

HARVEST WEATHER IS CHIEF TOPIC

Wheat Prices Down — Prospect of Wet Harvest Was an Influence.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Wheat prices slid downward today, influenced by the fact that Kansas and Oklahoma had secured a wet harvest. The close, although steady, was 40 to 50 cents lower. Corn showed a decline of 1/2 to 3/4 c. oats finished 1/2 c. off to 1/2 c. up, and provisions at an advance of 1/2 to 3/4 c.

Interest of wheat speculators appeared to converge chiefly on the weather in the southwest, where rain had threatened to spoil the prospect for a record yield. The dampness, however, meant a rise in the northern part of Kansas and missed almost entirely the region in which the cutting and threshing of wheat is going on. The resulting setback in the market left no serious hindrance at any time during the season.

Successful progress of the harvest compelled traders to ignore a heavy decrease in Chicago stocks and in the domestic supply. Offers of new wheat from territory near Chicago have been decidedly plentiful, and it was regarded as virtually assured that harvest would be good. The outlook was good, despite the damage wrought in many places by heavy rain. The outlook was good, despite the damage wrought in many places by heavy rain. The outlook was good, despite the damage wrought in many places by heavy rain.

First prices had risen on account of unfavorable weather in Argentina and because of reports, afterwards denied, that Argentina crops arriving in Galicia were out of condition. A liberal decrease in the visible supply tended to encourage the bulls, and so also did complete moisture in districts which had recently completed the harvest.

Oats held relatively firm. It was said that to a large extent rains had arrived on time to benefit the crop. Provisions advanced with hogs, and in consequence of the greater part of the day, but on the bulk packers disposed freely of ribs.
