MOTHERS EXPRESS THANKS FOR CARE OF CHILDREN AT CRECHE

Christmas Treats Are Received With Greatest Gratitude.

Ziegler and her small son returned from England but a few weeks ago, after a pleasant visit with her parents there.

On Wednesday evening Superintendent Thomas Hodkinson of the city waterworks department was pleasantly surprised by his staff, when they called at his home and presented him with a beautiful diamond and onyx tiepin. The presentation was made by Mr. R. Hanson on behalf of the staff, who thanked Mr. Hodkinson for all the kindness shown by him to them during the past year. The superintendent replied, thanking the men for their loyalty and support.

Yesterday one of the mothers whose children attending that institution telephoned to The Advertiser and asked to the ditor would not express the thanks of all the mothers for the excellent care which their children have received at the Day Nursery. This mother made special mention of Miss mothers wished to thank her publicly for her efforts in arranging Christmas treats for the children and for her care of them during the six months since they have been attending that institution.

A very pretty tribute was paid Miss MacDonald house mother at the King street Y. W. C. A., on Friday last. It was the occasion of her birthday, and the girls of the house, who have become very fond of her, entertained her at dinner at Wong's Cafe and to a theatre party afterwards. Miss MacDonald was further convinced of the good feeling of the girls of the house on Monday last, when both she and Mrs. Mitchell, who is head of the cafeteria, were presented with Christmas gifts by the girls. WOMEN'S MEETING IN SUPPORT OF CITIZENS' by the girls.

On Wednesday evening the Y. W. C. A. residence on Wellington street was the scene of a delightful Christmas dinner party, when Miss Sutherland, who is head of the residence, entertained for the girls. Not only were the tables prettily decked with fern and holly and red candles, but the large reception rooms and hall were gay with evergreens and bright Christmas bells. Covers were laid for 46, for besides the girls there were several guests of honor, including Mrs. C. B. King, president of of the Y. W. C. A. board, Mrs. Archibald Graham, Mrs. Alexander Henderson and Miss J. Elliott. A pretty feature of the banquet was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of Richmonl roses to Miss Sutherland by Miss Katharine Bond on behalf of the girls of the house.

Interesting toasts by the board members, and some of the girls brought this most beautiful function to a close. Among the girl speakers were Miss Manson, Miss Grassick, Miss Stevenson and Miss Jackson.

DEAN—JOHNSTON. A small meeting of representative women of the city was held vesterday afternoon in the citizens' committee rooms, Struthers building, for the purpose of forming an auxiliary to the citizens' committee, for the support of a citizen's candidate for the office of mayor. As a result of this meeting, over which A. E. Silverwood presided, a large meeting of women has been called for 4 o'clock, Monday afternoon, in the same committee rooms. The executives of all the women's organizations in the city are to be got in touch with and urged to attend this meeting for the purpose of organizing a women's DEAN—JOHNSTON.

Londoners will be interested in the marriage of a Western "U" gra luate of the year 1910, which took place in Chalmers Presbyterian Church, Toronto, on Tuesday evening, December 21, when Edith Faye, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Johnston of North Toronto, became the bride of Mr. Allison Dean of Calgary, Alta. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Oake of Brantford, a friend of the family. for the purpose of organizing a women's auxiliary in support of a citizens' candidate for mayor.

The time draws near the birth of Christ; The moon is hid; the night is still; The Christmas bells from hill to Answer each other in the mist. —Tennyson.

Oake of Brantford, a friend of the family.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly gowned in ivory duchess satin, with tunic of lace, embroidered in pear's. A court train fell from the shoulders beneath a filmy veil caught with a bandeau of pearl, and her flowers were a shower of Sweetheart roses. The bride's attendants were her sisters, Miss Victoria Johnston and Miss Catharine Johnston, and little Miss Betty de Jean, who acted as flower girl, Lieut. Bruce Johnston, M.C., was best man, while Mr. Stewart Johnston and Mr. Ivar Johnston were ushers. A Christmas Mite. Around the Grate Fire.

