FAIRVILLE WEDDING

Miss Etta Stevens Bride of H. Lutes of Stevens Mountain

A wedding of much interest to Fairville people took place yesterday when Miss Etta Stevens became the bride of Henry Lutes of Stevens Mountain. Rev. P. R. Hayward officiated, assisted by Rev. H. R. Boyer and the church had been nicely decorated with ferns and field daisies by friends of the bride. She had been a popular and very active member of the church. Messrs. Somers and Lutes, relatives of the groom, acted as ushers and there were quite a number of invited guests.

As the party entered the church the wedding march was played by Miss Kate Fox. The bride was dressed in white duchess satin and wore bridal veil with orange blossoms and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Her traveling suit was of navy blue with hat to match. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lutes drove to the home of the bride's parents in Prospect street where supper was served and immediately after took the Boston train for a honeymoon trip which will include the Hub and vicinity, Lowell, Rhode Island and New York.

Many useful and beautiful gifts were received testifying to the popularity of the principals and best wishes for a happy future were extended by a host of friends.

MRS. THAW WILL NOT HAVE TO GO ON STAND

New York, July 7.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will not have to testify against her husband, Harry K. Thaw. She has returned to her camp at Chateaugay Lake. The deputy attorney general decided she had no new evidence of value.

FOUR WOUNDS IN LEG; FOUR IN BODY

Further Word From Brother of Mrs. R. P. Hayward of Fairville — Though So Badly Hurt, Walked Two Miles To Doctor

A letter received this morning from Mrs. F. R. Hayward, now in Woodstock by her husband, Rev. P. R. Hayward, states that information has come to hand respecting her brother, Burdette W. Harmon, recently wounded while with the Canadian Engineers.

He received four bullet wounds in the leg and four shell wounds in the body but walked two miles, bleeding profusely, to the nearest dressing station.

One of the officers attached to the same unit, writing home, says Harmon displayed grit that was truly remarkable. Though there is the fear of blood poisoning, friends will be glad to hear that strong hopes are being held out for the young man's recovery.

The Man In The Street

At least one day each week we find out for our straw hat.

But even at that, it already begins to look like a last season's dip.

Street Corner Pastime.

The latest guessing contest about the city is that of learning the names and numbers of the mayor's assessment commission.

It will not be safe to make an enemy of any one around town these days; you cannot tell who may be on that commission.

"Who looked like a hat?" seems to be the question of the hour in the North End.

Another of the Hazards of Helen?

Pretty nearly time for some of the Balkan nations to tumble over the brink into the arena of war.

Independence Day must have cost the United States almost as many lives as the independence it did.

With the Baptist convention, the Anglican Synod meetings and the Presbytery all in session here yesterday, St. John had rather more than its share of parsons.

Who Could It Be?

Of course no one can guess the identity of the provincial politician to whom the Presbyter referred yesterday in their pointed remarks about wrongful practices.

Patrols, Etc.

Mr. Birkett did not need to use his own binoculars to see what was expected of him.

"Morgan fills father's shoes," says news headline. It is quite evident that the factory which must have made them never had a hand in manufacturing shoes for soldiers—they would never last so long as that.

Another retail druggist in Ottawa cleared up forty per cent on hospital supplies to the militia department. Why should he worry if the stock markets closed?

T. A. Brownlee is his name, and hereafter all should use the first three initials in patriotic service upon him. They should "keep tabs" upon him that he gets no further contracts.

The War Cost of Living.

Commissioner McLellan insists on a $20 fine for smoking in the market building. Now if the proceeds were used to provide smokers for the boys at the front, some patriots might be found.

But the fellow who throws $20 for a smoke must really have money to burn.

"We are the salt of the earth," says the Kaiser. Without discussing that claim some ones rise to ask what right has the salt to consider itself the whole bill of fare.

Just a Trifle Ambiguous.

Just what the minister of marine and fisheries meant by a remark he made yesterday is the subject of some curiosity on the part of those who overheard it.

As Hon. Mr. Hagan was coming along Charlotte street he met Commissioner Potts. Greeting him with outstretched hand he said, "Well, Mr. Potts, you have a large field ahead of you."

In view of the reports that the commissioner is willing to accept the nomination for the next vacancy in the legislature this may be interpreted in any one of several different ways.

He Bought Another Dozen.

Some friends of a certain local merchant, self-styled a misogynist, are having a laugh on him after a little occurrence of yesterday, in which he forgot his usual condemnatory utterances regarding the fair sex. He was standing on a street corner, with a bag of oranges under his arm. He was nibbling at one of the oranges, and spying a young woman in a laundry across the street regarding him wistfully, made a "ball" as the sporting ed. would say, as though to throw the orange towards her. She placed her hands ready to receive it, and seeing that she was somewhat disappointed, he threw and she deftly caught it, the second time. Then the face of another girl appeared. It was a shame to treat one better than the other. So up went another orange. There were more than two girls employed in the laundry, however, and before the man got away, all that was left was the bag which had contained the fruit. And spectators watched the amateur catch game with especial interest because of the citizen in question having never been considered as an admirer of the women.

