His suit against the Camden & Suburban Railway Company for that amount for injuries sustained in being pushed from a car was progressing favorably to him yesterday in the Camden court. Half a dozen doctors had sworn that he was an invalid as the result of the accident, when Willie Brower, one of Johnny's witnesses, in his rambling testimony, told of Johnny's love for pies.

Counsel for the trolley company saw a glimmer of hope in this.

"Could he eat a whole pie?" was asked of Willie.

"Could he eat a whole pie?" was asked of Willie.

"Why, yes, he ate five within a few minutes last week," the boy replied.

The three lawyers who represented Johnny were on their feet in an instant, demanding of the court to know what mince pie had to do with Johnny Foehl being injured by a trolley car. They wanted this portion of the testimony stricken out.

"Well," declared counsel for the trolley company, "any boy who can eat five mince pies at one sitting is not very much of an invaild."

The court admitted the mince pie testimony. Having got into the case, the pies remained to a finish.

Counsel for the plaintiff wanted to bring witnesses to prove the pies were small five-cent ones. They were willing to send for a pie to show the jury. The railway company's lawyers conceded that the pies were small, but contended that even so no invalid could eat five of them.

When all of the testimony was in the court, relieving the jury, declared that Johnny Foehl had not made out a case. The mince pie testimony had been fatal to it.—Philadelphia North American.

Lighting Up the Colloseum.

CANADIAN SPOOL COTTON COMPANY. Said English Concern Will Manufacture in Montreal.

There is an additional abomination in these days of a big brass band and a cohorus of a hundred voices, in an invocation to the Flavian amphitheatre.

New York, June 5—The most perfect combine in England is that which controls the spool couton business. The Amreican Thread Company is only a branch of the English combination, of which the Coats Company, Limited, is the parent organization. The company controls the trade of all the English colonies, and has decided to do some of its manufacturing in Canada, and application has been made for letters patent to incorporate the Canadian Spool Cotton Company with a capital stock of $200,000.
