

Whereas it is universally recognized that Germany's position in the present war constitutes a menace to freedom and civilization,

And whereas the British and French authorities have represented that for the winning of the war more food and more ships are as necessary as more men for service overseas,

And whereas an effective <sup>utilization and</sup> distribution of the man power of Canada would enable the Dominion to render much greater service than has been rendered hitherto, or is possible at the present time,

It is resolved that all male persons of military age and fitness not enlisted for military or naval service overseas ~~shall~~ <sup>shall</sup> be available under selective draft for national service in Canada, either in the militia or naval forces of the Dominion, <sup>for production of service in the</sup> ~~or in such other~~ <sup>industries of Canada in</sup> ~~or in such other~~ capacity as may most effectively aid in supplying the economic needs of Great Britain and her allies.
