One hears most favorable comment on the success of the Russel concert in Association Hall, Hamilton, on the evening of the 4th inst. Mr. Charles Russel, cellist, director of the concert, won golden praises from the people. He was ably assisted by Miss Henriette Weber, who proved herself a most accomplished pianist. The singing of Mrs. Frank Mackelcan, the popular contraito, proved, as ever, a delight to all. The concert was under the patronage of His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. Hendrie, and conditions were largely helped in the use of the new Concert Grand Piamo of the old firm of Heintzman & Co. This is a very magnificent instrument; and elicited warmest praises, as Miss Henriette Weber herself has said, for its "excellent workmanship—evidenced in the even and well-balanced action, with a powerful and sympathetic tone." Mr. Russel said of the instrument: "It made possible a perfect and sympathetic ensemble with the cello; both in regard to tone coloring and dynamic gradations."

Several hundred of these lots were sold at tax sales.
