such a cereme y continued to be printed in the Prayer Book tol 1719.

e

Ì-

•--

e

f r

-1

5

There have, ever since the fight of James II. in 1688, been many, and there are still some, who look upon that king and his descendants as the true monarchs of England. Some still on the anniversary of the execution of Charles I. decorate with flowers his statue at Trafalgar square; and some aeknowledge only a Continental princess as their queen, Marie Thérèse, wife of Louis of Bavaria.* It is said that "Table showing the succession to the crown of Great Britain and Ireland according to Jacobite principles.

Charles I. (1600-1649)

Ilenrietta (1644—1670)= Philip I., Duke of Orléans (1640-1701)

Anne Marie (1669-1728)= Victor Amadeus II., King of Sardinia (1666-1732)

> Charles Emmanuel III. King of Sardinia (1701-1773)

> Victor Amadeus III. King of Sardinia (1726-17.3)

Victor Emmanuel I. King of Sardinia (1759-1824)

Marie Beatrice (c. 1780 - 1840)= Francis IV., Duke of Modena (1779-1846)

Ferdinand (1821-I849)

Marie Thérèse (b. 1849)= Louis, Prince of Bararia (b. 1845)

Rupert, Pr	ince	Charles	Francis
of Bavaria (b	. 1869)	(b. 1874)	(b. 1875)
	 Albert b. 1905)	Rudolph (b. 1909) 3

Ø