HUNDRED BOYS AND A HUNDRED CATS SWARM BROOKLYN STREET

Brooklyn, "the City of Churches," is also the city of cats. The soft influence of a million feline eyes that shoot fire in the darkness and of myriad padded feet that tread the rugs and the dark alleys rests upon Brooklyn.

Miss Alice Joyce, the Vitaphone star, and Wesley Ruggles, her director, found this out one other day in a sensational fashion. They saw the Vitaphone studio in Brooklyn raided and swamped by cats.

It happened that in a scene for "The Winchman's Woman," which will soon be released, it was necessary to have a cat. "Get us a cat," Mr. Ruggles remarked offhand to Jack Brown, the chief property man.

"What kind of a cat?" inquired Jack. He has had some experience. He knows that cats come in different sizes and dispositions and "types."

"Oh, get a sensible, capable, good natured, decent kind of a cat," the director replied. Equipped with this description, Jack stepped out into the wide world, summoned some stray boys and sent them forth as cat scouts.

In a few moments the scouts were swelling in numbers and were scouring the neighborhood for blocks around. They invaded highways, byways, alleys and cellars. In a remarkably short time they began to return with cats.

Each urchin had a feline in his arms or on his shoulders or hanging in his hand by the tail. In some cases the cats were bigger than the boys who held them and there were some harrowing adventures of scratches and struggles.

One lad showed up half riding and half dragging and just partly carrying a cat.

THOSE HATS!

The slaughter of millions of the most beautiful birds of the world for the purchase of the millinery trade is protested against in a powerful memorandum addressed to the Prime Minister and the President of the Board of Trade by a long list of distinguished men. It is pointed out that unless immediate action is taken many handsome birds will be extinct in the near future. The signatories urge that a bill prohibiting the importation of birds' skins and feathers similar to that which passed its second reading in 1914 be brought in without delay before the House of Commons. It is pointed out that the loss to the worker by the suppression of this traffic would be negligible. On the contrary the increase of substitute decorations that would follow the prohibition of the plume trade would increase revenues for labor.

BAKED HAM WITH POTATO BORDER.

2-inch slice of ham.
2 tablespoons flour.
2 tablespoons brown sugar.
1-2 teaspoon ground cinnamon, cloves or pinch mace.
1-4 teaspoon paprika.
1-4 cup of vinegar.
1-4 cup potatoes.
The ham is boiled the day before and left in stock until cold, then put in shallow pan; dust with flour and sugar; put in hot oven with one cup of ham stock. Bake two or three times; when brown remove to platter and to the pan add spiced vinegar and enough water to make two cups of sauce and flour thickening, and salt to taste.
Place the slice of ham in centre of platter; boil and mash the potatoes and make a border around the ham. Sprinkle with paprika and paprika.

Bran Muffins—(Specially good with salads)—Mix 2 tablespoons lard or bacon fat with 3 tablespoons sugar (brown), 2 tablespoons molasses, 1 egg, 1 cup sour milk, 1 level teaspoon soda, dissolve in hot water, 1 cup white flour, 1-2 cups bran flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder sifted with white flour, pinch of salt. Bake in hot muffin pans about 20 to 25 minutes.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES.

When canning sour fruits use medium heavy thick syrup.
Corn baked with cut green peppers in it is an agreeable change.
Cook peas and beans in as little water as possible. The result is a better flavor.

A little white sugar dissolved in hot water makes a good stiffening for delicate loaves.
Add a couple of vinegars to water, in which colored clothes are washed. This prevents running.
To test the heat of an oven, put a bit of white paper in it. If too hot the paper will blacken.

Rolling up children's socks stretches them at the top and makes them fall down when worn.
Mix bluing with hot water before adding it to the rinsing water and the clothes will not streak.
Coffee gelatin and junket broken and served with cream in the same individual dishes make a pleasing dessert.

A piece of art gum is handy for removing dirt from white shoes when it is not desired to use liquid cleansers.
When cooking vessels of granite have become discolored outside, rub them with a damp cloth dipped in coal ashes.

A CLOTHES DECISION.

Little boy, of course I wear the cutest little shimmmy-shirt; I cut it short so when I kneel it doesn't gather up the dirt.

Little boy, my skirt's not high. But I'm proud of my fine calf. Boys ain't got much pretty limbs, and they're jealous. Makes us laugh.

Little boy, why strain your eyes looking through my gauze and lace? When you can see with just a glance my happy and uncovered face.

Little boy, please tell me why, if you're fond of underclothes, you do your best to get from seats. At the naughty vandy shows.

