool. Every preparation for the ceremonies was complete.

Seven archbishops, seventeen bishops and about two hundred priests were present. The first mentioned were archbishops Corrigan, Longhlin, of Brooklyn; Williams, of Boston; Feehan, of Chicago; Gibbons, of Baltimore; Heagy, of Milwaukee, and Elder, late coadjutor and now Archbishop elect of Cincinnati.

At half-past nine o'clock the bishops and clergy were in the sanctuary and the bell tolled the first notes of the ceremonies upon a profoundly silent audience.

At eleven o'clock Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, ascended the chair and delivered the sermon. He referred to the following words: "This outpouring of people, this gathering of mixed heads and consecrated hearts, this weeping of orphans and grief-stricken mothers, all have gathered around his body, brought us here—a bishop is dead, a high priest has gone to his reward, a diocese weeps."

After reviewing the dead Bishop's character and speaking of how he found the diocese with 100,000 communicants and 6,000 seminarians, and died leaving it with 480 priests, 500 churches, 500,000 communicants and numerous religious institutions, schools and colleges—all his work the blessed deity to the financial cloud that shadowed the life of the deceased.

A procession of Catholic societies without music and with folded banners draped with the colors of the flag, escorted the corpse to the train, followed by tens of thousands of people.

GLADSTONE AND THE LAND ACT.

Panic Among the Radicals—Fears of an "Unholy Alliance" of the Irish Nationalists with the Tories—The Union of the Orange and Green—The Farnell Testimonial.

GLADSTONE'S ADMIRATION. Gladstone's pronouncement last night in the House of Commons to the effect that the Land Act required amendment concedes the re-opening of the Land question as the first fruits of the Monaghan victory.

JUSTICE TO LEASOLDERS. Gladstone's declaration may be regarded as a pledge that action will be taken by the Government, by which the benefits of the Land Act will be extended to the leaseholders.

ORANGE AND GREEN UNITING. The landlords are alarmed at the rapid growth of Land League views among the Protestant farmers. The voting in Monaghan proves that even the rabid Orange party is breaking up.

REDMOND FOR WEXFORD. The brother of Mr. John E. Redmond, who was for New Ross, has been nominated for the borough of Wexford, at the request of the Irish of Australia.

HAID ON THE ORANGEMEN.

The St. Thomas, Ont., Daily Times, in speaking of the Orange celebration on the 12th inst., at Hagersville, Ont., says:—Conspicuous was a lodge of Six Nation Indians under Chiefs Johnson and Smith.

THAMES, July 10.—The sentence of Edward Harrington, publisher of the Kerry Sentinel, for printing a notice inviting the people to join the Invincibles, was confirmed today.

LONDON, July 10.—The report of the committee of the House of Lords which had the Irish Land Act under consideration, finds that the emigration clauses of the Act have failed; that the modes of valuation of land are unreliable, the decisions of the commissioners have not been uniform, and the work so far accomplished by them convinces the committee that to look for any improvement in the condition of the tenant from any effort of the Commission is hopeless.

In the House of Commons to-night Mr. Chaplin (Conservative) moved that in view of the prevalence of foot and mouth disease the importation of live cattle should not in future be permitted from countries whose preventive laws or the sanitary condition of whose cattle did not afford reasonable security against the extension of the disease.

LONDON, July 11.—In reply to Sir Stafford Northcote in the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Gladstone stated that when the French forces occupied Tamatave, Admiral Piere proclaimed a state of siege.

At the conclusion of his Grace's address, a collection took place, and in a very brief period, £700 was subscribed. Father Ryan having thanked the Archbishop, the clergy, and the people for their donations, Mr. A. C. Wallace, Town Clerk of Limerick, read an address to the Archbishop from the corporation, to which His Grace replied as follows:—I receive your very beautiful address with unfeigned pleasure, and pray you to accept in return the expression of my lasting gratitude and thankfulness.
