FIVE HUNDRED CHINESE DIE IN A HONG-KONG THEATER FIRE

Victoria, B. C., June 29.—A horrible holocaust is reported in mail advices from Hong Kong, where 500 Chinese of the audience of a Chinese theater, and 10 of the actors were burned to death when the native theater was destroyed by fire.

The flames spread rapidly and the building collapsed, blocking the entrance with burning debris.

The origin of the fire is said to have been due to the igniting of the explosives concealed under the floor of the theater.

SECURE A UNION DEPOT FOR CITY

Mr. F. E. Leonard Says Citizen Should Use Endeavors in That Direction.

Mr. F. E. Leonard, at the meeting of the board of trade on Friday, dealt with railway improvement in London in a short but pithy speech.

Mr. Leonard declared that the city should look to the future, and that now when the Grand Trunk may be expected to erect very shortly a new depot in London, the citizens should use their best endeavors to secure for London a union depot which would be an architectural attraction, and would furnish accommodation for all the railways entering London.

Mr. Leonard expressed the opinion that if the city puts it shoulder to the wheel this end can be accomplished. "We should not look ahead five years or ten years or twenty years," he said, "but we should look far into the future and endeavor to secure a building which will furnish ample accommodation for all the railways entering London for years to come, and which will do away with several depots now in this city."

THE HOLIDAY EXODUS

"It is remarkable how many people leave their own country to take a trip to the other side on big Canadian holidays," remarked a local ticket agent on Saturday. "And especially is this so around Dominion Day. We are as busy as we can be selling tickets to Detroit, Buffalo and other American cities just now and have been for several days."

In all of the local ticket offices the same conditions prevailed, and if one were to judge by the number of tickets being sold one would wonder if there were going to be any Londoners left in the city by Monday.

A large number of the travelers, too, are going to Toronto to spend the big day, but the bulk of the tickets sold are for Detroit.

"Of course," said one ticket agent, "we are glad to get the business, but I can't help wondering just why Canadians should be so particularly anxious to leave Canada on national holidays. It is seldom that the Americans come to this side on July 4 or any other holiday, and why our people should run across the line on every opportunity is something I can't understand."

Do These Symptoms Fit Your Case?

Are you dizzy?
Does your head swim?
Does everything turn dark when you rise after stooping?
Are you constantly suffering from headache?
Are you short of breath after going upstairs?
Is your tongue coated and furred?
These symptoms give warning that your system needs a thorough cleansing—all poisons must be flushed out. The remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Marked benefit immediately follows their use.

These famous pills loosen the bowels and stop constipation; they act on the liver and kidneys, make them strong and vigorous.

This insures health and purity for the blood and consequently the whole system benefits.

No other medicine tones and braces like Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they at once cure biliousness, headache, dizziness, poor color, coated tongue and all diseases arising through fault of the stomach, kidneys or liver; try them.

Result prove the merits of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box or five boxes for $1, at all dealers in medicine.

PROMINENT FIGURE IN 'VARSITY LIFE

MISS EDITH BRENT WINS GOLD MEDAL

Sketch of Dr. A. B. Macallum, Professor of Physiology, and Native of Middlesex.

Declared Best Pianist in London Conservatory of Music Competition.

The Toronto News of Thursday contains the following sketch of Dr. A. B. Macallum, professor of physiology in Toronto University, and brother of Dr. H. A. Macallum, of Queen's avenue:

Dr. A. B. Macallum, professor of physiology in the University of Toronto, is one of the most impressive and picturesque figures in Canadian university life. Students delight to honor him, both because he stands for learning, research and the work of a university, and because they know that he has brought honor to his university and to his own name wherever science is greatly valued. Last year, on the day his appearance on the platform was greeted with quick, unanimous applause. What the students' clapping meant was: "This is a man known all over the world. He has reached the level of great work, and he is our own."

Has Won Many Honors.

Prof. Macallum has won many honors. About a year ago he received that very rare distinction for a Canadian of being made a Fellow of the Royal Society. Yesterday Yale conferred on him a D.Sc. honoris causa. These honors have come, not because of any particular official position which Prof. Macallum occupies, but as an acknowledgment of his work. Few better things can be said of the character of a man's labor than that those who are able to judge honor it because of its intrinsic worth. Prof. Macallum has frequently represented the University of Toronto in other countries. He was at the Quattro-Centenary of Aberdeen University last year. Two things are always certain on these occasions. He will be noted as a man of outstanding ability in any scientific assembly, and he will bring back with him new treasures of scientific spirit and scientific information. His lectures are one of the great attractions for scientific students in Toronto University.

A Native Canadian.