Little boy, the coat is high—You should make eternal vows Never to find fault with girls For wearing just what law allows.

LEADERS IN THE PACKING INDUSTRY

L. F. SWIFT J. OGDEN ARMOUR NELSON MORRIS

Contending that legislation proposed in the Kenyon and Kendrick bills, providing for licensing all persons engaged in the packing business and for their operation under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture, would "tend to destroy American enterprise and initiative," J. Ogden Armour, of Armour & Co., has written to every member of Congress protesting against adoption of the bills. Nelson Morris and L. F. Swift are two more of the big packers involved.

TO HARNESS THE RHONE RIVER FOR INDUSTRIAL WORK

The Development of Its Power for the Manufacture of Electricity is Being Planned by the French.

Paris, Aug. 18, (French Wireless Service).—Developments of the water-power of the Rhone river for the manufacture of electric power and organization of its facilities for river transportation and irrigation are provided for in a bill which the government has submitted to the Chamber of Deputies. The expenses of the project are estimated to aggregate 2,500,000,000 francs.

It is proposed to erect 20 hydroelectric power stations to produce an average of 715,000 horsepower. This would be equivalent to 5,000,000 tons of coal, or nearly 1-3 of the French coal output before the war, of 1-6 of the output in 1918.

Under this plan it would be possible to operate 1200-ton barges on the Rhone providing transportation between the Rhine valley and central Europe.

The construction work would require fifteen years. It is proposed to grant a concession for this undertaking to a company with a capital of 250,000,000 francs and the privilege of issuing bonds to ten times that amount. These bonds would be guaranteed by the state and the state would appoint 25 of the membership of the administrative council including the president.

FIRE MARSHALS GET HELPFUL HINTS AT CONFERENCE

Fire Drills in Schools Given Important Consideration, and Valuable Advice Followed from Those Who Have Given it Special Study.

Toronto, August 28.—John Kenlon, chief of the Fire Department of New York City, told the members of the fire marshals at the convention here today something about the investigation of suspicious fires.

L. T. Husey, Kansas, addressed the convention on a survey of results of fire marshals' service in North America. He stated that the abolition of the fire marshals' offices in New York State has resulted very largely by pressure from owners of tenements, theatres and summer hotels, who had had their buildings condemned and ordered to spend a large sum for improvements.

John S. Horan told the gathering that an enormous impression was abroad in the minds of school teachers regarding drills in schools. "The efficiency of the drill does not depend on the rapidity in which the building is emptied," he said. "That is wrong, for it depends upon the orderly and safe manner in which the schools are emptied."

HOSPITAL COM COUNTY FIN TO PROCEED

Total Expenditure for $151,550—Original Lower Priced—Municipal Acceptance of Tender

The County Council yesterday agreed the tenders for the construction of the nurses' home to the finance committee and hospital committee with power to act, and instructed it to carry out the original plans as far as possible subject to a limit of expenditure of $151,550.

On the first call for tenders the cost was that of John Flood and being $151,550. On the second when the plans were modified, by cost tenders placed the cost at $198. Their tenders were as follows:

Stanley Williams, carpentry, $40, J. H. Doody, plumbing, etc., $10, J. Pullen, painting, etc., $10, Vaughn Electric Co. wiring, etc., $10, and Mooney and Son, (total), $10.

Total $120. B. Mooney and Son undertook to assume responsibility for the complete of the whole work, and the hospital commissioners recommended that he be given the contract.

Dr. Walker said they had been struggling over the question for some time. He read a resolution of the hospital commissioners requesting the council to accept the lowest tender for building a nurses' home, the figure was above the council estimate. The commissioners had asked for tenders twice and by cost tenders placed the cost at $198. The nurses' hospital would accommodate from 40 to 60 additional patients.

An Explanation. Neil Brodie, the architect said in revised plans they had changed the one original proposal, and provided for cheaper finishings, new plans would save $10,000, building would not look as well as the original proposal, but would be quite as serviceable. The revised plans left out the elevator.

The architect said that between first and second call for tenders the price of some materials had gone 50 per cent. Next year he thought would cost from 15 to 20 per cent. more than now to build. Cost of materials and labor were going up, week electrical fittings went up 25 to 30 per cent.

Dr. Heddon of the hospital said figure $129,988 did not include architect's bill.

Com. Fisher said that if the cost of the architect's bill were added the cost would be $144,000, wanted to know whether temporary arrangements for the nurses could be made until prices went down and new home could be built at a cost.
