

Cultural relations, which are governed by a 1976 agreement, were also reviewed. Both countries desire to expand the awareness and understanding of the other in their respective territories, and will work to examine programs to achieve this end.

The Ministers also took note that the Seasonal Agricultural Workers Program is operating in a mutually satisfactory manner.

At the conclusion, the delegations expressed their satisfaction with the excellent progress that had been achieved during the meetings of the Ministerial Committee.

Agreement was reached to conduct the Eighth Meeting of the Joint Ministerial Committee, in Mexico, on a date to be determined.

January 23, 1990