DIED AT THE WEDDING

Bride's Mother Expires in the Presence of the Bridal Guests.

Brougham, Ont., Dec. 15.—A very sad event occurred at a wedding which took place at Balsam, just east of here, at the residence of J. C. Jones, one of the most prominent and respected residents of the vicinity, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Laura to William White.

Shortly after the wedding ceremony Mrs. Jones, mother of the bride, was taken ill before the guests had left. A doctor was at once summoned, but Mrs. Jones succumbed in the presence of all the wedding guests. The physician pronounced the case heart failure.

International Bible Lesson for to-morrow—Luke xix, 1-10—"Zacchaeus, the custom house officer or publican."

A contrast: Two Sundays ago we had a rich young religious, avaricious Jewish ruler, rejecting Christ. Now we have a rich Jewish outcast, a Roman collector, accepting him. Note the change, and push of a little man—they are often that way—and how Jesus honors it. When the crowd revile Jesus and Zacchaeus, whose name in Hebrew means pure, for friendship and fellowship, he declares before our Lord and the accusers the just and stewardly way he is living toward his fellows; he seems to be a similar character to Matthew, the publican, or Nathaniel, in whom there was no guile. Jesus knew his man and knows all men, "all the fitness he requires is to feel his need of Him." Jesus invited Himself to Zacchaeus' heart and home. He does so to whoever will even though they fear to invite Him. To make good the evil we may have done, by confession and restitution is taught in this lesson by the way side. Remember personal consecration means purse-and-all consecration.
