

BOTH GOT A FRIGHT.

On Sunday night, May 12, John McCoul of Eastville was going a pretty good clip on his bicycle, with a light brilliantly burning, when he ran with full force against a big bear right in the middle of the highway. The light had blinded him and he was a mighty frightened bear and took to his heels up thru a burnt bit of land below belonging to Mr. Andrew Dickie.

It would be a toss up to know whether man or bear was the most frightened; one thing is certain the bear ran away, while the man made a pretty clip for home.

Next night two bears visited the premises of Mr. Dickie but were likely driven off by a dog that was in the barn.

In that vicinity there are four or five bears, and the farmers do not let their sheep go out into the open unfenced fields at all.

OFF TO THE WAR AGAIN.

Gunner Fred Stewart and Pte. Ralph Iler, left on the 19th for Canadian Military head-quarters to make arrangements to again go overseas and to the front.

These brave Truro Soldiers have been thru many hard fought battles with the Huns and know fully, what it means to meet the Germans when doing their worst. They will go back and to the front with brave hearts and determined spirits to see this, the World's greatest war struggle, thru to the end.

All Truro friends wish these heroic soldiers good luck on the firing line and a safe return home.

They are men every inch of them and we all feel the sacrifice they are making for us; and for the Empire and in fact for the world at large.

Lieut. William Adlington of the United States Army Reserves at Camp Devon, Mass., was a guest for a day or so of C. G. R. Conductor Alfred Phillips, Pleasant Street, South.

Lieut. Adlington some few years ago resided in Truro, making his home with Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder, Pleasant Street South. He attended the Colchester Academy. He then went to the United States to study dentistry.

Mr. Adlington, accompanied Mr. James Snyder, to Brookfield Col. Co., to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Snyder, May 16. On the 20th he returned to the United States.

MR. JAMES SNYDE OF WINTERPORT IN TRURO.

Mr. Snyder was one of Truro's most efficient policemen a few years ago, and has many friends here who regret to learn of the passing away of his wife, and of this sad errand which brot him to Brookfield on May 16, when the body of Mrs. Snyder was said to rest.

General Manager Hayes informed the Gleaner that this trip was being made with the departmental heads, that all may become better familiar with the country travelled by their lines, meet the people with whom they are doing business, get in touch with their local agents and representatives.—Fredericton Gleaner, May 8.

NURSING SISTER WINS CROSS.

Miss Jennie Robley of Pictou is Honored for Service.

Mrs. Bruce Ingraham is in receipt of a letter from a friend in London, telling of the award of honor, the Royal Red Cross, to Nursing Sister, Jennie Robley, Pictou, N. S. Sister Robley was stationed at a Casualty Clearing Station near the front lines when the last German advance was on, and remained with the officer of the hospital until the last moment assisting them, to get the wounded to a place of safety. During the course of the advance the Germans shelled the hospital from the air and land. The doctors, orderlies and Miss Robley rolled the wounded men in blankets and carried them to a wheat field some distance back of the line and hid them there. This was during the continuous shell fire from the enemy guns.

For this action Sister Robley was awarded the Royal Red Cross and the decoration was given her by King George on April 6, at Buckingham Palace. Afterward Sister Robley was the guest of Queen Alexandra at Marlborough House. Sister Robley is a sister of Mrs. A. J. MacDonald, of this city, and is well known here. She was a school mate of Mrs. Ingraham, who is naturally very proud of her.—Sydney Post.

Miss Robley has many acquaintances in Truro, who congratulate her on her success in her noble profession.

After an illness of several months, borne with patience and fortitude, there passed away on Saturday morning, April 27th, 1918 at his late home in Glenville, N. S., Mr. Charles Erenton who had attained the age of 75 years.

Deceased was a man of sterling character being highly respected by a large circle of friends and relations, to whom his genial manner and kinship had greatly endeared him. He lived a consistent Christian life, in which he had adhered closely to the tenets of the Presbyterian creed.

He was twice married, his first marriage being with Miss Elizabeth McCormack of Oxford, of which union there was an issue of five children, four of whom still survive and are as follows:—Mrs. F. Ryer, Lexington, Mass., Mrs. John Hargroves, Lexington, Mass., Walter Erenton, Lexington, Mass., Mrs. M. Boss, Rodney, N. S.

His second wife who was Miss Mary A. McSkil, of Sydney, and who still survives him, also two daughters, Misses Annie and Gertrude and one son Murdoch all at home, are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband and a loving father.

The funeral services held on Monday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. J. W. Britton, of Wallace, assisted by Rev. L. E. G. Davies, Methodist and were largely attended. The former was at one time pastor on this circuit and a much cherished friend of the deceased. From the text found in 1st, Peter 1st, Chapter 24th verse, "All flesh is grass etc," he spoke words of comfort and consolation to those who mourned also exhorted all present who had gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed, to be prepared for this great change which must come to one and all.

The music rendered was the 23rd Psalm and Hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Asleep in Jesus."

Mr. Brown of Springhill was funeral director and the interment took place in the family plot in Glenville Cemetery.

Several beautiful floral wreaths and cut flowers, the gift of loving friends were placed upon the grave.

The pall bearers were, Hiram Black, Blair Fillmore, Samuel Furlong and Johnson Carter.

The sorrowing family bear the sympathy of the entire community, in this the sad hour of their bereavement. Lexington, Mass. Papers Please Copy.

WEDDING BELLS.

