Ocr. 31.—The fine days with the bracing air and the bright sunshine are making out-of-door life specially enticing and the clear starlight evenings are a boon to the young folk who this week are enjoying some very jolly driving parties.

The "harvest festival service" in the episcopal church on Sunday last was very largely attended, there being many attractions, which are not often met at once—magnificent decorations, fine music, the "appearing cut" of a very charming autumn bride, and last—but—by,no means least, the baptism of three little ones. Some of the other churches also had "baptism services" on that day.

The reception room was beautifully decorated, with palms'and chrysanthemuss. Words fail me or describe the table. It was a veritable glimpse of fairyland, and the menu was all that could be desired. After the inner woman had been fully satisfied the health of our departing guest was drunk in a cup of tea, nor were the other torasts customary on such an occasion forgotten. The speeches were brilliant and full of wit, and the mu-ic was of the best. Notes of regret were read from several persons from neighboring towns who were unable to be present. During the evening Miss Smith was presented with a beautiful jewelled butterfly, as a remembrance from her New Glasgow friends. The function broke up by all joining hands and singing, "Audi Lang Syne."

Ocr. 30.—For many a day we shall remember and always with pleasure, the brilliant ball given by the tenns club on the evening of the 26th. I think the hall has never looked quite as festive, and the decorations surpassed any previous attempt. Many, racquets were hung in the ball room, which was gayly festooned in red and black. The windows were alled with potted plants. Here and there, if you knew just where to go, were numerous cosy corners suggesting room for two—no more. The stage was transformed into a drawing room and behind the flowers and the shaded tootlights there was a charming view of the dancers down below. During the evening foe creams were served and supper at tweive. Here again the evidence of exquisite taste twas evinced—the table in the form of a Maltese cross, its decorations of white and green, for all flowers were excluded and the ediet had gone forth "Nothing but leaves." Its long array of dainty dishes shone in the light of many candles in silver branches. There were a great many smart frocks worn, for everybody was in "full fig." and the guests tursed out in bravest array to grace the occasion. Among the gowns I heard particularly mentioned were those worn by Mrs. Blowers Archibald, Mrs. W. J. Christie, Miss Parves, Miss Vooght and Miss Copeland. Following is the list of guests, beginning with the four chaperons:
