TO LOOK OVER THE HATCHERY AT LITTLE - RIVER

Marine and Fisheries Man Says That No New Hatcheries Are Proposed for the Maritime Provinces at Pres-

Thursday, April 80.

Alex. Finlayson, of the marine and isheries department, Ottawa, arrived in the city yesterday on his regular trip of inspection of dominion sovernment. isheries department, Ottawa, arrived in the city yesterday on his regular trip of inspection of dominion government atcheries and will go out to little the city to look over the hatchiry here. Mr. Finlayson said last evening that this was the best year in the history of the department as regards the production at the hatcheries, and he provides to find the same high average maintained at the Little River hatchery. The floating shad hatchery on the river has not shown quite so good results, but this was due to the difficulty in an and the delicate nature of the shad generally. Mr. Finlayson said that no new hatcheries were under way in the Mariner provinces at present but that several are being established in the west, although known as the prairie provinces, he said, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba all produced fish, largely salman trout, pickerel, whitefish and salmon. The people of the Maritime provinces could not realize, he said, that he fisheries of the Great Lakes were as rabusble as those of the Canadian Atantic. This was because the pickerel, almon and whitefish caught there were o valuable.

Mr. Germain has been practically blind for over two years past, following a severe attack of rheumatism. He was chopping wood at his home when a piece flew up and struck him on the bridge of the nose. This severed a vein and as a result Mr. Germain lost much blood, which was black in color. Saw Much Ice. Halifax, April 28—Her officers re-porting more ice than they had ever seen before at this time of the year, the White Star liner Teutonic, bound for Montreal and compelled to change her course for Halifax, arrived in port at I o'clock yesterday afternoon and her course for Halifax, arrived in port at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and landed 1,187 passengers.

The Teutonic was surrounded by huge ice fields on several occasions, which were dotted all over by large bergs, one of which was estimated to be some 200 feet in height. She made very little headway, having to turn about continually and return over her course. It being impossible for her to proceed, the passage being blocked by ice. The largest field was thought to be some fifty by fifty miles in length and breath.

A unique occurrence happened during the volage, when the Teutonic past the Englishman, of the same line, twice on two consecutive days.

On leaving Liverpool an incident occurred which, had it not been for the ravery of two of the crew, would have resulted in the loss of a life. The ship's company were at boat drill, when William Robinson, crew's cook, was select with an apopletic fit and fell over the whaleback, forward. Two of the cet w. Armstrong, lookout man, and T. L. Evans, a trimmer, immediately plunged overboard from a height of 42 feet from the water and went to the rescue of the drowning man. Fortunately it could not have happened at a better time as the men were all at the boats. One of the starboard boats was quickly lowered and the rescuers and rescued were in her one and a half minutes after she had carried the water. There was a strong ebb file running at the time and a strong wind. Both Evans and Armstrong were recommended for the Royal Humane society's medal for their heroism. medal for their heroism.