DOW-ANTHONY

Miss Marie Frances Anthony and Mr. George Roland Dow, both of South Maitland, were quietly married the ninth day of May at the parsonage of the Methodist minister, Rev. Mr. Forbes of Windsor. On their return home they were met by many friends, who gave them a glad shower of good wishes. The groom has been busily engaged as a ship Carpenter in New York.

The bride looked very charming dressed in blue and white carrying large bouquet of Mayflowers. After remaining at the home of the bride for some days the happy couple left for New York, where they will make the future home, accompanied by the best wishes of their numerous friends.

CAPT. M. S. E. ARCHIBALD, ROYAL AIR FORCE, DIED OF WOUNDS, MAY 12.

It was a shock to all acquaintances when the Cables on the 15th brought the sad news that Capt. Maxwell Stanfield Eaton Archibald, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. McG. Archibald, Bible Hill, had, "died of wounds", on Friday May 12.

It has brought the ravages of this cruel war again close home to us all, when we found that another brave, noble young citizen—the popular, and clever Max Archibald—was to be numbered with those who had made the supreme sacrifice of life, gallantly fighting for King, Country and the Freedom of a World!

We all felt sad; and we felt for those in the bereaved and saddened home on Bible Hill.

The cables announcing this sad news are as follows:—

From Air Ministry.

London, Eng. May-15-18.

P. McG. Archibald, Truro, N. S. Deeply regret inform you that Capt. M. S. E. Archibald, Royal Air Force, is reported to have died of wounds on twelfth May in 42nd Casualty Clearing Station France. The Air Council express their sympathy. SECRETARY AIR MINISTRY.

FROM MAJOR GRASSIE ARCHIBALD.

Boulogne, Sur-Mer. France, May 15

P. McG. Archibald, Truro. Max shot while flying; landed unconscious; lived two hours. ARCHIBALD.

This latter cable from Boulogne is likely from Major Grassie Archibald, a kinsman of the gallant and lamented Capt. Max Archibald.

These cables tell the whole sad story of the noble death of this well known former citizen of Truro.

"Max" Archibald was named for two old friends of the late C. E. Stanfield and the late Cyrus Eaton. He was educated in Truro and at McGill University, taking high rank when he graduated a Mining Engineer at the University.

For five years he was in the employ of the largest Gold Mining Company in South Africa; three years as Assistant Manager, and two years as Manager. When the call to arms came he at the colors and became a member of the Royal Engineers in London, Eng. He was soon at the front, was in a mine bombing explosion and in returning from this daring exploit was hit by shrapnel and seriously wounded in the foot. He had a three month's leave of absence and visited his Truro home.

He soon returned to the fight and Was Determined.

to see active service again; so he was accepted in the Royal Air Service and promoted to the rank of CAPTAIN.

He has been flying for the last three months in the danger zones over Picardy, France; and at last has fallen in the fight.

In the immediate family there survive Father and Mother, a brother R. McG. Archibald and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Thomas and Mrs. Warren Millen in Truro, a sister, Mrs. John Snook, in Edmonton; a sister, Miss Cora, a Nursing Sister with the McGill Hospital Unit in Boulogne, France and two brothers, Pte. Walter Archibald with the 36th Battery, (Sydney C. B.) in France, and Sgt. Thomas in the Royal Forestry Corps France.

Capt. Archibald was 20 years of age at the time of his death.

Our young friend fell fighting nobly in a good and great cause; and tho we will see him no more we will ever hold green the memory of his gallant young "Soldier of the King", who in giving his life, has contributed to the establishment in the world of that larger liberty of life, which he and thousands of other loyal sons of the Empire tho't worth dying for if need be.

Miller's Worm Powders are not surpassed by any other preparation as a vermifuge or worm destroyer. Indeed, there are few preparations that have the merit that it has to recommend it. Mothers, aware of its excellence, seek its aid at the first indication of the presence of worms in their children, knowing that it is a perfectly trustworthy medicine that will give immediate and lasting relief.

OBITUARY.

MRS. H. E. HAMILTON.

When the morning of April 22nd it was whispered that Mrs. Hamilton, formerly Dora M. Quinn, had departed this life many felt they had lost a very dear friend. Mrs. Hamilton was highly respected by all who knew her. She was born in Canaan, N. S. twenty eight years ago, and reaching young womanhood, took up teaching in which profession she was markedly successful.

On Sept. 6th, 1917 she was united in wedlock to Mr. H. E. Hamilton of Noel, Hants Co., but her happy married life reached only seven months. In eager early girlhood she joined the Methodist Church and enthusiastically entered into its activities. She was a young lady of refined tastes, cultured habits, and possessed in a high degree the happy art of making friends and keeping them. Her life was short, intense, good, and many will remember with glowing heart the womanly teacher, who inspired them with noble ambitions and taught them to love the good. Her pastor, Rev. J. Hiram Davis, assisted by the local Presbyterian minister, officiated at the funeral. The beautiful 14th chapter of St. John's Gospel was read, three of her favorite hymns were sung, a tender and touching address was given by the pastor and all that was mortal of the beloved one was laid to rest in God's acre at Burncoate, to await the Resurrection dawn.

A sorrowing husband mourns a loved helpmate suddenly taken from his home, whilst at Canaan her parents, her three brothers, and her sister, think of the first break in the family circle but are sustained and comforted by the knowledge that Dora is "safe at home, at home with Jesus."