Dear Miss Grey.—May I bother you again for a minute? The ground is starting to get white around here, although we are still plowing. I am always glod when we have snow and ice for Christmas. I wish you could come here for New Year's, as we are going to have a turkey. We have twenty-five geese and around forty turkeys to pick.

Please tell me what days March 16, 1906, and January 15, 1909, fell on. Inclosed find mite.

P. S. What the pour think of my writing. P. S. What do you think of my writing?

Ans.—You are very fortunate, Bug, in having a turkey for your New Year dinner, as I think this particular bird will be quite a "rare one" this season. The above mentioned dates both fell on Friday. You write a very good hand. Many thanks for hospital mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—It has been a long time since I wrote to your cosy little corner, but have not forgotten you.

I see where all the boxites are exchanging seeds. I think it a grand idea. I am mailing you some hollyhocks and nasturtiums. Would like some blue bells and African daisies in exchange. which has been arranged by Miss Aridea.

Midnight Mass.

Christmas begins in St. Peter's Cathedral with a midnight mass at twelve o'clock on Christmas Eve. W. A. Bluethner, the organist, has arranged a delightful musical program, which will include the lovely old Gregorian Chants with the seminarians. Christmas Hard Soap.

Dear Miss Grey,—Someone, I don't know who, was asking about a way for making hard soap, and as I cut this out of the paper a year or so ago, I thought perhaps it may be of some use to her, so will send it along, also mite. I wonder how Dew Drops' cactus is this year. Mine is lovely, in full bloom.

Miss Grey could you advise me sung by the seminarians, Christmas hymns by the choir boys and a vocal solo, "Ave Maria," sung by Bert Niosi, one of the small boy members of the choir. "Adeste Fidelis," sung during the robing of the bishop, will be one of the most beautiful parts of the choral

A Parcel of Clothes.

Dear Miss Grey,—Am sending under separate cover a parcel of children's clothes for you to forward to Pickle Face. I seem to have misladd the paper, but think that was the name, and trust there are a good many more coming in to you.

It looks as though winter had arrived. The children are trying to see which can do the best these days, as Santa will soon be dropping in.

Am inclosing 10 cents for which I would be pleased to get a lavender sachet or if they are gone a package of any kind of seeds.

cheer, I thought I would send a small wite for the hospital fund.

The young people of our town and surrounding country recently put on a play and the proceeds ($98) were for the children's hospital. A great deal of money might be obtained in this way not only for the S. C. H., but also for the starving people in Ceneral Europe. We, here in sunny Canada, cannot realize the state of the poor people over there. While we are happy among our friends at the Yuletide let us not forget to offer a prayer for the well-being of these poor sufferers.

Now, if I may ask it, I would like to have the stocking foot pattern and also one of the sachet bags containing lavender sent in by Thistle. Have you a list of the flower seeds in the Mall-Box?

THE SANTA CLAUS PUP.
Part Six.

Long and loud was the discussion in Santa Claus' workshop. All Santa's sons delved down into their big sacks and brought out the last toys that were and brought out the last toys that were there. No there certainly weren't enough toys to go around—the children in Canada would have to go without.

"I wanted to go to Canada," sobbed a little doll that was up on a high please," interrupted a second-hand rocking horse who had been returned to the workshop for repairs. "I thought I would be split to nothing before I left my little owner's home." Ruffles listened to all this in wonder "I came from Canada," to the nearest toy, and for a wonder the toys heard him above the din. "Tell us about it, tell us about it," Suddenly there was a great hush, Santa Claus was about to

"There is nothing for it, the children in some parts of the country will have to be missed out, so that we can divide the toys up. We will have to miss a child or so in every city all over the world. There is nothing left to make toys of except that cotton and those Ruffles cried. "I just look like cotton rags—I've heard my master say I did. Please Santa Claus make all the little me's you can for I know the children
