

INDEX

- AIX - LA - CHAPELLE, Congress of, Memorial from the Russian Gov. ernment to, 104, 143
 Alexander the Great, Napoleon's admiration for, 200
 Alison, his opinion of Sir Hudson Lowe quoted, 68
 Alvinay, Napoleon's opinion of, 194
 Annual Register, The, Napoleon suggests that Gourgaud shall translate, 49
 Antommarchi, his narrative of little value, 23, 27
 — treated Napoleon's illness as trifling, 24
 — leaves and resumes Napoleon's service, 25
 — his services repelled by Napoleon, 26
 — took a cast of Napoleon's face, 27
 Austria, Napoleon attributed his fall to, 192
 BALCOMBS, Miss, Napoleon's acquaint- ance with, 133
 Balmain, Count of, his reports of Gourgaud's revelations, 39
 — his opinion of Sir Hudson Lowe, 69
 — his character described, 142
 — his marriage with Sir Hudson Lowe's step-daughter, 143
 Butburst, Lord, his orders as to Napoleon's treatment, 118
 — his letter on Napoleon's illness, 121
 Beaconsfield, Lord, why he wrote Count Alarcos, 222
 Bertrand, his devotion to Napoleon, 124
 — the object of Lowe's hatred, 124
 Bertrand, Madame, 124
 Banbury, his description of Napo- leon's appearance, 254
 CAMPBELL, Sir Neil, 81
 Chaptal observes the failing energy of Napoleon, 106
 Châtillon, Congress of, 80
 Christianity, Napoleon's objection to, 149
 Clavering, Lady, Napoleon's "Letters from the Cape" addressed to, 29
 Cockburn, Admiral, his treatment of Napoleon, 63
 Corneille, the favourite author of Napoleon, 158
 Corsica, Napoleon's connection with, 183
 Cromwell, Napoleon's remarks on the analogies between himself and, 179
 DESAIX, Napoleon's opinion of his ability as general, 193
 Drouot, his testimony as to Napoleon's disposition, 48
 Dumouriez, Napoleon's opinion of his ability as general, 193
 Duroc, his intimacy with Napoleon, 249
 "Duroc, Baron," one of the names proposed to be assumed by Napoleon, 90
 EGYPT, Napoleon regrets having left, 198
 — regarded by Napoleon as the key to India, 199
 Elba, Napoleon regrets, 194
 English, Duc d', the affair of, 13
 English History, Napoleon's remarks on, 179
 FONTAINEBLEAU, Treaty of, broken by the Allies, 87
 Forayth, his book on the captivity of Napoleon, 76
 Fouché, his intrigues against Napo- leon, 108