SEVERE FIGHTING AT MANILA

Spaniards Attacked American Troops and a Hot Battle Followed.

Americans Lost 11 Killed and 37 Wounded - Spaniards Made a Concerted Attack and Were Repulsed—California and Pennsylvania Volunteers Were the U.S. Troops Principally Engaged.

London, Aug. 9.—A despatch from Hong Kong says: The German steamer Petrarch, which left Manila on Aug. 6, has arrived here and reports that the Spanish forces attacked the American camp at Malate on the night of July 31. The Spaniards were over 8000 strong. They charged the American lines several times. The American fire broke the Spanish centre and they retreated. The Spanish forces made a second charge on the Americans, but again retreated to the bushes, keeping up an incessant fire on the road. Eleven Americans were killed and 37 wounded. The Spanish losses are reported to be great. The rebels remain neutral.

Another Account.
 San Francisco, Aug. 9.—A special to The Examiner from Manila, dated July 31, via Hong Kong, Aug. 8, says: A heavy engagement took place to-night between the Americans and Spaniards at Malate. The Spaniards made an attack, attempting to turn our right. After an hour's fighting they were repulsed. The troops engaged were: First Battalion California Volunteers, Tenth Pennsylvania, First Battery, Third Artillery Regulars, and Battery A, Utah. Our loss was 9 killed and 44 wounded. The Spanish loss was upward of 300 killed and 800 wounded. Our volunteers made a glorious defence against upwards of 3000 of an attacking force. The battle raged for three hours.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

Spaniards Made a Concerted Sortie on Camp Dewey.
 New York, Aug. 9.—The Evening World publishes a copyrighted despatch giving details of the recent fighting at Manila. The despatch follows:
 Manila Bay, Aug. 4, by steamship, via Hong Kong, Aug. 9.—The soil of the Philippines has been drenched with American blood. On the night of July 31, at 11 o'clock, the Spaniards made a concerted sortie from Manila city on the outposts and trenches of Camp Dewey, near Malate, General Green commanding.
 The attack was directed at the American right flank. Held by the Tenth Pennsylvania, the Tenth California, and the Tenth Utah. Two men were killed in the trenches and picket lines and 44 wounded. The British Admiral reports the Spanish loss to be 800 killed and 900 wounded. Malate is located half way between Cavite and Manila city. General Green's force numbers 4000 men. His line has been advancing and retreating. The arrival of the third expedition filled the Spaniards with rage, and they determined to give battle before Camp Dewey could be retaken. The trenches extended from the beach, 300 yards to the left flank of the Tenth Pennsylvania. The Spaniards left the American right flank exposed.

Pennsylvania Troops Engaged.
 Companies A and B of the Tenth Pennsylvania and the Utah Battery were ordered to reinforce the right flank. In the midst of a raging typhoon, with a tremendous downpour of rain, the enemy's force, estimated at 3000 men, attempted to

UNDER TWO FLAGS.
 Chicago Times.
 To pass within a few minutes' space from a glad city, beneath the Stars and Stripes, to a gloomy one, over which the Union Jack waves; to go from a palpitating, impulsive nation, hungry for the news of battle, to a languid, listless, and unexcited people, to feel and know this difference in the essential things of patriotic creed, yet to hear the same language, behind the same racial types, and to perceive no geographical division, this is to gaze upon the spectacle of a nation divided from the United States into Canada.

surprise the camp. Our pickets were driven in and the trenches assaulted. The brave Pennsylvania men never flinched, but stood their ground under a withering fire. The alarm spread and the First California Regiment, with two companies of the Third Artillery, who fight with rifles, were sent up to reinforce the Pennsylvanians. The enemy were on top of the trenches when these reinforcements arrived, and never was the discipline of the regulars better demonstrated than by the work of the Third Artillery under Capt. O'Hara.

Trenches Filled With Dead.
 Nothing could be seen but flashes of Manner rifles. Men ran right up to the attacking Spaniards and mowed them down with regular volleys. The Utah Battery, under Capt. Young, covered itself with glory. The men pulled their guns through mud axle deep. Two guns were sent around in flank and poured in a desecrating raking fire. The enemy was repulsed and retreated in disorder. Our infantry had exhausted its ammunition and did not follow the enemy.

Not an inch of ground was lost, but the scene in the trenches was one never to be forgotten. During flashes of lightning the dead and wounded could be seen lying in blood-red water, but neither the elements of horror, nor the destructive power of human could bring a cry of protest from the wounded. They encouraged their comrades to fight and handed over their cartridges to them.

During the night the Spanish scouts were carrying off dead and wounded of the enemy. The medical dead were buried, and the wounded were taken to the convent of Marabang. On the night of Aug. 1 the fighting was renewed, but the enemy had been taught a lesson and made the attack at long range with heavy artillery. The Utah Battery repulsed and made the attack at long range. One American was killed and two men were wounded.

On the night of Aug. 2 the artillery duel was renewed. Two men were badly wounded, bringing the total dead to 13, with 10 in the hospital mortally hurt.

Gen. Green Thanks the Troops.