Dr. Macallum is a native Canadian. He was born near London, Ont., in 1868, of Westminister township, midway between Belmont and Glanworth, not yet fifty years ago. His life has been mainly directed with Canadian aims and objects. He was for a short time a public school teacher. His work has been built up as a Canadian. Both his waiting power and his working power are enormous. He believes in making things happen as he wants them to happen. He has many chances to go to other alluring fields, but the bent of his mind is for continuity of work. The tree that bears the fruit of scientific research, he believed, would flourish best for him on Canadian soil. Besides Canada, the country he wanted to work for was the world. He has been through a great part of the research spirit has come to its own in Canada—as far as that has happened. He has been by means of his personality that scientists abroad have sometimes formed their conceptions of the typical Canadian university man. No doubt when Canada is named in the presence of one of these distinguished scientists, the world says, if he thought about "Oh, yes, I know the country and the people very well." Then he would at once call up a mental picture of a land of magnificent distances, with men of a magnificent height, riding along with heads bent like a scholar's, with soft voices, and eyes glancing up kindly and with a remarkable tenacity in following scientific truth. "Certainly, Macallum and Canada," the scientist would remark, well satisfied, "denotation of a cell nucleus, organic compounds of iron, a very tall man and a remarkable mind; interesting country Canada must be."

Earnest in His Work.

But, perhaps, it is his earnestness in work that makes Prof. Macallum most influential with his students. The pale brown eyes, the medical building on the east side of the university campus is that part of outward and visible university life with which his work and influence are especially identified. There his students are taught to think scientifically, and there a great part of his own thinking must be carried on. His power is essential in the building of a greater university; and Toronto claims him as one of her notable citizens.

The young Duke of Zarazoga, besides being a grandee of Spain, is a young man with ideas that look frolicsome on the surface. Twice a week he may be seen driving the express train from Madrid to the French frontier. When the duty first expressed his wish to be appointed driver of one of the trains running from Madrid to Irun he naturally much astonished the members of the committee of the North Spanish Railroad, most of whom are noblemen and personally acquainted with him. The application was at first thought to be a hoax, but on the Duke of Zarazoga insisting he was put through an examination, in which he proved to be a skillful driver. He dresses as a common driver and lives the same kind of life as his working comrades, with no regard to his title or his wealth.

A PILL FOR GENEROUS EATERS.—There are many persons of healthy appetite and good digestion who, after a hearty meal, are subject to indigestion. The food of which they have partaken lies like a smothering blanket on the stomach. It is afflicted with indigestion or dyspepsia. In this condition Parke's Vegetable Pills will bring relief. They will assist the assimilation of the aliment, will assist according to directions will restore healthy digestion.

Illinois alone is credited with 29 colleges and universities; Indiana boasts of 14 and Wisconsin 10. All told, the United States in already provided with over 450 such institutions.

The competition for the Barron gold medal presented to the most successful competitor at a public piano recital of pupils of the London Conservatory of Music, Dundas street, and presented by Mr. W. Caven Barron, piano teacher and principal of the above-named institution, was held Friday evening at the Masonic Temple Hall. The pupils who tried were young ladies who successfully passed their examinations at the London Conservatory of Music a few days ago. One lady understood the value of such an examination when it is known that the celebrated Swiss pianist, Mr. Rudolph Ganz, who played two years ago with the Thomas Orchestra in London, and who is equal to Paderewski as a virtuoso, was brought to London especially to examine the L. C. M. pupils, thus keeping up the high ideal for good work that has ever been the aim of that institution, and to give the graduates the highest possible testimonial for their pianistic abilities, by having Mr. Ganz's signature to their diplomas. In passing might be mentioned Mr. Ganz is to be the examiner for next year.

The competition was a great success in every way. The young ladies acquitted themselves, both musically and technically, in such an artistic manner that Mr. Barron's prestige as a piano teacher has been enlarged considerably. Miss Gertrude Shortall played the Scherzo Op. 36 (Chopin), and the Rigoleto fantasie (Verdi-Liszt); Miss Jessie Dewar (Kerich), Etude Op. No. 4, and the fantasie of Chopin; Miss Edith Brent, Theme Varié Op. 16 (Paderewski), and Gnomemorgen (Liszt); and Miss Grace Maxwell (St. Marys), the Nocturne Op. 21, No. 5, and sonata of 2 (Beethoven).

The judges were Mr. Otto James, F. R. C. O., London, England; and Mr. Thomas Mitchell, and as the markings were so close for each of the fair competitors, and only one medal to be given, a stern decision had to be made. The medal was given to Miss Edith Brent.

Mr. Barron, in speaking of the decision, said he thought all should have had the medal, for they all have their own charming individualities in their work. Miss Jessie Dewar, who took the highest mark at the examination, was made winner of the scholarship by Mr. Ganz, a scholarship that is annually presented by the Heintzman & Co. piano manufacturers, to the pupils of Mr. Barron, and which is largely sought after by them for its value.

This recital closes the most successful year in the history of the conservatory. The young ladies were deluged with roses by their friends, and the most enthusiastic applause followed their every effort. The judges addressed a few remarks, eulogizing the excellent work done, and standard arrived at by the staff of the conservatory.
