

"It is pre-ordained that nations, like individuals, shall struggle for existence; and a beneficent Providence has so ordered that out of the struggle shall come strength and greatness."