A BOER REVERSE.

General Knox Inflicts a Severe One on D. Wet.

Enemy Still Very Active—British Casualties Heavy—Deaths From Disease.

London, Nov. 3.—The South Africa situation is improving, and Lord Roberts will shortly return to England with a majority of his staff.

On the other hand Gen. Knox has inflicted a reverse on Gen. De Wet's forces near Parys, capturing two guns, one of them a weapon lost by the British in the Sanna's Post affair.

The tale of British casualties is heavy. During the month of October the British lost 167 men killed in action, including 15 officers, 71 who died of wounds, 367 who died of disease, 22 who died of accidents and 97 captured or missing, a total almost equal to the monthly average for the duration of the war.

The Daily Express publishes sensational statements that the Boer resistance is more serious than has hitherto been believed, and that, in consequence, Lord Roberts' return is likely to be still further postponed. It says also that no considerable party of troops will return before January or February, while the regimental drafts from England will continue and 5000 horses will be sent out. The paper definitely declares that the Boers are well armed and abundantly supplied with ammunition, and that the campaign is likely to last another six months.

In the best informed quarters, however, it is asserted that there is no ground for the pessimism of the Daily Express.

The flower of youth never appears more beautiful than when it bends towards the sun of righteousness. M. Henry.

HUNTING FATALITIES.

Two Pennsylvanians Shot and Killed by Companions.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—While a party of young men from Clearfield were hunting on the mountain near that place, Paul McCool was accidentally shot and killed by Jerry Heckman. The body was brought here and Heckman was placed in custody pending the inquest, which will be held to-day.

Near Reading, Pennsylvania, while four Polish boys were gunning Stanislas Strzelecki, aged 13, discharged a gun full in the face of Rudolph Frankowiak, aged 14, killing him instantly. The other boys says that Strzelecki seemed annoyed because his companion talked too much, while they were chasing a game.

INDICTED ALL FOUR

Grand Jury Acts in Case of Patterson, N. J., Friends.

New York, November 3.—The grand jury at Paterson, N. J., handed up indictments against Walter C. McAllister, Geo. J. Kerr, Wm. J. Dent and Andrew Campbell, who are charged with the murder of Jennie B. Schieler, who was drugged to death on Oct. 18. There were two indictments against each of the young men, one for murder and the other for rape. The first, it is said, also embracing the latter.

Judge Barklow received the indictments and instructed County Clerk Winfield that the indictments, both for murder and assault be transmitted and delivered to the court of oyer and terminer, over which Supreme Court Justice Dixon presides. It is not known when Judge Dixon will come to arraign the men. They cannot be arraigned before any other judge. It is probable they will come to Paterson before the January term.

SIR RICHARD HURT.

While in Norwich on Wednesday Sir Richard Gort was hit by the misfortune to have a bad fall, the effects of which he is likely to feel for some days. It is well known that Sir Richard is badly crippled with rheumatism, and he relies very largely upon his cane for support. On the day named, after having driven over from Burford, he alighted from his carriage, and in stepping on the sidewalk his cane slipped between two boards. His whole weight being upon his stick when it failed, he fell very heavily to the ground. The shock was very great, and it was a few minutes before he fully recovered. While addressing the meeting later on he leaned on a table, and being able to stand. His rheumatism was brought up as the result of a yachting accident at Kingston a few years ago, when he remained in the water for a period of six hours.

ALVORD'S CASE IN COURT.

New York, Nov. 3.—Magistrate Fiammer yesterday discharged from custody Cornelius L. Alvord, the defaulting note teller of the First National Bank. The magistrate said he was satisfied that he had no jurisdiction in the case. Alvord was allowed to leave the court room, but as soon as he reached the corridor he was arrested by a United States marshal and taken before United States Commissioner Shields.

AN INFURIATED BULL.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 3.—John McEwen, of Meadow Lea, was leading a bull when the animal turned on him, pitching him several times into the air. Mr. McEwen's sister saw the occurrence and gave the alarm, and his brother James came with a shotgun and killed the animal. It was too late, however, to save Mr. McEwen's life, for he died eight hours later of his injuries. He was 48 years of age and unmarried.

ARCHBISHOP RETIRES.

Kingston, Ont. Nov. 3.—At the meeting of the Canadian Anglican bishop here yesterday, his grace, the archbishop of Ontario, in view of his intention to reside in England, resigned the office of chairman of the house of bishops, and withdrew his retirement from the metropolitan of Canada. It is quite probable that Bishop Bond, of Montreal, will be the successor.