General Green issued this to the troops: "Camp Dewey, near Manila.—The Brigadier-General commanding desires to thank the troops engaged last night for gallantry and skill displayed by them in repelling such a vigorous attack by largely superior forces of Spaniards. Not an inch of ground was yielded by the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry and Utah Artillery stationed in the trenches. A battalion of the Third Artillery and First Regiment California Infantry moved forward to their support through a falling rain, and with the utmost intrepidity. The courage and readiness shown by all in their first engagement is worthy of the highest commendation."

Manila to Be Taken.
 The United States monitor Monterey arrived here to-day. Manila will fall as soon as the monitor Monadnock comes here. She is expected by next Thursday.
 Admiral Dewey's ships are stripping for a vigorous attack by largely superior forces of Spaniards. THE BURDEN OF FLESH.
 How to Reduce the Too Solid Mountain of Extra Weight.
 Flesh is a burden this weather, and it is little wonder that requests for ways to make stout women this age prevalent. The authority of the best physicians in the country, superfluous flesh will disappear by the magic of diet-diet, mind and strictly abstemious habits. The period and not followed by spasms. In one day's free eating all that you have labored two or three weeks to accomplish can be undone, and then you will lose faith in your cure. A thinning diet does not mean one without nourishment, but without stuffing. Food should be of good quality, one where variety is considered and quality is first-class; it should be largely composed of meat and fish, a limited number of vegetables and fruit.

Fancy Dress Ball Libel.
 Mr. Patrick McCaughan, one of the most prominent Australian squatter kings, has just been awarded 5 damages in an amusing libel action against The Melbourne Argus. The plaintiff attended a fancy dress ball, given by Lord Brassey at Government House, in the character of La Fayette, and the paper referred to him in verses of which the following is a sample:
 An' Ceres fed him he loomed up near,
 An' Hebe declined to stay.
 An' pretty Minerva, wid him an' spear,
 Grew faint while he came her way.
 They tried to escape the threatening
 The mountain of moving brown:
 For they knew, I'll bet, though 'twas
 Libel, they were not to be
 That 'twas also Pat McCaughan,
 And while at the banquet
 You towered o'er great an' small,
 Did you feel as big as you looked that night?
 I think so, Pat McCaughan,

A New Way With Bankers.
 Wife—"By the way, Clive, I had a letter from my banker while you were away. He said he had overruled my account. My Husband—Yes, dear; and what did you do?
 Wife—"I told him not to be so rude again; and I sent him a cheque for the amount!"
 Punch.

hills, held both Houses at a steady posture. The Conservatives in opposition vigorously opposing an enormous grant of gold lands in the Yukon to a firm of contractors for the construction of a line of railway into the gold fields. The nearness of country to country was, however, vividly demonstrated the fact that even the present war broke out both sides of the House seemed more interested in the conflict than in the political questions before Parliament. The excitement soon dwindled to an attenuated thread. Since then the pendulum has swung around once more, and the old issues are blossoming topics, while the war elicits only that stolid interest which accrues from the contiguity of colonial nations, where friends are mutual, and sad hearts are in both countries when the list of killed and wounded is read.

The Aberdeens are leaving Canada soon, and the people of Ottawa will experience the social excitement which every day brings them to becoming a new governor and his suite to Rideau Hall. The first year of a new Governor-General is always a very gay one. Let us hope that the "royalty" is largely increased by his ability to entertain. Yet in spite of their wealth, their hospitality and their social position, the Lord and Lady Aberdeen have never been so popular in Canada as they would seem to have deserved. Perhaps they are too democratic in their views on "royalty" to be represented in a very royal way; or perhaps too progressive along certain sociologic lines, for in Canada the "platinum crown" is not in honor, and the surfrage is unwaveringly in the hands of one sex. Or perhaps it is that there is a sure inclination to befriend the "royalty" in all their wives, Lord and Lady Dufferin have been the only ones to meet with approval—absolute from all sorts and conditions of men. The Princess Louise, Queen's daughter though she was, was cordially disliked, the Marquis of Lorne respectively hated. Yet he is a fine fellow, and never a Governor-General there has been distinguished for his merits. It is a high diplomatic office, but it must have its drawbacks, even to the most adventurous.

The Aberdeens have done an enormous amount of good in the Dominion, both by charity and by kindly influence. But Canadians are not at any time given to slanders or paper-pain, and the sturdy Scotch and English stock which has peopled many of the provinces will not admit poverty if it has it. To be poor is no disgrace, to own it and accept of it is degradation, so their creed runs. And it is a good creed, albeit one apt to make believers turn savage and snarl at "Ladies' Bonifant!"

"I should love to go visiting in Canada," says a tired wanderer, "if the people there ever went to bed."
 "They never go to bed and they never get up," commented a Hibernian who had been there.
 Something must be wrong with the old world of late, for the high wind and heavy rain, for the first at least these Canadians are, and they rarely go to bed much before midnight, nor breakfast much before 9. It is an old custom handed down and comfortably enjoyed. The 9.30 p.m. bedtime of American domesticity is there unobscured, and the 9.30 p.m. bedtime of the old world is there unobscured. I feel splendid this morning. I got up early and had a good sleep. I feel splendid this morning. I got up early and had a good sleep. I feel splendid this morning. I got up early and had a good sleep.
