AUCTION SALES

MONDAY,
August 11Sales
Commencing
at 11 a.m.Thursday,
August 14

Horses of all classes will be on hand for next week's sales. The choice selection of all classes will pass under the hammer in large numbers at our sales, and we can therefore assure a prospective buyer of any class that he can be suited quicker, safer, and to his own greater advantage here than elsewhere. If you are in the market for Heavy Drafters, Expressers, Wagon Horses or Drivers, do not fail to look over our stock.

SPECIAL SALE ON WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 3

OF

Imported Registered Clydesdale
Filles and Stallions

This is the importation of the well-known horseman, Mr. Isaac Williamson, whose sales in previous years have been conducted by us to the satisfaction of Ontario farmers and breeders. When we say that this lot is superior to any previous shipment, we are not saying too much. They are the filles which Mr. Williamson elected to purchase after several months' traveling through the breeding country of the Clydesdale in Scotland. They are all of good size and conformation, and possess the most fashionable breeding obtainable. Superb individual merit is one of the outstanding characteristics of Mr. Williamson's offerings.

The consignment includes 20 Registered Filles, 1 Registered Stallion, and 3 Registered Imported Shetland Ponies. Let us have your name and address early for a catalogue giving details of breeding.

WE SELL STRICTLY ON COMMISSION

All horses sold with a warranty are returnable by noon the day following day of sale if not as represented.

Our stock of First and Second-hand Harness, Saddled Wagons, Carriages, Broughams, Victoria, etc., can be seen at any time.

Forest Insect Ravages Stopped

By a prompt campaign against a flourishing colony of bark beetles in the Ochoco national forest in central Oregon, the government is eliminating a danger which threatened to destroy millions of feet of timber. Some authorities claim that the amount of timber killed each year by insects is equalled only by the annual loss from forest fires. Among the most destructive of these insect enemies are the bark beetles, one of which, the mountain pine beetle, is responsible for most of the damage in the Ochoco forest. This deadly little beetle is less than a quarter of an inch in length, but bears the ponderous name of "Dendroctonus monilicornis Hopk." which, being interpreted, signifies killer of the mountain pine tree, discovered by Hopkings.

Its methods of operation are interesting. The mature beetle bores thru the bark of the tree and excavates a gallery in the inner living bark and in this growing portion of the trunk, feeding upon the inner bark. When full grown the larva, after passing thru a dormant, or pupal stage, becomes a beetle. This beetle then drills out thru the bark in July, and emerging into the world, seeks a fresh tree and starts a new generation. With this "chain-letter" method, it soon infests a large area. The galleries or channels of the larvae girdle the tree and kill it, and the beetle's presence is usually discovered, as it was in the Ochoco forest, by a patch of red-brown dead pine trees in the midst of a mountainside of green.

In fighting this forest scourge, the method recommended by the bureau of entomology is followed. The simple removal of the bark of infested trees between October and July, while the larvae are still in the tree, is sufficient to kill them. The lumber may then be sold while it is yet sound. On the Ochoco forest, however, there was no market, and the forest officers found that the cheaper and more effective method of control was to cut the trees and burn them before the new broods of beetles could emerge. In 1912 the infestation was given a decided check by the cutting of 2500 trees. This summer the work on the insects was resumed with renewed vigor, and 42 laborers, in charge of a forest of over 10,000 trees. As a result of these vigorous measures, the government apparently has the beetles under control.

An organization of scientists who are engaged in the study of forest insects has recently been formed in Washington.

CAPER SAUCE WINS FROM GOOD FIELD

Small's Strenuous Riding Gets Mintz's Horse Home in Front of Rock Springs.

PORT ERIE, Aug. 8.—After trailing the field until well into the stretch, old Caper Sauce moved up quickly and won the second race, a handicap for Canadian-bred horses, in a drive from Rock Springs. Rustling beat out Marcovil for the third money. Gun Cotton, the odd-on favorite for the Grand Canadian Steeplechase Handicap, galloped home many lengths in front of Luckola, the only other starter. Luckola led for two turns of the track, but when she saw the chance of winning the event when she ran out, allowing Gun Cotton to come on and win, she was up and running.

FIRST RACE—Purse $500, maiden two-year-olds, 5 furlongs: 1. Fathom, 118 (Fairbrother), 9 to 2, 3 to 2, 3 to 5. 2. Just Y., 112 (Small), even, 1 to 2, 1 to 4. 3.