FOUND IN A WELL.

London, Nov. 3.—A special dispatch to the Hamburg correspondent says: "In a well situated in the imperial palace precincts in Peking was found the body of Emperor Kwang Su's favorite wife, Shen-Ti, whom the Empress Dowager caused to be drowned before the flight of the court from the capital. The second favorite, Shing-Pi and a hundred ladies belonging to the imperial harem, are prisoners in the hands of the allies."

LONDON BOROUGH COUNCIL.

London, Nov. 3.—Of London's twenty-eight new borough councils the Moderates and six by the Progressives. Among the prominent councillors are the Duke of Norfolk, Viscount Dunsany, Lord Onslow, Lord Robert Cecil, Sir Wm. Blake Richmond, the printer, and George Bernard Shaw, the well-known Socialist agitator, dramatist and novelist.

THOSE ALLEGED ATROCITIES.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Another batch of letters from German soldiers in China appears in a number of papers, among them the Hanover Courier, which editorially demands official statements with reference to the details given by the writers of the cruelties alleged to have been committed by German troops in China. This demand is warmly supported by the Freisinnige Zeitung.

AN ENGINEER'S FALL.

Horton Landing, N. S., Nov. 3.—Wm. Taylor, engine driver on the east-bound freight train, in handling a note to a bridge repairer lost his balance, and fell from the engine while crossing Gaspeaux bridge. He was thrown from the bridge to the river, 40 feet below, and struck in three feet of water. When taken from the water he was alive, but his recovery is doubtful.

ARE VERY FEW

The Cases That Pyramid Pile Cure Will Not Reach.

The cases that Pyramid Pile cure do not reach are so few that physicians are doing away with operations for piles and depend more and more upon this simple but safe and effective remedy to accomplish a complete cure and it never disappoints in any form of piles, whether protruding, itching or bleeding.

Mr. Thomas E. Wood, of 818 17th street, Sacramento, Cal., writes: "It affords me much pleasure to state that after using only one 50 cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure, I was cured of the painful and annoying disease, after having suffered from piles for thirty years and tried everything and could only get temporary relief. I was advised by three of the best physicians in California to have an operation and I did and suffered almost death but the piles returned and my suffering at times was so great I was not able to walk until I saw an advertisement of the Pyramid Pile cure. I got it at once and was relieved from the first application. I am so grateful that I feel like recommending it to any and everyone afflicted with piles."

The prompt relief and rapid cure which follow the use of this remedy gave the impression that possibly it might contain opium, cocaine or some similar drug, but a careful and frequent analysis of the remedy has proven it to contain no injurious drugs whatever, but it cures by astringent properties and healing oils.

The Pyramid Pile cure is sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full sized package.

Each package contains a little book on cause and cure of piles, together with testimonials from thousands of cured patients from every part of the United States and Canada.

AT THE THEATRE.

The Lyceum Course of popular entertainments opens next Saturday, the 10th inst., with two magnificent concerts by "The Fadedettes" Women's Orchestra, of Boston, comprising 21 artists. Subscribers may reserve their seats at the Central Drug Store on Friday, the 9th at 10 o'clock.

Stetson's Big Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. is at the Grand Theatre, Nov. 3rd. They have all the necessary production play in the most approved style and are highly successful in pleasing their audience. The company has a double hand-orchestra, composed of white and colored musicians, two topical comedians, and her Pony African mandolin players, not excluding a pack of savage looking bloodhounds.

Visitors to the Grand on election night will hear everything in the way of election information that comes to town, and will be able to listen to the reports in comfort. The musical program by the famous Mendelssohn Quartet is guaranteed by Mr. Cairns to be first class, and he promises his patrons one of the most satisfactory election nights they ever had. It will simply be a free and easy concert by first-class talent, with the full election returns systematically arranged.

To-day's Detroit Free Press says:—"Mr. Joseph Murphy, revived 'The Kerry Gow' at the Lyceum last evening. Dan O'Connell, the ubiquitous hero of this comedy, is one of Mr. Murphy's happiest creations, and the spectator of it is made immediately to know why it is as popular as it is. Murphy's comedy is a masterpiece of the art of comedy. Comedy, sentiment, realism, mechanical ingenuity, dramatic force and thrilling situations are brought into play in this admirable conceit, and over all, and pervading the story, is the enduring something that we approximate to define as the human interest. Murphy's comedy is the local theatre next Monday evening."

JONES IS IMPROVING.