WANT 25 HERE FOR 6TH C. M. R.

Captain Taylor in City — Chance to Join One of Finest — Lieut. Ed. Mooney's Visit

Twenty-five men from St. John are needed for the 6th Mounted Rifles, now at Valcartier, and very soon to cross to England.

Capt. G. W. Taylor, who remained at Amherst when the regiment left there, has since recruited eighty men and sent them forward in small detachments. Sixteen left on Monday, and Captain Taylor accompanied them to Moncton, where yesterday he got ten more recruits and expects to get fifteen more.

Captain Taylor is in St. John today, and hopes to get twenty-five men here. Sergt. London, at the recruiting office in Mill street, will receive applications, and issue transportation to Amherst to all who pass the examination. Pay starts the day of enrolment. The stay at Amherst will be about a month and will then go to Valcartier and very soon to England. There are fine quarters and a staff at Amherst to look after the recruits.

Captain Taylor is confident since he got ten men in Moncton yesterday that he will get the twenty-five in St. John, to join one of the finest regiments that has yet been recruited in Canada.

Lieut. Edward Mooney of the 6th has been in town for a day or two. He says the regiment is making great progress in drill at Valcartier, and when the few men now required are in the ranks it will be at full strength. All the men are fit, and eager to cross to England.

Three Halifax recruits for the 6th went forward on Monday. The Moncton Times says:—"W. A. Walker, for a number of years of the firm of J. A. Marsden, Ltd., left last evening on the maritime express for Valcartier, having enlisted with the 6th Mounted Rifles. Mr. Walker is leaving a splendid position to enter the ranks as a private, giving an example of true patriotism. He has two brothers at the front."

Col. Ryan's Mother Dead.

Mrs. J. W. Ryan, mother of Col. R. H. Ryan of the 6th, died Saturday night near Bathurst. She, with her husband and daughter were en route to the Panama Exposition and intended to meet Col. Ryan at Quebec. Mrs. Ryan is survived by her husband, five sons and one daughter. The sons are W. D. A. Ryan, William Grant, Col. R. H. Ryan, General Mounted Rifles; J. Winfield Ryan, General Electric Co., Sherbrooke; L. J. G. Ryan, A. S. C. Halifax; and Miss Eva Ryan, who was accompanying her parents.

PARCELS NOT RECEIVED AND LETTERS DELAYED

Word From Sapper Leo Quigg—Mother Gets Five Letters in One Mail

Evidently the postal arrangements in handling mail and parcels for men at the front are far from perfect, judging by the experience of Leo Quigg of Fairville, a member of the signaling corps attached to the first contingent. Not only have papers and several letters gone astray but a large box of cigarettes and a smaller tin box mailed early in May have not been received by him. The parcels were most carefully packed, wrapped in white paper, and addressed in detail. A list of the enclosed contents was given on the outside wrapper and every precaution taken to safeguard transportation.

Sometimes for several weeks his mother will not hear from him and then several letters will come in one day. On one occasion five letters arrived in the same local mail.

The cost of the materials and mailing is considerable and Sapper Quigg has notified his mother not to send any more until the lost parcels arrive. There are other soldiers, he explains, in the same predicament. The boys are unable to use French tobacco and dearly love some of their own particular brands, also chewing gum is most acceptable.

Many friends will be glad to learn that Sapper Quigg is well and in the best of spirits as intimated in these extracts from the letter received yesterday and dated June 16, second brigade headquarters, Signal Section, First Canadian Division:

Dear Mother—

"Welcome letters received and read with great pleasure. Glad to hear you enjoyed your trip on May 24. I would like to send you some money but have never seen a cent for four months. I have not received your parcel or Bertha's yet but I suppose they may arrive by next mail. I would not advise you to send any more for ninety-nine times out of 100 we do not receive them though I think you just the same.

"George Craft is here with me and is one in a thousand—in fact if it were not for him I would not be alive today. I have two great friends near and dear to me here—"Bunny" (George Craft), and my rifle.

"Don't worry about me, for as I told you before, I am enjoying myself immensely—plenty to eat, lots of sport and sometimes a comfortable hay-loft to sleep in. Now and again we take a "shooting trip" but it's all in the game. Good-bye dear mother. Cheer up; there are better times ahead. LEO."

IAS. HENNESSEY TAKEN ILL WHILE VISITING GALAS

The many friends of James Hennessey of Fairville, city traveler for Vassie & Co., Ltd., will regret to learn that the young man became quite ill when on a trip to Galas for the Fourth of July and was unable to return home. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hennessey, his parents, left on the train last evening to be with him. A telephone message received last night intimated that considerable improvement was noticed and he was likely to return at the last of the week. It is understood that the case was one of threatened pneumonia and required prompt measures.
