

Little Sorrows

HOW often as we ponder
On hopes forever flown,
We feel our hearts grow fonder
For friends we thought our own!

Our sweetest expectations—
So cherished in a dream —
And bright anticipations,
Are seldom what they seem.