There was a merry throng of pleasure seekers at Seaside Park yesterday, and one little girl is mourning the loss of a handsome gold watch and chain as a result of her visit. The child missed her watch on Douglas avenue, when she was returning from the park about nine o'clock. She cried bitterly and several bystanders assisted her in searching for the lost article. After scouring the vicinity for nearly an hour the search was abandoned. The loss would be grateful if the person locating the watch would leave it at the Street Railway office, where she could call and receive it.

The sudden termination of a Milltown hotel's career at Vancouver is an interesting tale. The luckless individual's name is McIntyre and he embarked on an opportunity last week to receive a guest of a dress suit containing a new wardrobe. McIntyre committed the offense in the Union Hotel and made off with the suit case. He changed his time worn garments for the stranger's garments and returned to the hotel with a heavy air. McIntyre was detected and placed under arrest. He is now spending three months, the guest of the authorities, at the Machias jail.

HANDED HIS WAD TO A TOTAL STRANGER

To be Given to the Purser—Sad Story of Confiding Island Man Far Away From Home.

Leonard W. McDonald, of Georgetown, P. E. I., proved to be an easy mark on the Eastern Line steamer Calvin Austin last night. He claims that he was robbed by an official on the boat and appeared at police headquarters this morning and told his troubles. McDonald had been drinking and late last night when a man came to his berth and said, "hand over your valuables," he handed over his, because, he said the man was going to give the money to the purser. This morning McDonald called on the purser and made considerable trouble because his money was not forthcoming. All he got at the police headquarters was sympathy and he will remember to take care of his money in the future.

FREE KINDERGARTENS OPENED THIS MORNING

Good Attendance at All Three Schools—The Teaching Staff.

After a vacation extending over two months, the free kindergarten schools were reopened this morning. There was a fair attendance at the different schools. During the present week the teachers will make a number of visits to the scholars' homes. There are at present in the three kindergartens about thirty children who have attained the age of seven years. The committee have decided these pupils must attend the public schools.

The Portland street school is supervised by Mrs. W. C. Matthews and Miss Soly is the assistant. The classes do not show much change from last year.

Miss Belle Miller is again in charge of the St. Mary's class. Miss Lou Estey is acting as assistant.

In the Brussels street school in Glad Tidings Hall, Miss Hattie Allan, who formerly conducted a private school, has assumed the principalship. Miss Brown is the stenographer.

Today will be spent chiefly in organization and every effort will be made to make the kindergartens successful.

The hurried departure of a young Waterville street greeter from the city has started the tongues of gossip wagging. There are apparently good reasons for the remarks about this particular business man. Some months ago he started a small shop and weekly made very considerable additions to his stock. Apparently his business went behind and last week he was also to be seen in the city. He touched one individual for $175 and secured the endorsement on a promissory note for $100 of another. Then he shipped out, leaving large numbers of creditors. The cash register gave some idea of the man's intention and seized the machine.

Reports from Grand Manan state this year's fishing season has been a record one, and although it has only opened many large catches have been made. One writer states that he and his son caught 204 hogheads of terring in two days. A veal owner and packer has boxed 16,000 boxes of fish up to the good prices tend to make this season a profitable one for the fishermen.
