Prohibition Judgment.

The Messenger and Visitor in commenting on the recent "Prohibition Judgment" of the Imperial Privy Council says:

Prominent Ontario prohibitionists are reported to be highly pleased on account of the recent decision of the Imperial Privy Council.

ed with what appeared to him to be rheumatic pains in the back and shoulders. At first he regarded it as but a passing attack, and thought that it would disappear in a day or two.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills set directly upon the blood and nerves, building from anew and thus driving disease from the system.

Grandma who has just arrived for a visit—Well, Freddie, I suppose your father was greatly surprised to get my telegram saying I was coming?

Freddie—Yes; but mother was the most surprised.

Grandma—At the glad news, I suppose.

Freddie—No; at papa's language.

For some reason I just don't on rainy days, said the young woman, whose specialties are large dreamy eyes and sentiment.

Well, said the young lady with the ravine hair and sharp nose, if I didn't have any spring clothes I think I would feel that way myself.

CURED OF SCIATICA.

The Experience of a Bruce Co. Farmer.

Suffered So Severely That He Became Almost a Helpless Cripple—Is Again Able to Be About His Work as Well as Ever.

From the Walkerton Telescope.

During the past few years the Telescope has published many statements giving the particulars of cures from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

It is so well known in Walkerton and the vicinity adjoining it, that a brief account of his really remarkable recovery from what seemed an incurable disease will be of interest to our readers.

That taint of scrofula in your blood can be wholly eradicated by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

George, dear, you go in and ask papa's consent and—George—if any thing should happen, I'll go to see you every day till you're well again.

Sympathetic Friend—Your lawyer's charge was very high, I presume.

Goodluck has had his salary raised; was it for extra work?

Jenkins, have you an extra dollar in your pocket? No, dear fellow; in fact, I haven't any pockets—times are so hard I have my trousers made without them.

The Doctor—You must be very careful to take the medicine, Mrs. Jones-Brown. The Patient—But I am always careful to take my medicine.

Narcissa on a cruise—What is the matter Captain Bolstey? Captain—The fact is, my dear young lady, we've scuttled our vessel.

Our Balmies—"Children I hope you pecked the apples before eating them?"

A Republican at the Oklahoma city convention arose and indignantly said to the chairman: Young man, I was a Republican before you were born.

Scraps for Odd Moments.

Customer—What can you give me for a modest lunch? Waiter—Well, there's veal with dressing.

What are the most unseemly things in the world? Milestones, for you never see two of them together.

Horace Greely lived, too soon; nowadays when a man can't write his name legibly he buys a rubber stamp.

Maude—Did you ever notice how Algeron's face lights up when he talks to George—Well, you know, his lantern-jawed.

Minards Liniment Cures Colds, etc.

De man dat likes his own conversation too well, said Uncle Eben, generally gets a chance soon or later to monopolize the subject.

He—Nice dog! Have you taught him any new tricks since I was here last? She (sweetly)—Oh, yes, he will fetch you hat if you whistle.

"After all, man is a generous being."

"Yes, he is—I never saw a husband yet who wouldn't let some other man teach his wife to ride a wheel."

"George, dear, you go in and ask papa's consent and—George—if any thing should happen, I'll go to see you every day till you're well again."

Sympathetic Friend—Your lawyer's charge was very high, I presume.

Convicted Murderer—Yes, but the Judge's charge was what finished me.

Goodluck has had his salary raised; was it for extra work?

"Yes; he always listens when the proprietor tells his baby's smart sayings."

Jenkins, have you an extra dollar in your pocket? No, dear fellow; in fact, I haven't any pockets—times are so hard I have my trousers made without them.

Minards Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

I was so disappointed I was out the other day when you called, Miss Percival. So was I. I felt sure I'd find you, because, as I turned the corner I saw you go in.

"Life," said the sententious young man, "is like a game of cards."

"It is more like a game of chess to me," said the man who rents, "I move every chance I get."

Children with weak eyes, sore ears, or any form of scrofula, cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The Doctor—You must be very careful to take the medicine, Mrs. Jones-Brown. The Patient—But I am always careful to take my medicine.

Narcissa on a cruise—What is the matter Captain Bolstey? Captain—The fact is, my dear young lady, we've scuttled our vessel.

Our Balmies—"Children I hope you pecked the apples before eating them?"

A Republican at the Oklahoma city convention arose and indignantly said to the chairman: Young man, I was a Republican before you were born.

Reginald—Time brings about some odd changes, doesn't it? Harold—I should say it did! Look at the master and mistress. Why, when we played tennis, we turned on trousers up at the bottom, and now that we play golf, we turn our stockings down from the top.

When the hair begins to fall out or turn gray, the scalp needs doctoring, and we know of no better specific than Hall's Vegetable Sillian Hair Renewer.

Words.

Words have fearful power. Swift-winged messengers are they for good or evil.

Could each human soul possess a tablet upon which, by some mysterious agency, words might be engraved in appropriate characters, here and there, and how potent their spell!

Light words, the interchange of friendly civilities, the little occurrences of everyday life, would be but faintly impressed and recognized only by the charm invoked and them.

Gay words, the pointed and sparkling sallies of wit and fancy, would be but faintly impressed and recognized only by the charm invoked and them.

Enveloped with gloomy shadows, noble words, the embodiment of the glowing thoughts and conceptions of genius, set with gems, and enriched with a halo of glory.

And words of mercy, loving words of sympathy, burning words of earnestness and fervor as the breathings of an angel presence.

This is all fancy. Words are indeed engraved upon our enduring tablets that of every rank, that of immortal mind.

Take the coarsest and the most ignominious particles of matter; particles of things from one substance filling the place of the formation of another.

So words are particles which minds are throwing off, to be recalled, as with new words, to be unperishable as the mind itself.

It becomes us, then, to consider well the power of this influence for good or evil in our leaving. That careless, thoughtless word of thine may carry with it a thrill of agony almost too little for the sensitive spirit to endure.

A kindly word may awaken in some soul a spark which shall burn on forever, or its opposite crush to earth some timid soul, and destroy within it the power to rise.

A word of encouragement, kindly words, may cause the sweet flowers of hope and joy to spring up in the heart, and sweetly lure the bright buds of promise to unfold in beauty.

One little word may touch some chord which shall vibrate tones of joy or sorrow through all the soulless ages of eternity.

Five words cost Zacharias forty years' silence.—Fuller.