New York, November 3.—Charles E. Jones, the secretary-vault of the late William M. Rice, who attempted to commit suicide in the prison ward at Bellevue Hospital, Dr. Christian said that Jones was very much improved.

MR. HAYES' APPOINTMENT.

New York, Nov. 3.—The directors of the Southern Pacific Railway Company met here yesterday and elected Charles M. Hayes to the presidency of the company. No other business was transacted at the meeting.

A DISPUTED ACCOUNT.

To The Planet.—Whoever the reporter may be of the proceedings of the meeting of the Raleigh council he is either mistaken, or purposely incorrect and misleading. I refer to the accounts reported to have been passed. The particular item referred to is the last one reported, viz., medical aid for the late Mrs. Hatter. It is true that Mr. Claton moved and Mr. Crow seconded a resolution to pay the account and one more councillor voted the account. The resolution was not reported. The Reeve refused to sign the order therefore the account could hardly be said to have passed; it being an account that the council was in no way liable or responsible for and it should never have come before the board at all. If any interested ratepayer feels curious enough to know the particulars of the case he can get the required information by apply to the undersigned.

N. H. SHEPLEY, Reeve.

MR. FRENCH IN WINNIPEG.

The well known city assessor, T. M. French, who is now in Winnipeg disposing of a part of Kent's surplus fruit supply, writes from there for The Planet, and adds: "I find the city very much improved since I was here last fall and find business very good so that I have written for moragstock. I can sell good stock here, but poor, inferior stuff they do not want. It is a great mistake to send in poor stuff to this market. We find the majority of the people come from Ontario, and they have been accustomed to nice clean fruit. Crops have turned out much better than expected. Potatoes are good, selling from 35 to 40c. per bushel. The onion crop was a failure. We are having it very mild here at present."

THE MICROBE'S PARADISE.

"Ah!" said the Scarlet Fever Microbe as he met the Typhoid Malaria Germ on Tenthredin Park. "What an ungrateful set those doctors are."

"Yes," replied the Typhoid Malaria Germ. "Notwithstanding the fact that we're always throwing business in their way, they take every opportunity to try to kill us off."

"It's not exactly that," said the Scarlet Fever Microbe. "Did you not see that they're joining the others and removed a cigarette from their teeth so as to talk more emphatically. 'If I cannot get shade and dampness and mould enough in this town, I will go somewhere where I can. So far we have had nothing to complain of. With all these shade trees and bushes and moisture it's been a perfect paradise for us microbes.'"

"I wish," put in the Typhoid Malaria Germ, "you would blow the smoke of that cigarette in another direction. I didn't know you would come down to the level of a cigarette smoker."

"I never expected to," remarked the Typhoid Malaria Germ apologetically. "It's a habit I contracted from the last acquaintance I helped into the next world. I think he was a football player, or a musician, or something like that, because he never seemed to get his hair cut. Anyway he was a corker on cigarettes, and between us—that's myself and the cigarettes—we didn't let him waste any time in changing into a little white-winged angel."

"You're getting away from the question, gentlemen," broke in the Scarlet Fever Microbe. "What we want to know is, what will become of us, if those trees are cut down, and sunlight and fresh air permitted to reach the city."

"Oh, pahaw!" retorted the Typhoid Malaria Germ, "don't alarm yourself about nothing. These trees cannot be cut down without the order of the city council, and you know how they do business."

"They'll be ten years thinking about it and ten more arranging about it. By that time we'll have all the kickers killed off and most of the rest of the population. I assure you, gentlemen, as long as the work of thinning out the trees depends on the aldermen it will never be done."

At this point a football match opened up on the park and the three cronies strolled over to see the players enjoy themselves kicking each other's shins.

Fossil Pills.—The demand is proof of their worth. Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills are beating out many fossil formulas at a quarter a box. They're better medicine, easier doses, and 10 cents a vial. A thousand ailments may arise from a disordered liver. Keep the liver right and you'll not have Sick Headache, Biliousness, Nausea, Constipation and Sallow Skin.—6t Sold by J. W. McLaren, Chatham.

A CLANCY MEETING.

A very enthusiastic and successful Conservative meeting was held in Cunningham school house Thursday evening in the interest of Mr. Clancy. The room was thronged at an early hour. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. J. C. Stewart and W. Carson, who were well received and listened to throughout with rapt attention. Opposition was invited but as usual none appeared. The meeting closed with rousing cheers for Clancy, Tupper and the Queen. The chair was ably filled by Timothy O'Neil.
