S.R.C. To Meet on Wednesday TO LAY GROUNDWORK FOR REVUE Relative to Fall Formal Fracas

The S.R.C. will meet this Wednesday evening at which time the Council will be asked to appoint a committee under the provisions of the S.R.C. Constitution dealing with disciplinary action in cases where students "conduct themselves in an unbecoming manner at University functions on or beyond the premises of the University during the collegiate term". (Art. II Sect. 5). This action has been recommended by the Social Committee as a result of several unfortunate incidents which occurred at the Fall Formal last Friday evening. The President of the S.R.C. wishes to draw to the attention of the students that the Campus Police must be respected when they are carrying out their duties at student functions and points out that the members of the Campus Police have the full backing of the Students' Representative Council in performing these duties.

MEETINGS THURSDAY AND SUNDAY

The drums are beginning to beat for the annual musical spectacle, our own Red 'N Black Revue, and moves to get the show underway included a meeting of the senior class last Thursday, which dealt with the appointment of show management, and an initial cast meeting on Sunday afternoon to attempt to map some general plan for this year's show.

The director this year will be the senior class president, Turney Manzer who has taken part in the show for a number of years. Among suggested themes for the musical is the one of 'Life at U.N.B. since 1930". A number of names were also thrown into the hat as suggestion for Emcees but no decision has as vet been made.

Arts Society Holds Its First Meeting

The revised edition of the Art's Society had its first meeting on Sunday afternoon with about thirty members present. The meeting was held in the Memorial Hall. Ted Spencer was elected president, Margaret Reid, vice-president and John Russell, secretary-treasurer.

It was proposed by the president that a suggestion box be placed in the Art's Building. This suggestion was approved by the members present. The suggestion box questions will be answered by a simple yes or no, accompanied by signature to avoid confusion. It was moved and seconded that any two Artsmen could refer a suggestion for the question box to the executive. Competition for Art's crests will begin and crests are to be submitted to the executive. The best six crests are to be chosen and put to a vote to decide on a standard one of the Art's Faculty.

A social was suggested for the Ladies Reading Room in the very near future.

Artsmen are asked to support your society by patronizing the suggestion box. All suggestions will be welcomed by the executive.

U.R.P. Advancing; Met Last Night

A call went out from URP head quarters just before Brunswickan press time for more radio actors and writers and additional personnel to round out the production teams now being formed. University Radio Productions, since first formed three weeks ago, has become the lustiest baby on the campus with more than just plans to its credit. At the Workshop last Thursday two 15-minute productions of a practice play were recorded in entirety, and the playbacks gave definite promise of fine shows ahead.

Already between forty and fifty students and faculty members have participated in URP activities. But the Radio Workshop still requires more voices and any persons with ideas for scripts are also invited," Chairman Alvin J. Shaw of the Production Committee said last night. URP sees the prospect of at least twelve half-hour radio programs before spring Mr. Shaw indicated.

A writers' meeting was held last night in the Ladies' Reading Room and outlines of scripts for several programs were dealt with. Most important activity of the week will be a casting session for roles in the first and second programs scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 26, at 2.30 p.m. in the Art Centre. A first program script is almost completed and a good play is tentatively chosen for the second show. It is hoped to air at least one program before Christmas.
